Independent Auditors' Report

Board of Trustees Northeast Indiana Public Radio, Inc. Fort Wayne, Indiana

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Northeast Indiana Public Radio, Inc. which comprise the statements of financial position as of June 30, 2023 and 2022, and the related statements of activities, cash flows and functional expenses for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Northeast Indiana Public Radio, Inc. as of June 30, 2023 and 2022, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of Northeast Indiana Public Radio, Inc. and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Northeast Indiana Public Radio, Inc.'s ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements, including omissions, are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Northeast Indiana Public Radio, Inc.'s internal control.
 Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Northeast Indiana Public Radio, Inc.'s ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control related matters that we identified during the audit.

Notes to Financial Statements June 30, 2023 and 2022

Note 1. Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Activities:

Northeast Indiana Public Radio, Inc. (the Organization) is a not-for-profit corporation, which operates a noncommercial public radio station whose primary listening area is Northeast Indiana. The Organization is exempt from income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Organization has been classified as an organization that is not a private foundation under Section 509(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Broadcasting License:

The Organization is licensed to broadcast by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC). This license is subject to periodic review and renewal by the Commission.

Basis of Preparation:

The financial statements are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting. The Organization reports information regarding its financial position and activities according to two classes of assets, net assets without donor restrictions and net assets with donor restrictions.

Net Assets without Donor Restrictions: Includes general assets and liabilities of the Organization. The net assets without donor restrictions of the Organization may be used at the discretion of management to support the Organization's purposes and operations.

Net Assets with Donor Restrictions: Includes assets of the Organization related to gifts with explicit donor-imposed restrictions that have not been met as to specified purpose, or to later periods of time or after specified dates. Unconditional promises to give that are restricted to use in future periods are classified as net assets with donor restrictions. Also included are assets that the donor stipulates must be maintained by the Organization in perpetuity.

Use of Estimates:

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash:

The Organization maintains its cash in deposit accounts which, at times, may exceed federally insured limits.

Receivables, Support and Revenue:

Underwriting revenue is recognized under Accounting Standards Update (ASU) 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606), when performance obligations under the terms of a contract with the customer have been satisfied and control has transferred to the customer. Revenue is measured based on the consideration specified in each contract. Performance obligations are considered complete at a point in time, generally after the spot airs or the event has taken place. Generally, contracts require payment within 30 to 60 days. The Organization does not have any significant financing components as payment is received at or shortly after the sale. There is no variable consideration. The underwriting receivable balance was $20,019, $31,860 and $34,554 at June 30, 2023, 2022 and 2021, respectively.

The Organization follows ASU 2018-08, Not-for-Profit Entities: Clarifying the Scope and the Accounting Guidance for Contributions Received and Contributions Made (Topic 605) in determining whether transactions should be recorded as a contribution or as an exchange transaction. The Organization recognizes contributions and grants, including memberships, when cash, securities or other assets; an unconditional promise to give; or a notification of a beneficial interest is received. Conditional promises to give, that is, those with a measurable performance barrier and a right of return, are not recognized until the conditions on which they depend have been met. There were no conditional contributions as of June 30, 2023 and 2022.

Contributions received are recorded as without donor restrictions or with donor restrictions, depending on the existence and/or nature of any donor restrictions. All donor-restricted contributions are reported as increases in net assets with donor restrictions. When a restriction expires, (that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose of the restriction is accomplished) net assets with donor restrictions are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions and reported in the statement of activities as net assets released from restrictions.

All grants, contributions and other support, which are expected to be received beyond one year, are discounted to their net present value. Receivables from both contributions and exchange transactions are reduced for any estimated uncollectible amounts. The Organization provides for losses on accounts receivable using the allowance method. The allowance is based on experience, contract terms, and other circumstances which may affect the ability of donors or customers to meet their obligations. It is the Organization's policy to charge off uncollectible receivables when management determines the receivable will not be collected.

Deferred Revenue:

The Organization holds special events, of which, tickets are purchased before the event. As the Organization receives ticket purchases, it records the payment as deferred revenue and is recognized as revenue when the event takes place. The deferred revenue balance was $0, $3,000 and $18,852 at June 30, 2023, 2022 and 2021, respectively.

Property and Equipment:

Property and equipment is recorded at cost or, if received by donation, at fair value at the date of the gift. Items with a cost or value of $1,000 or more and a useful life of one year or more are capitalized. Additions and improvements that significantly extend the useful life of an asset are capitalized. Costs incurred for repairs and maintenance are expensed as incurred. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method for financial reporting purposes based on estimated useful lives of the related assets. If donors stipulate how long the assets must be used, the contributions are recorded as restricted support. In the absence of such stipulations, contributions of property and equipment are recorded as support without donor restrictions.

Leases

The Organization leases certain equipment. The determination of whether an arrangement is a lease is made at the inception of each contract. Under ASC 842, a contract is (or contains) a lease if it conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. Control is defined under the standard as having both the right to obtain substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the asset and the right to direct the use of the asset. Management only reassesses its determination if the terms and conditions of the contract are changed. Management has elected not to record leases with an initial term of 12 months or less on the statement of financial position. Lease expense is recognized for these leases on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Right-of-use (ROU) assets represent the Organization's right to use an underlying asset for the lease term, and lease liabilities represent the obligation to make lease payments. Operating lease ROU assets and liabilities are recognized at the lease commencement date based on the present value of lease payments over the lease term. Since most of the Organization's leases do not provide an implicit rate, the Organization has elected the practical expedient to use the risk free rate at lease commencement for its leases.

Lease ROU assets include any upfront lease payments made and exclude any lease incentives. Lease expense for operating lease payments is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Lease expense for finance lease payments is recognized on a straight-line basis over the useful life of the asset and is included in depreciation expense. The interest associated with finance lease obligations is included in interest expense. The Organization's lease terms may include options to extend or terminate the lease when it is reasonably certain that the option will be exercised.

Certain equipment lease agreements include variable payments based on a percentage of use over contractual levels, which are not determinable at lease commencement and are not included in the measurement of the lease asset and liabilities. Variable payments are expensed during the period incurred.

One lease includes an option to renew, with renewal terms that can extend the lease term from five to 35 years or more. The exercise of lease renewal options is at the Organization's sole discretion. Certain leases also include options to purchase the leased property. The depreciable life of assets are limited by the expected lease term unless there is a transfer of title or purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised.

Loan Fees:

Loan fees are amortized using the effective interest method, over the term of the related debt, and are netted from collateralized loans payable. Loan fee amortization is reflected as a component of interest expense.

In-Kind Services and Materials:

In-kind contributions are donations of materials, supplies, equipment, and services, and are recognized as support and expenses in the statements of activities. In-kind contributions are recorded at their estimated fair market value at the date of receipt. Contributions of services are recognized in the financial statements only if the services received (a) create or enhance nonfinancial assets or (b) require specialized skills, are provided by individuals possessing those skills and would typically need to be purchased if not provided by donation.

In-kind trade results from an exchange of underwriting for services, advertising and promotion, materials, etc. In-kind trade revenue is recorded when the spot airs. In-kind trade expense is recorded when the traded item is received or the traded service is performed.

Advertising and Promotion:

Advertising and promotion costs are charged to operations when incurred, and totaled $10,139 and $13,387 for the years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

Recently Issued Accounting Standards:

Adopted Pronouncements:

In 2022, the Organization adopted Accounting Standard Update (ASU) 2016-02, Leases (Topic 842), using the modified retrospective approach, which permits organizations to recognize a cumulative-effect adjustment to the opening balance of net assets in the period of adoption without adjusting the comparative periods prior to adoption. The new lease guidance requires all leases to be recognized on the statement of financial position as right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for the rights and obligations created by lease arrangements with terms greater than 12 months. Expenses are recognized in the statements of activities in a manner similar to previous accounting guidance.

In addition, the Organization elected the package of practical expedients permitted under the transition guidance, which among other things, allowed it to carry forward the historical lease classification and not reassess initial direct costs for any existing leases.

The adoption of the new standard resulted in the recognition of operating lease right-of-use assets and operating lease obligations on July 1, 2022 of $639,861. This standard did not materially impact the Organization's net assets, net change in net assets, and cash flows.

Pronouncements Currently Under Evaluation:

In June 2016, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) 2016-13 Financial Instruments - Credit Losses: Measurement of Credit Losses on Financial Instruments. The standard changes from an incurred loss approach of recognizing estimated credit losses (which delays recognition until a loss is probable or has been incurred) to an expected loss approach (requiring immediate recognition of estimated credit losses that are expected to occur over the life of the financial asset). The Organization would be expected to measure all expected credit losses for financial assets, including trade receivables, held at the reporting date based on historical experience, current conditions, and reasonable and supportable forecasts. The anticipated result of implementation of this standard is earlier recognition of credit losses. The standard will take effect for nonpublic organizations for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2022, and interim and annual reporting periods thereafter. The Organization is currently in the process of evaluating the impact of adoption of this ASU on its financial statements.

Income Taxes:

The accounting standard related to accounting for uncertainty in income taxes addresses the determination of whether tax benefits claimed, or expected to be claimed, on a tax return should be recorded in the financial statements. Under this guidance, the Organization may recognize the tax benefit from an uncertain tax position only if it is more likely than not that the tax position will be sustained on examination by taxing authorities, based on the technical merits of the position. Examples of tax positions include the tax-exempt status of the Organization and various positions related to the potential sources of income subject to unrelated business income tax (UBIT). The tax benefits recognized in the financial statements from such a position are measured based on the largest benefit that has a greater than 50 percent likelihood of being realized upon ultimate settlement. There were no unrecognized tax benefits identified or recorded as liabilities as of June 30, 2023 and 2022.

The Organization files form 990 in the U.S. federal jurisdiction and form NP-20 for the State of Indiana. The Organization is generally no longer subject to examination for years before 2020.

Subsequent Events:

Management of the Organization has evaluated events and transactions for possible recognition or disclosure through December 7, 2023, the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

Depreciation expense was $35,894 and $33,622 for the years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

Management reviews long-lived assets for impairment when circumstances indicate the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable based on the undiscounted future cash flows of the asset. If the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable, a write-down to fair value is recorded. Fair values are determined based on the discounted cash flows, quoted market values, or external appraisals, as applicable. Long-lived assets are reviewed for impairment at the individual asset or the asset group level for which the lowest level of independent cash flows can be identified.

The Organization was in the process of renovating a building, which is included in construction in progress. An impairment evaluation was conducted due to increased construction costs and other economic factors. Management concluded that the asset cost may not be recoverable and an impairment expense of $305,216 was recognized during the year ended June 30, 2022. An impairment evaluation was conducted at June 30, 2023 due to impairment in the prior year. No impairment charge was recognized during the year ended June 30, 2023.

Note 5. Beneficial Interest in Trust

The beneficial interest consists of funds held by the Community Foundation of Greater Fort Wayne, Inc. (Foundation), which are the result of an agreement whereby the Organization transferred assets to the Foundation and specified itself as the beneficiary of the assets. The Organization may draw up to a certain percent of the value of the assets each year, but may only obtain a return of the full value of the assets upon consent of the Foundation.

Additionally, the Foundation holds investment assets, with a value of $29,122 and $28,527 as of June 30, 2023 and 2022, respectively, for the benefit of the Organization for which the Foundation has retained variance power. These assets are not recorded as assets of the Organization.

Note 6. Fair Value Measurements

Fair value measurements are based upon the exit price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants, and are determined by either the principal market or the most advantageous market.

Inputs used in the valuation techniques to derive fair values are classified based on a three-level hierarchy to prioritize the inputs used in the valuation techniques to derive fair values. The basis for fair value measurements for each level within the hierarchy is described below with Level 1 measurements having the highest priority and Level 3 measurements having the lowest priority.

- Level 1: Fair value is based on unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in an active market that the organization has the ability to access at the measurement date.
- Level 2: Fair value is based on quoted prices in markets that are not active, quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets, and inputs that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.
- Level 3: Fair value is based on prices or valuation techniques that require inputs that are both significant to the fair value measurement and unobservable.

The asset's or liability's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

Following is a description of the valuation techniques and inputs used for each major class of assets measured at fair value. There have been no changes in the methodologies used at June 30, 2023 and 2022.

Beneficial interest in trust: Valued based on the underlying investments held by and reported to the Organization by the Community Foundation of Greater Fort Wayne, Inc.

The preceding methods described may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, although the Organization believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

The following tables set forth, by level within the fair value hierarchy, the Organization's assets measured at fair value on a recurring basis as of June 30, 2023 and 2022.

	Fair Value Measurements Using
	Le	vel 1	I	evel 2		Level 3	Fa	Total ir Value

As of June 30, 2022: Beneficial interest in trust	$	-	$	-	$	51,077	$	51,077

A reconciliation of the beginning and ending balance of the beneficial interest in trust, measured at fair value using significant unobservable inputs (Level 3) is as follows:

		2023	 2022
Beginning balance Realized and unrealized gains (losses) Interest and dividends Grants Fees	$	51,077 2,945 1,520 (3,126) (415)	$ 58,881 (5,593) 1,986 (3,755) (442)
Ending balance	$ 	52,001	$ 51,077

Realized and unrealized gains (losses), interest and dividends, grants and fees are included in change in beneficial interest in trust in the statements of activities.

Note 7. Line of Credit

The Organization has a line of credit with a bank that is due on demand. The agreement provides for a maximum borrowing of 50,000, with a variable interest rate of 1.25% over the index 9.50% at June 30,2023. The line of credit is secured by all of the Organization's business assets. As of June 30,2023 and 2022, there was no outstanding balance on the line of credit.

The Organization's goal is generally to maintain financial assets to meet current operating needs. During the year ended June 30, 2023, the Organization's board of directors and management elected to terminate the Building a Sound Future campaign, due to increased construction costs and other economic factors. With this decision, the board of directors intends to undesignate the $70,000 in net assets that has been designated for the campaign. Management is working with donors to potentially repurpose the donations that were made to the campaign. As of June 30, 2023, these are reflected as net assets with donor restrictions for purpose. The building purchased as part of the campaign will be sold. Management will use the proceeds to satisfy remaining donor purpose restrictions and fund current and future operational needs, including repairs to its Clairmont Court headquarters. Subsequent to year end, management received approval to re-purpose approximately $56,000 of the restricted funds and a donor requested that $125,000 be returned upon the sale of the building. To help manage unanticipated liquidity needs, the Organization has a line of credit in the amount of $50,000 upon which the Organization can draw.

Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among the program services and supporting activities benefited. The expenses that are allocated include rent, utilities, telephone, repairs and maintenance, and miscellaneous expenses which are allocated on a square footage basis.
