1.2 Major Programming Decision Makers

Jump to question: 1.2

Please report by gender and ethnic or racial group the headcount of full-time employees having responsibility for making major programming decisions. Include the station general manager if appropriate. Major programming decisions include decisions about program acquisition and production, program development, on-air program scheduling, etc. This item should result in a double-counting of some full-time employees; employees having the responsibility for making major programming decisions should be included in the counts for this item and again, by job category above, in the full-time employee Question 1.1.

Of the full-time employees reported in Question 1.1, how many, including the station general manager, have responsibility for making major programming decisions?

The purpose of this section is to give you an opportunity to tell us and your community about the activities you have engaged in to address community needs by outlining key services provided, and the local value and impact of those services. Please report on activities that occurred in Fiscal Year 2019. Responses may be shared with Congress or the public. Grantees are required to post a copy of this report (Section 6 only) to their website no later than ten (10) days after the submission of the report to CPB. CPB recommends placing the report in an "About" or similar section on your website. This section had previously been optional. Response to this section of the SAS is now mandatory.

Joint licensee Grantees that have filed a 2019 Local Content and Services Report as part of meeting the requirement for TV CSG funding may state they have done so in the corresponding questions below, so long as all of the questions below were addressed as they relate to radio operations in such report. You must include the date the report was submitted to CPB along with the TV Grantee ID under which it was submitted.

1. Describe your overall goals and approach to address identified community issues, needs, and interests through your station's vital local services, such as multiplatform long and short-form content, digital and in-person engagement, education services, community information, partnership support, and other activities, and audiences you reached or new audiences you engaged.

In 2019 we continued to focus on addressing community issues, needs and interests through our on-air programming, both long and short form; through our website; through community engagement events; through ongoing training opportunities to citizens of all ages; and through social media redistribution.

Highlights include:

The continuation of our rural reporting project, "County Lines." The Ohio Humanities Council renewed the funding that makes the series possible. The

2. Describe key initiatives and the variety of partners with whom you collaborated, including other public media outlets, community nonprofits, government agencies, educational institutions, the business community, teachers and parents, etc. This will illustrate the many ways you're connected across the community and engaged with other important organizations in the area.

2019 was a year of tragedy in Dayton, with a devastating series of tornadoes on Memorial Day that left hundreds homeless; and a mass shooting in August in a popular downtown entertainment district that left nine dead. We partnered extensively with other media outlets on our coverage of these tragedies. Our stories were shared across the state through the Ohio Public Radio network; and across the nation, as our reporters did two-ways with other public media outlets, including NPR; On Point; the BBC; the CBC; Here and Now; and PBS's Washington Week.

3. What impact did your key initiatives and partnerships have in your community? Describe any known measurable impact, such as increased awareness, learning or understanding about particular issues. Describe indicators of success, such as connecting people to needed resources or strengthening conversational ties across diverse neighborhoods. Did a partner see an increase in requests for related resources? Please include direct feedback from a partner(s) or from a person(s) served.

In the aftermath of the Memorial Day tornadoes, WYSO emerged as a go-to resource for up-to-date recovery information. In addition to multiple daily reports on-air, we maintained an ever evolving list of local resources on our website. Website traffic and shares of our social media posts skyrocketed during this period. In fact, the former mayor of Dayton reached out to thank us for the excellence of our tornado recovery reporting -- that it was high quality, comprehensive, and easy to obtain.

Beyond the local tragedies, other WYSO reporting was shared widely with state

4. Please describe any efforts (e.g. programming, production, engagement activities) you have made to investigate and/or meet the needs of minority and other diverse audiences (including, but not limited to, new immigrants, people for whom English is a second language and illiterate adults) during Fiscal Year 2019, and any plans you have made to meet the needs of these audiences during Fiscal Year 2020. If you regularly broadcast in a language other than English, please note the language broadcast.

3. What impact did your key initiatives and partnerships have in your community? Describe any known measurable impact, such as increased awareness, learning or understanding about particular issues. Describe indicators of success, such as connecting people to needed resources or strengthening conversational ties across diverse neighborhoods. Did a partner see an increase in requests for related resources? Please include direct feedback from a partner(s) or from a person(s) served.

5. Please assess the impact that your CPB funding had on your ability to serve your community. What were you able to do with your grant that you wouldn't be able to do if you didn't receive it?

Our CPB funding, as it for operating and is generally unrestricted, allows us to address current needs as they arise, not just those stories that we've secured restricted grant funds to explore. For example, during the tragedies of 2019 we were able to have feet on the ground to follow stories as they developed. We not only sent full time staff to the scene, we also paid freelancers to contribute stories.

Further, because membership income has continued to increase every year -- which, when combined with underwriting and non-CPB grant income, covers regular operating expenses -- we can now use CPB funding for capacity building

This section builds on the Census of Journalists conducted by CPB in the summer of 2010. These positions are the primary professional full-time, part-time or contract contributors to local journalism at your organization. The individuals in these positions will have had training in the standards and practices of fact-based news origination, verification, production and presentation. These are generally accepted titles for these positions but may not match position descriptions at your organization exactly. Please do your best to account for each professional journalist in your organization. Please do not count student or volunteer journalists.
