Reflections of In the Know

By Bill Schiffman

Hosting In The Know for the better part of four decades has been one of the most rewarding experiences of my life. Many of these students rarely had the opportunity to publicly do what they do best. Their peers had athletic or band events, but ITK has been a terrific forum where the motto has been “it’s cool to be smart.”

I’d like to thank the students, their parents, and teachers, and all the fans who came to our studios to watch live performances. It’s been a great run, and I enjoyed every minute of it.

Bill Schiffman has been the host of In The Know since 1983. Bill has been involved with WOSU as a past president of the Friends of WOSU board from 2016-2018 and co-chair of WOSU Auction board from 1988-1994.

By John Prosek

It was the spring of 1983 that WOSU made the decision to continue with In The Know starting the fall of 1983. The best part was picking the host, Bill Schiffman to host our new series.

During those many years I had the privilege to produce and direct many of the programs.

It was a win-win for WOSU to continue to have an outlet for students to showcase their intelligence plus providing a great community outreach.

John Prosek has been a Producer/Director for WOSU since 1979. He’s worked many projects including directing Ohio State Football from 1980 to 1990. He’s been part of In The Know since the first airing in 1983.

The 2023 season Championship game is May 23 at 7:30pm

WOSU would like to thank American Electric Power for funding In The Know since 2013.

2023 Shapes Up as Big Election Year

Odd numbered years usually don’t make for exciting elections. While the jobs are critical, voters just don’t get jazzed to cast ballots for mayor and city council. 2023 could be much different with possible state-wide issues lining up for the November election.

First is the effort to legalize the use of marijuana for any purpose. Supporters of recreational cannabis have put a proposed state law before the legislature which would legalize pot for anyone over 21. If lawmakers do not pass it as written by May 3rd, those supporters promise to collect signatures to put the question on the November ballot.

Next is the proposed amendment to guarantee abortion rights in the Ohio Constitution.

Abortion rights groups angered by last year’s Dobbs decision and encouraged by successful campaigns in other states promise to collect enough signatures by early July to put the question before voters. If they succeed, the campaigns for and against the amendment will be vigorous. Look for an endless stream of ads on TV, online and in mailboxes. There is also talk of abortion rights opponents trying to put their own amendment banning the procedure on the ballot through petitions or an act of the legislature.

But wait, there’s more. While still in their formative stages, efforts to change the way Ohio draws its legislative districts and to make it harder to amend the Ohio Constitution are also considering ballot questions in November. It could make 2023 a very interesting political year.
