9pm Dusters (WSKG)

In 1973 a young Binghamton entrepreneur had an idea-he wanted to bring professional hockey to New York State's Southern Tier. Everyone thought he was crazy. At that time few people in the area knew anything about hockey: it wasn't played in schools, hockey equipment wasn't sold in sporting goods stores, and professional games from the NHL were rarely, if ever televised. But Jim Matthews loved hockey and had played it since he was a young boy growing up in Parry Sound, Ontario. He believed that hockey and the blue-collar roots of the "Valley of Opportunity" were a perfect fit, and he set out to prove it. Through rare archival and personal footage and captivating true-life accounts from both players and fans, The Dusters brings to life again those first years of the sport that captivated the area's imagination, and brought together a community like never before. The Dusters, a one-hour documentary from Emmy-winning filmmaker Brian Frey chronicles the birth and rise of the sport of hockey in the Southern Tier, a sport that now 35 years later is played by thousands of area youth and adults alike.

Being Well in the Modern World

Kelly introduces the season by sitting down with Dr. Atul Gawande, Dr. Lisa Feldman Barrett, and Dr. Dani Dumitriu to discuss mental health and well-being in America today. They speak on three principal factors that play a role in shaping our wellness: nature (our genetics), nurture (the environment we're raised in), and choice (healthy behaviors we do or don't engage in on a regular basis). Our experts add an important caveat that our choices occur within a context. And that context is constantly changing, evolving and shaping our choices, whether we're aware of it or not.

Revolutionary War Weapons
In April 1775, war breaks out in Britain's most troublesome territory. Now the American Colonial Army faces what seems like an impossible challenge - to militarily defeat the world's most powerful nation. We've all heard the stories of pluck and valor, but what really led to Britain's defeat and the birth of the United States? American and British archeologists and historians unpack the real story of technology, innovation, and luck that determined the outcome of key battles - from the Massachusetts militias who fired the first shots to the Naval clashes between British and American ships of the line. This unique film brings the latest science to bear to reveal the hidden history of the Revolutionary War.

10pm Secrets of the Dead

Follow forensic anthropologists as they excavate the early American colony and uncover dark secrets. What do the newly discovered bones of a 14-year-old English girl reveal about what really happened during the winter of 1609?
