ALBERTA SLAVIN
PRESIDENT

Dear Friend:

"What can one person do?"

With all of the assaults on your pocketbook today, one is tempted to simply try and make ends meet and not worry about bucking the system.

But that's exactly how the system got out of hand - how it grew and grew with the promise of serving you better. Big government. Big manufacturers. Big business. Big farms.

And perhaps the biggest of them all...Big Utilities.

But the promise of a better life is tarnished. The gold has turned to brass and you are the pawn of galloping inflation.

Inflation hits hardest in those things you simply must buy. Things like telephone service, electric power, gas, water.

That's why we formed the Utility Consumers Council of Missouri two years ago. Our aim has been to give you a potent voice in helping regulate the power of utilities.
