Here comes the winter. You can smell it in the air. Just a little while ago, we were walking around in tee shirts. Now it is clear that we will be dealing with snow and anything else that the weather gods can throw at us. People will be complaining about sore backs from shoveling and worrying about falling on the ice.

Last year was really a bad one. People were slipping and sliding all over the place. They were breaking bones in record numbers. If you're like me, you absolutely need to walk but if you should take a spill on the ice and reach your hand out to break your fall, you may have to live with broken fingers or hands or arms.

This has become an epidemic of sorts in my neighborhood. It seems like there is an invisible force that is making us all behave inadvisably. If you don't watch it, you will end up in very good company. I've been noticing a whole lot of people walking around with hands and arms in slings or availing themselves of other assorted medical devices. When you see other folks in the same boat, you feel an automatic sense of kinship with them. We may heal eventually, but you might have to live with the damage of broken bones longer than you thought. You'd think we'd harbor a premonition of danger but we don't always do what is best for us. Maybe we all read too many Superman comics and think that we're invincible.

WAMC/Northeast Public Radio gives us the weather forecast every day. We expect the weather report to be accurate and dependable and thankfully, most of the time it is. But sometimes it is all wrong. I have often speculated on why and how the weather forecast fails us. My long departed best friend, Stephen, thought he had the answer. He was positive, he said, that we purposely broadcast the wrong weather forecast to prevent a sneak attack from our enemies, the Russians.

Despite the fact that our weather reports are often on the money, we can all get pretty annoyed when our weather forecasters are wrong. I have known many weather forecasters in my time. I have also known a great many people who believe that these very forecasters actually MAKE the weather. Some people just don't like to get bad news and so they blame the messenger.

Closely aligned with the weather is driving. With the advent of all wheel drive and brakes that are designed to work in all sorts of road conditions, many of us just can't seem to not get out there and challenge with the weather. Part of that comes from our own character. Some of us just can't, in the words of our mothers, “Leave well enough alone.”

In the radio business there are times when our radio signals are fouled by the weather. My friend Stephen might have said that it was the Russians and they were doing it on purpose. We know that's nonsense. Maybe the Chinese, but certainly not the Russians.

In any case, it is absurd to hold the person reading the weather report responsible for terrible conditions. Of course, we all know that a great deal of what we hear on the radio is bad news. Some people are prone to turn the radio off when they hear bad news. That's why radios have off and on switches. But wait, there are quite a few people who believe that the folks who are putting the news together are up to no good.

Oh, come on! We all know that while what we hear on the radio may be not always be right, we also know that you depend on us to be honest and we shall try not to let you down.
It’s hard to believe another year has gone by. A lot has happened this year: Twitter got a new CEO, the Winter Olympics were held in Beijing (the first time a city has ever hosted both a summer (2008) and a winter (2022) Olympics), and we had major supply chain disruptions with lasting ripple effects. As we reflect on what this past year has taught us, begin goal-planning and prepare for this month’s festivities, WAMC features the traditional shows that create nostalgia, along with programs that make us feel cozy in the wintertime. Toast, laugh and join us as we celebrate another year!

SPECIAL PROGRAMMING:

We meet the wintertime again and with the season comes our traditional programs. Hear a perennial NPR favorite, “Hanukkah Lights,” with new Hanukkah stories read by hosts Susan Stamberg and Murray Horwitz on Monday Dec. 19 at 11 a.m.

Celebrate the return of the sun with an encore performance recorded in the world’s largest Gothic cathedral with “The Paul Winter Consort Winter Solstice Celebration.” Musicians include Noel Paul Stookey from the folk trio Peter, Paul and Mary. Also featured old friends like gospel singer Theresa Thomason and the Forces of Nature dance and drumming troupe from Harlem. Airing on Wednesday, Dec. 21 at 10 p.m.

Friday, Dec. 23 is a delightful time for everyone to celebrate the Jewish Festival of Lights. Hear music from Jewish communities around the world, plus a hilarious lesson on how to prepare a classic Hanukkah dish, and a timeless and touching holiday story that brings light into every home with “Candles Burning Brightly” at 11 a.m.

Pipedreams host Michael Barone presents “A Festival of Nine Lessons and Carols” from the chapel of King’s College in Cambridge, England. The 30-voice King’s College Choir performs the legendary Festival of Nine Lessons and Carols service of Biblical readings and music. The live, two-hour program will air on Saturday, Dec. 24 at 10 a.m.

On Monday, Dec. 26 at 10 a.m. join The Current in honoring the life, music, and legacy of artists we lost this year with 2022 Remembered. From musicians and producers to industry icons, the playlist will feature legends like Ronnie Spector, Andy Fletcher (Depeche Mode), Taylor Hawkins (Foo Fighters), Olivia Newton-John, Meat Loaf, Naomi Judd, Lamont Dozier (Motown Songwriter), and many more. At 11 a.m. we’ll celebrate Kwanzaa with “A Season’s Griot,” hosted by acclaimed storyteller Madafo Lloyd Wilson.

And ring in the new year Saturday, Dec. 31 at 12 a.m. with “Toast of the Nation.” Jazz Night in America’s Christian McBride hosts this special with four hours of jazz from the SFJAZZ Collective, Carlos Henriquez and more.

REGULAR PROGRAMMING

This month “The Academic Minute” will showcase the finest segments of the past year. Segments during the first two weeks of December will focus on the search for Super Earths to treating depression with ketamine and why money exists in the first place. Later in the month, professors from The University of New England will discuss learning by living, the impact of digital marketing on children’s eating habits and how to reintroduce chestnut trees to our forests. Then, to round out 2022, our Best Of Week will end the year and propel us into another great year on The Academic Minute! Tune in each weekday at 7:30 a.m. and 3:56 p.m. on WAMC or anytime online at academicminute.org.

On “Person Place Thing” singer-songwriter Suzanne Vega and composer Gene Pritsker tell us about Mark Kostabi on Dec. 2; American bass-baritone Davone Tines explains why he likes white orchids in his dressing room on Dec. 9; and we’ll hear stories from professional basketball player Anthony Davis on Dec. 16. “Person Place Thing” airs Fridays at 10:30 p.m. and Saturdays at 7:30 a.m.

On “Earth Wise,” the U.S. Committee of the North American Bird Conservation Initiative has published the State of the Birds 2022, an assessment of bird populations in North America. We’ll hear the results of this survey, about the carbon footprint of electric vehicles, and why some people are mosquito magnets. “Earth Wise” airs weekdays at 11:10 a.m. and 4:04 p.m.

MARKETPLACE MORNING REPORT
Weekday mornings, 7:50-8 a.m. and 8:50 a.m.
In less than 10 minutes, we’ll get you up to speed on all the news you missed overnight. Throughout the morning, Marketplace’s David Brancaccio will bring you the latest business and economic stories you need to know to start your day. And before U.S. markets open, you’ll get a global markets update from the BBC World Service in London.

THE MEDIA PROJECT
Mondays at 3-3:30 p.m.
Sundays, 6-6:30 p.m.
The Media Project offers an inside look at media coverage and current events with a panel of veteran journalists and editors.

METROPOLITAN OPERA
Saturday Afternoons, December-June
The Metropolitan Opera is a vibrant home for the most creative and talented singers, conductors, composers, musicians, stage directors, designers, visual artists, choreographers, and dancers from around the world. Launched in 1931, the Met’s Saturday matinee broadcasts air from December through June, and allow listeners to hear thrilling live performances by today’s most celebrated artists, as well as legendary singers originally captured live in broadcasts spanning nine decades of Met history.

MIDDAY MAGAZINE
Weekdays, 12-1 p.m.
Weekends, 12-1 p.m.
WAMC’s award-winning daily news magazine brings listeners the latest in local, national and world news. Join Jim Levulis each weekday for the latest. The weekend edition is hosted by Lucas Willard. The work of the WAMC News team is complemented each day with news and features from the BBC and Stardate. Midday Magazine also offers a comprehensive regional weather summary and a range of commentators who span the political spectrum. Highlights from the WAMC Listener Comment Line are usually aired on Friday’s edition of Midday Magazine.

MORNING EDITION
Weekdays, 5-9 a.m.
Every weekday for over three decades, Morning Edition has taken listeners around the country and the world with two hours of multi-faceted stories and commentaries that inform, challenge and occasionally amuse. A bi-coastal, 24-hour news operation, Morning Edition is hosted by Steve Inskeep, Rachel Martin and A Martinez. These hosts often get out from behind the anchor desk and travel around the world to report on the news firsthand.

THE MOTH RADIO HOUR
Friday, 1-2 p.m.
The Moth Radio Hour features true stories told live on stage without scripts, notes, props, or accompaniment. Each Moth Radio Hour mixes humorous, heartbreaking, and poignant tales that captivate, surprise, and delight audiences with their honesty and bravery. Moth storytellers stand alone, under a spotlight, with only a microphone and a roomful of strangers. The storyteller and the audience embark on a high-wire act of shared experience, which is both terrifying and exhilarating.
MOUNTAIN STAGE
Mondays, 9-11 p.m.
For the last 37 years, Mountain Stage has been the home of live music on public radio. Produced by West Virginia Public Broadcasting and distributed by NPR Music. Recorded in front of a live audience, Mountain Stage features performances from seasoned legends and emerging stars in genres ranging from folk, blues, and country; to indie rock, synth pop, world music, alternative, and beyond.

MUSIC FROM THE HEARTS OF SPACE
Sundays, 11-12 a.m.
An uninterrupted hour of Ambient, Space, and Contemplative music from around the world and across the centuries. Hearts of Space is one of the longest-running and most popular music series on public radio. Produced and hosted by Stephen Hill, the show anticipated the rise of electronic music, new age, and Minimalism as popular genres in the 1980s, but always went beyond them in scope and quality by bringing together contemplative, space-creating music and soundscapes from some 30 new and traditional genre.

NEW YORKER RADIO HOUR
 Saturdays, 10-11 a.m.
The New Yorker Radio Hour is a weekly program presented by the magazine’s editor, David Remnick, and produced by WNYC Studios and The New Yorker. Each episode features a diverse mix of interviews, profiles, storytelling, and an occasional burst of humor inspired by the magazine, and shaped by its writers, artists, and editors. This isn’t a radio version of a magazine, but something all its own, reflecting the rich possibilities of audio storytelling and conversation.

PERSON PLACE THING
Fridays, 10:30-11 p.m.
Person Place Thing is produced with the Marlene Meyerson JCC Manhattan and sponsored by WAMC Northeast Public Radio. Hosted by Emmy award-winning writer Randy Cohen, it is based on this idea: people are particularly engaging when they speak not directly about themselves but about something they care about. Guests talk about one person, one place, and one thing that are important to them. The result? Surprising stories from great talkers.

THIS AMERICAN LIFE
Fridays, 8-9 p.m.
Saturdays, 4-5 p.m.
This American Life is a weekly public radio program and podcast. Each week we choose a theme and put together different kinds of stories on that theme. Mostly we do journalism, but an entertaining kind of journalism that’s built around plot. In other words, stories! Our favorite sorts of stories have compelling people at the center of them, funny moments, big feelings, surprising plot twists, and interesting ideas. Like little movies for radio. TAL is an Peabody Award and Pulitzer prize-winning show hosted by Ira Glass and produced in collaboration with WBEZ Chicago.

What is underwriting you might ask? As a public radio station, we don’t carry conventional advertisements. Instead, we offer sponsorship opportunities in the form of underwriting. Underwriting consists of brief radio announcements, or “credits,” that inform our listeners about what products, services, or events a business or organization offers. The objective, unbiased approach of underwriting strips away the clutter and loaded language of other advertising.

We are extremely grateful to work with hundreds of businesses throughout our listening area. These organizations opt to use their marketing and advertising dollars to share their message with our listeners, all while supporting the station at the same time. We truly appreciate their support and ask you take a moment to support them! View our Underwriting Directory highlighting all of our underwriters from various industries.

Interested in becoming an underwriter?
It’s quick and simple! Visit wamcunderwriting.org/contact-us to get the ball rolling and we’ll take it from there.
