

DZANC HOUSE PRESENTS

BEYOND THE BINARY

Stories That Shift Culture

DZANC'S LGBTQ+ YOUTH
WRITING AND ARTS PROGRAM

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

LGBTQ+ youth poets, writers, editors, community members, culture builders, and creative makers—Dzanc House invites you to join our free, curated workshop series, with seasonal publication by our award-winning press and multimedia showcases through our on-site gallery, in-house podcast broadcasting, and special on-air features with WCBN radio. Dzanc House is amplifying your voices, ensuring that LGBTQ+ experiences are heard and celebrated in the literary and arts world.

Here, lived experience is expertise.

We've always believed in giving bold, often underrepresented voices a platform, and it's important to us that LGBTQ+ stories take center stage. Beyond the Binary: Stories That Shift Culture is our bold call to action—amplifying the untold stories of LGBTQ+ youth in our community.

Through storytelling, art, and critical dialogue, our youth will have the opportunity to challenge dominant narratives and imagine new possibilities. It is urgent to address these issues now. In a time of escalating anti-LGBTQ+ legislation, cultural backlash, and rising rates of isolation, the stakes are high. But so is the potential for resilience, resistance, and radical joy. Beyond the Binary isn't just about art—it's about agency. It's about shifting the culture by telling our own stories, on our own terms. Join us in disrupting the norm, and reclaiming the narrative.

WHO WE ARE

Our instructors and volunteers are made up of poets and writers, graduate, postgraduate, and undergraduate students and instructors of the creative arts. We are dedicated and passionate about sharing our life-long love of literature and inspiring social change.
