Her Music/Her Story

Friday, March 8 at 10 am (2 hours)

Women at the top of the field in classical music pay tribute to the women who have inspired them. Luminaries like multiple Grammy Award winner JoAnn Falletta, BBC Proms soloist Jamie Barton, The Marvels composer Laura Karpman, and many more introduce music by composers like Florence Price, Clara Schumann, Lucija Garuta, as well as performances from Isatah Kanneh-Mason, Marian Anderson, and even Ella Fitzgerald.

State of The Union Live Coverage

Thursday, March 7 at 9 pm

NPR will present live coverage of President Biden's 2024 State of the Union address on Thursday, March 7. The speech will be followed by analysis of Biden's address and the Republican response.

Witness Women's History Month

Friday, March 8 at 3 pm

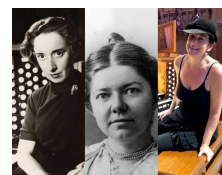

Remarkable stories of women's history, told by the women who were there. Selected from the BBC's Witness History program, we hear moving, inspiring and even outrageous stories about a few of the most important women in living memory.

American Women Composers

Friday, March 15 at 10 am

Women in the arts have had a difficult time over the centuries. On this program a selection of amazing works by American women composers. Included are works by Amy Beach (pictured), Jennifer Higdon, Florence Price, Libby Larsen and others.

Women Composers

Friday, March 15 at 11 am

An exploration of organ music by women composers, from the 17th century to the modern day.

Jazz Women of the 40s

Sunday, March 24 at 3 pm & Monday, March 25 at 11 pm

This special features women instrumentalists who thrived in the upside-down jazz world of wartime America. Featured artists include pianist and composer-arranger Mary Lou Williams, trumpeter Billie Rogers (pictured), vibraphonist Marjorie Hyams, the International Sweethearts of Rhythm big band, and pianists Hazel Scott and Beryl Booker.

Jazz Women of the 1960s

Sunday, March 31 at 3 pm & Monday, April 1 at 3 pm

In the 1960s, as the civil-rights movement and other cultural changes gained momentum, a generation of women artists made their way through a jazz world that had long been less than hospitable. Singers such as Nina Simone and Jeanne Lee, composer Carla Bley, organist Shirley Scott, and trumpeter Barbara Donald all left behind notable recordings from this decade as they expanded the role of women in jazz in ways both traditional and groundbreaking. "Jazz Women of the 1960s" offers a musical survey of these artists, including Nina Simone's civil-rights anthem "Young, Gifted and Black," Jeanne Lee's take on an Ellington classic, and an early interpretation of Carla Bley's jazz standard "Ida Lupino."

Dear Public Radio 90 Members,

Thank you for doing more than listening to Public Radio 90, thank you for joining together to help make sure everyone across our upper Great Lakes region can continue enjoying the unique blend of local and national programming offered on WNMU-FM.

Thank you to our members who pitched in over $25,600 during our February Friendraiser fundraising campaign and thanks to everyone who gives throughout the year. Welcome to our first-time members and members who reactivated their memberships, and a big thank you to our listener-members who gave additional gifts above and beyond their annual membership contributions. You understand that it takes money to keep free public radio on the air and we are very appreciative of your financial gifts making this possible.

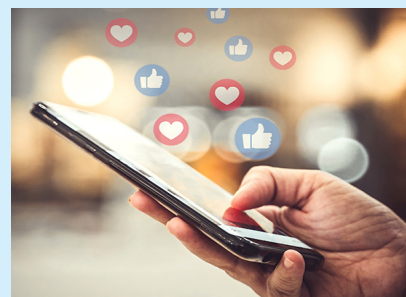

Very special thanks to our anonymous donor and NMU Alum from Austin, Texas and our long-standing friends Don and Sandra Balmer who gave to the station in the form of a Challenge Grant--matching pledges dollar for dollar and encouraging everyone, especially new members, to give. The entire staff would also like to thank our food donation sponsors: Huron Mountain Bakery, Main St. Pizza and Fiera's for supplying food and snacks to sustain our staff throughout the pledge drive. Thank you to Tom Ruprecht and Evelyn Massaro-our volunteers who give so freely of their time and whose friendship we hold in high esteem.

Finally, I am happy to share the news that Public Radio 90 is traveling again! Our next excursion is set for April, 2025 and your host Hans Ahlstrom will be escorting all of our travelers to Scotland, Wales, and England. If you are thinking about this trip, Public Radio 90, Holiday Travel, and Collette Travel will be hosting an informational meeting on May 21st (2-3p) either via Zoom, or in person at Harden Hall (close to the station). You can contact Laura Chapman at Holiday travel to sign-up for this meeting at (906) 228-6355, or log on to Public Radio 90's website and click on the travel box.

I am so lucky to be able to talk to so many of our listeners during our fundraising times. Talking to you is one of the highlights of my work and I value each and every conversation because I know how important Public Radio 90 is in your life. Please feel free to reach out to me with your comments as your voices are so important to all of us at the station.

Sending you all warm wishes as we head into Spring!

Monday-Friday 9 am*Chapter-A-Day
on WNNM-FM

Monday, February 19 through Friday, March 8, Karl Schmidt reads Let the Trumpet Sound: A Life of Martin Luther King, Jr. by Stephen Oates. By the acclaimed biographer of Abraham Lincoln, Nat Turner, and John Brown, Stephen B. Oates's prize winning Let the Trumpet Sound is the definitive one-volume life of Martin Luther King, Jr.

Monday, March 11 through Friday, March 22, Ken Ohst reads The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Venture back in time to Victorian London to join literature's greatest detective team - the brilliant Sherlock Holmes and his devoted assistant, Dr. Watson. Ohst reads this gem from the archives featuring five favorites including "The Red-Headed League", and "The Engineer's Thumb".

Monday, March 11 through Friday, March 29, Norman Gilliland and Michele Good read The Berry Pickers by Amanda Peters. In July 1962, a Mi'kmaq family from Nova Scotia arrives in Maine to pick blueberries for the summer. Weeks later, the family's youngest child vanishes. Meanwhile in Maine, a young girl named Norma grows up as the only child of an affluent family. Norma is often troubled by recurring dreams and visions that seem more like memories than imagination. As she grows older, Norma comes to realize there is something her parents aren't telling her. Unwilling to abandon her intuition, she will spend decades trying to uncover this family secret.

- 1:00pm Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center: Britten and Dvorak - Benjamin Britten: Canticle II: Abraham and Isaac for Countertenor, Tenor, and Piano, Op. 51 (Daniel Taylor, countertenor; Anthony Griffey, tenor; Gloria Chien, piano); Antonín Dvořák: Trio in G minor for Piano, Violin, and Cello, Op. 26 (Gloria Chien, piano; Nicolas Dautricourt, violin; Nicolas Altstaedt, cello)
- 2:00pm Early Music Now: Holy Week - In commemoration of Holy Week, we're listening to an unusual setting of the Passion story by Adrian Willaert. With its innovative polyphony and homogenous text setting, it may have been composed in response to the strictures placed on composers by the Council of Trent. The performance comes from a 2023 release from Dionysos Now, directed by Tore Tom Denys.
