The U.S. and the Holocaust, a new threepart documentary directed and produced by Ken Burns, Lynn Novick and Sarah Botstein, explores America's response to one of the greatest humanitarian crises in history.

Inspired in part by the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum's "Americans and the Holocaust" exhibition, the film examines the rise of Hitler and Nazism in Germany in the context of global antisemitism and racism, the eugenics movement in the United States and race laws in the American south. The film sheds light on what the U.S. government and American people knew and did as the catastrophe unfolded in Europe.

The documentary dispels competing myths that Americans either were ignorant of the unspeakable persecution that Jews and other targeted minorities faced in Europe or that they looked on with callous indifference. It tackles a range of questions that remain essential to our society today, including how racism influences policies related to immigration and refugees as well as how governments and people respond to the rise of authoritarian states that manipulate history and facts to consolidate power.

"History cannot be looked at in isolation," said Ken Burns. "While we rightly celebrate American ideals of democracy and our history as a nation of immigrants, we must also grapple with the fact that American institutions and policies, like segregation and the brutal treatment of indigenous populations, were influential in Hitler's Germany. And it cannot be denied that, although we accepted more refugees than any other sovereign nation, America could have done so much more to help the millions of desperate people fleeing Nazi persecution."

Witnesses who were children in the 1930s "...share wrenching memories of the persecution, violence and flight that they and their families experienced as they escaped Nazi Europe and somehow made it to America," said Sarah Botstein, a longtime producing partner of Burns and Novick. "Their survival attests to the truth of the remark made by journalist Dorothy Thompson that 'for thousands and thousands of people a piece of paper with a stamp on it is the difference between life and death.""

The film features a fascinating array of historical figures that includes Franklin D. Roosevelt, Charles Lindbergh, Dorothy Thompson, Rabbi Stephen Wise, and Henry Ford, as well as Anne Frank and her family, who applied for but failed to obtain visas to the U.S. before they went into hiding. This unexpected aspect of the Franks' story underscores an American connection to the Holocaust that will be new to many viewers.

The film also looks at American policy on topics ranging from Calvin Coolidge's staunch anti-immigration ideology to FDR's Lend-Lease bill and how these fights took shape on the home front, including the emergence of Nazi sympathizers.

Some of America's most well-known leaders, such as Lindbergh and Ford, were also among the most vocal antisemites. Similarly, new light is shed on many of the well-known controversies surrounding the American response to the Holocaust, including the dreadful story of the more than 900 Jewish refugees aboard the MS St. Louis, who were denied entry to Cuba and the U.S. in 1939 and forced to return to an uncertain fate in Europe, and the enduring debate over whether the Allies should have bombed Auschwitz. Americans had heard about Nazi persecution on their radios and read about it in the press. Many responded by denouncing the Nazis, marching in protest and boycotting German goods. Individual Americans performed heroic acts to save individual Jews and stood up to Nazism at home and abroad.

Some 200,000 Jews eventually found refuge in the United States, but many more were denied entry. As the Nazi terror escalated, the U.S. responded by tightening, not opening, its borders to refugees. "If I had my way," said Senator Robert Reynolds of North Carolina at the time, "I would today build a wall about the United States so high and so secure that not a single alien or foreign refugee from any country upon the face of this earth could possibly scale or ascend it."

Ultimately, The U.S. and the Holocaust offers little consolation to those who believe that the challenges posed by nativism, antisemitism, xenophobia and racism are buried deeply and permanently in the past. "The institutions of our civilization [are] under tremendous stress," warns writer Daniel Mendelsohn, who shares his family's story in the film. "The fragility of civilized behavior is the one thing you really learn, because these people, who we now see in these sepia photographs, they're no different from us. You look at your neighbors, the people at the dry cleaner, the waiters in the restaurant. That's who these people were. Don't kid yourself."

The U.S. and the Holocaust will be broadcast on 3-2 Sunday thru Tuesday, the 18th to the 20th at 7:00 p.m. and Sundays at 10:00 p.m. beginning the 25th. Watch it on 3-1 Sunday thru Tuesday, the 18th to the 20th at 8:00 p.m.

Ending HIV in America

Almost 40 years after the discovery of HIV, could we be on the verge of ending the AIDS epidemic in America? As of 2019, in the U.S., there were only 34,000 new cases of the disease—a feat that once seemed near-impossible to achieve. How did scientists and the public health community tackle one of the most elusive deadly viruses to ever infect humans? Can innovative drugs bring new infections to zero?

"Ending HIV in America" on Nova is the story of an incredible scientific achievement and the public health work that still needs to be done to end HIV in America.

"Ending HIV in America" on Nova can be seen on 3-2 Wednesday, the 21st at 8:00 p.m. and Saturday, the 24th at 10:00 p.m. Please see the AtoZ on page 18 for 3-1 dates/times.

With climate change threats becoming ever more prevalent, can the city's new hi-tech flood barrier save it?

In Nova's "Saving Venice," discover the innovative projects and feats of engineering designed to stop this historic city from being lost to future generations.

"Saving Venice" on Nova airs on 3-2 Wednesday, the 28th at 8:00 p.m. and Saturday, October 1st at 10:00 p.m. It airs on 3-1 Thursday, the 29th at 4:00 p.m. and Friday, the 30th at 8:00 p.m.

Ancient Sites of the World Top Ten Sacred Sites Must See Ancient Burial Sites

NOVA

Many of the world's most famous, impressive and amazing archaeological sites were pre-eminent sacred locations and structures to their builders. Ancient Sites of the World "Top Ten Sacred Sites" travels back ten thousand years to visit the world's greatest sacred sites, relating the stories attached to the sites and exploring how and why they were sacred.

Starting with site number 10, the program goes back to 2000 BC Ancient Egypt with a visit to Karnak Temple, the largest religious structure ever built by human kind. At two hundred and forty acres, it was more than twice the size of Vatican City and represented the work of countless generations of Egyptian laborers.

For site number 7, we travel back about 400 years to Cahokia, a huge Native American sacred city just 10 miles east of St. Louis. The city flourished between about 900 AD and 1250. It was home to about thirty thousand people known as Mississippians and was ruled by the chief called the Great Sun.

Site number 5 takes us back to 300 BC to the Nazca Desert in Peru. In 1926, the first commerical flights over the area led to the discovery of enormous geometric designs unknown to the modern world and too vast to be appreciated from the ground. Thought to be evidence of extraterrestrial life, it was later theorized that the designs were part of a religious ritual to draw water from the distant mountains, the home of the Gods.

Other sites include Knossos in Crete, the Aztec capital of Templo Mayor, the Parthenon in Greece, Stonehenge, and the city of Amarna in Egypt, site of a religious cult formed by pharaoh Akhenaten, father of King Tut.

Ancient Sites of the World "Top Ten Sacred Sites" can be seen on 3-2 Sunday, the 11th at 10:00 a.m. and Thursday, the 15th at 7:00 p.m. It airs on 3-1 Tuesday, the 13th at 7:00 p.m.

For more than seventy thousand years human kind has been burying and caring for the dead, from simple holes in the ground to monumental structures like pyramids, earth mounds and exquisite marble tombs. Ancient Sites of the World "Must See Ancient Burial Sites" goes back six thousand years in time to see the final resting places of some of history's most powerful men and most loved women—tombs with sacrificial victims, beautiful decorations and golden treasure.

A thousand miles south of the Egyptian pyramids is Africa's largest country, Sudan. Two and a half thousand years ago this was the land of Nubia, a black African kingdom, with more than 180 pyramids, almost twice the number built by Egyptians, though much smaller. They too were the burial places of kings and queens. Before they copied the Egyptian pyramids, Nubian kings were buried in huge burial mounds, along with as many as 300 sacrificed servants who were buried alive to accompany their king to the afterlife.

In the jungles of Mexico is the famous Mayan city of Palenque, re-discovered around 1750, and known for its Temple of Inscriptions, an eighty foot high pyramid with a temple on top. In 1952, a hidden staircase was discovered that descends right through the core of the pyramid leading to a secret burial chamber and the sarcophagus of Mayan King Kinich Hanab Pakal. Wearing an exquisite jade mask, Pakal's body had been undisturbed for 1,250 years.

Sitting about 25 miles south of Delhi in India is Agra, where sits the Taj Mahal, the most beautiful building in the world and tomb that was the result of one of history's greatest love stories.

Ancient Sites of the World "Must See Ancient Burial Sites" will be broadcast on 3-2 Sunday, the 18th at 10:00 a.m. and Thursday, the 22nd at 7:00 p.m. Watch it on 3-1 Tuesday, the 20th at 7:00 p.m.

Black Lucy and The Bard

Great Performances "Black Lucy and The Bard" is based on the poetry of Caroline Randall Williams exploring the muses of Shakespeare's sonnets.

Performed by Nashville Ballet, Great Performances "Black Lucy and The Bard" explores the love life of William Shakespeare and his muses, the "Dark Lady" and the "Fair Youth," presenting the idea that these subjects and inspirations in his love sonnets were a Black woman and a young man.

Author and performer Williams narrates the ballet with her own spoken word poetry from the 2015 book on which the show was based, Lucy Negro, Redux.

Great Performances "Black Lucy and The Bard" will be broadcast on 3-2 Friday, the 16th at 9:00 p.m. Watch it on 3-1 Saturday, the 17th at 7:00 p.m.

Intimate Apparel

The Met Opera and Lincoln Center Theater present "Intimate Apparel," an opera adaptation of playwright Lynn Nottage's critically acclaimed and award-winning 2003 play of the same name.

Set in 1905 New York, it is the story of Esther, an unmarried and increasingly lonely African-American woman who makes her living sewing beautiful corsets and ladies' undergarments. Although she shares a warm affection with the Orthodox Jewish man who sells her fabrics, any possibility of a romantic relationship between them is taboo.

Seeking love and romance, Esther begins to correspond with a mysterious suitor laboring at the Panama Canal.

Great Performances production of "Intimate Apparel" airs on 3-2 Friday, the 23rd at 9:00 p.m. It can be seen on 3-1 Saturday, the 24th at 7:00 p.m.

MASTERPIECE Van der Valk

Marc Warren reprises his role as Commissaris Piet Van der Valk in the second season of "Van der Valk" on Masterpiece. Set in Amsterdam, the new three-part series follows the work of Van der Valk, a street-smart and unapologetic Dutch detective who navigates the lively and enigmatic city, solving mysterious crimes using astute human observation and inspired detection.

In "Plague on Amsterdam," Van der Valk is called in to investigate the grisly and theatrical murder of a lawyer. As a cryptic note discovered within her jacket alludes to further murders, Van der Valk and his team must race to uncover the truth before the killer can strike again.

In "Blood in Amsterdam," an employee of the renowned Cuypers Diamonds is killed and his body delivered in pieces to the wealthy siblings and heirs to the company. Van der Valk must consider a possible tale of revenge against the family.

In "Payback in Amsterdam," a cellist from a prestigious orchestra dies following an attack. Van der Valk has to delve into the city's vibrant and eclectic classical music scene in the search for her killer.

"Van der Valk" on Masterpiece can be seen on 3-2 Sundays at 8:00 p.m. beginning the 25th and Fridays at 10:00 p.m. beginning the 30th. It airs on 3-1 Sundays at 7:00 p.m. beginning the 25th and Mondays at 1:00 p.m. beginning the 26th.

Lucy Worsley Investigates The Black Death

In this new episode of Lucy Worsley Investigates, Lucy examines Britain's deadliest pandemic, the Black Death, which struck in 1348 and killed an astonishing three million people—half of the country's population. Scientists, historians and other experts help Lucy explore the wide-ranging effects of this unprecedented calamity on British society.

For centuries, no one could be certain what caused the 1348 plague. Then, in the 1980s, a vast mass grave containing the skeletons of 600 victims was uncovered in London. Lucy learns how DNA extracted from the teeth of these skeletons enabled scientists to finally identify the cause of the Black Death, a bacteria called yersinia pestis—a pathogen to which the population had no immunity.

had no immunity.

Lucy then travels to a small Suffolk village where rare court rolls reveal how the plague affected the lives of ordinary people. These fragile documents provide a unique window into the epidemic's social, political and psychological impacts, revealing how the enormous death toll transformed religious beliefs, class structure, work and women.

Lucy Worsley Investigates "The Black Death" will be broadcast on 3-2 Sunday, the 25th at 7:00 p.m. It can be seen on 3-1 Sunday, the 25th at 6:00 p.m. and Monday, the 26th at 12:00 noon.

INDEPENDENT LENS

HAZING

"Hazing" opens the new season of Independent Lens on PBS. Hazing is a widespread, far-reaching practice fueled by tradition, secrecy, groupthink, power, and the desire to belong in fraternities and sororities on college campuses and throughout institutions across the U.S. Through the voices of hazing survivors, family members, perpetrators, and scholars, "Hazing" reveals a variety of underground rituals that are abusive, and sometimes deadly.

Reckoning with his own traumatic experiences as both a hazing survivor and perpetrator, filmmaker Byron Hurt embarks on a deeply personal journey beyond his fraternity, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc., to understand the intersecting roles that power, gender, race, dominance, and control play in the violent lengths college students and others will go to fit in.

"Hazing" on Independent Lens can be seen on 3-2 Monday, the 12th at 9:00 p.m. It airs on 3-1 Friday, the 23rd at 9:00 p.m.

FACING SUICIDE

Facing Suicide is part of a national initiative that draws attention to the country's growing rates of suicide—one of America's most urgent health crises. This ambitious project hopes to provide insight on the 10th leading cause of death that takes 45,000 lives in the U.S. each year.

The film explores the powerful stories of those impacted by suicide—from a family recovering from a son's suicide to five women who choose to live—and journeys to the front lines of research with scientists whose work can inform suicide prevention practices and better enable families, institutions, and communities to offer help and hope around the topic.

By 2030, 20 percent of Americans will be senior citizens. Many will eventually enter long-term care, a move that presents tough choices and challenges for seniors and their families—including risks of depression and suicide. Facing Suicide reports on how families and facilities are struggling to understand and manage these risks.

Facing Suicide will be broadcast on 3-2 Tuesday, the 13th at 8:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 25th at 2:00 p.m. Watch it on 3-1 Friday, the 16th at 9:00 p.m.

LION: The Rise and Fall of the Marsh Pride

This groundbreaking documentary tells the epic story of the famed Marsh pride of lions as it battles for survival in Kenya's famous Maasai Mara Reserve. In a world where lions and humans are increasingly at odds, the film charts the rise and fall of the pride, which has been documented by the BBC for over 30 years.

Featuring archival footage and testimony from those who have filmed the pride and lived alongside it, LION is a powerful tale of

When the World Answered

Nearly 50 years ago, torrential rains in northwestern and central Italy caused massive flooding throughout the area, including Florence. And then the worst-case scenario became reality: 14,000 works of art and rare books were destroyed.

Based on the book When the World Answered: Florence, Women Artists and the 1966 Flood by Linda Falcone and Jane Fortune, this half-hour documentary looks back at the worldwide Herculean efforts to save and restore the artwork of Florence.

Filmed on location in Italy, the film features archival footage and a new interview with legendary Italian director/producer Franco Zeffirelli, whose 1966 documentary "Florence: Days of Destruction" showed the flood's impact and helped rally the world to help.

When the World Answered airs on 3-2 Wednesday, the 14th at 9:30 p.m. and Friday, the 23rd at 11:30 p.m. It can be seen on 3-1 Sunday, the 25th at 10:30 p.m.

Delikado on POV

A land defender is killed every two days around the world as they strive to protect their local environments from being destroyed by politicians and powerful business figures. POV presents the environmental thriller "Delikado," that reveals the battles of three land defenders trying to stop Palawan, an island paradise in the Philippines, from being plundered.

Palawan is a Unesco World Heritage site with one of the oldest, largest and most diverse rainforests in the world. The film follows a charismatic lawyer, an ex-illegal logger and a fearless politician as they work with indigenous communities trying to save their increasingly valuable natural resources from being plundered.

"Delikado" on POV airs on 3-2 Monday, the 26th at 9:00 p.m. Watch it on 3-1 Friday, the 30th at 9:00 p.m.
