Hi, everyone. Somehow, I got to be 81 years old. We celebrated on July 25th, the day that the Chartock twins were born in 1941. When I told my students that I was alive during World War II, they seemed to have a hard time comprehending that fact. Maybe I would have felt the same way if I was confronted by someone who had lived through the Civil War. Believe it or not, I think I remember reading and hearing about the last Civil War veterans dying.

People were very kind on the 25th and passed on good wishes for my birthday. That made me very happy. Deep down, I think most human beings are kind and decent and want to be their best selves. However, sooner or later we all pass on. My very good friend, the eminent psychiatrist Simon Epstein, died not that long ago and just before he left us, he said that he had lived a very good life. I loved that. We don’t live forever but each passing day adds to our personal history and that of others, right?

Let us try to remember that the news our outstanding news division reports each day becomes instant history. Of course, different news sources report on different stories. There are stories you will hear on Fox that you’ll never hear here, and vice versa. Historians may choose to pick up a New York Times report or maybe a story that was broken on WAMC. Even here at WAMC, each individual reporter may have a slightly different perception of the facts involved in a story. That’s why we have a first-rate news director in Ian Pickus. Ian has to assign stories, often on the recommendation of enterprising reporters, and sometimes things he deems important to cover. In fact, there isn’t a day that I don’t receive a note from one of our listeners that begins by saying, “You ought to do story on…” Sometimes these are great ideas. Sometimes, not so much. Of course, the people who are making these recommendations are knowledgeable about the stories they are suggesting and that should be enough to take the ideas seriously.

You have to be very good to be a news director and by that, I mean a GOOD news director. You need to encourage excellence on the part of your news staff and at the same time, you can’t cover every idea that comes down the pike because each day, you have to build a cohesive program. So Ian and his second in command, Jim Levulis, really have their work cut out for them. It’s amazing to see what is involved in putting a news program together – finding sources, interviewing, writing, editing – there’s a lot that happens to make WAMC the go-to news source in the region. Our news directors have earned respect not only from our listeners and peers (witness the number of awards on the station’s walls), but also from their staff. I have never seen the bureau chiefs (reporters) getting into arguments with Ian and Jim.

Keep in mind the huge swath of territory that WAMC covers. We are talking about 29 separate facilities broadcasting into portions of seven states. The money that you send to WAMC goes toward providing maintenance and repairs for these stations. That’s a huge job! I am a sure that you recognize that radio station equipment is very sensitive. A regional power outage can cause chaos. Let me give you a few examples. Sometimes we need to replace transmitters and remote control units which allows us to control our transmitter sites from the mother station. And there are other issues that can cause trouble, like ice storms and power outages. Those issues demand immediate attention and our Jessica O’Rourke is a one woman whirlwind. She has to keep every one of our stations on the air and some of them are on top of mountains! She has to climb those mountains. If we lose her, we are dead. Thankfully, she’s still young. To put it mildly, your support is what makes it all go.
We’ve officially welcomed the hot weather, summer vacations, concerts, and now, August. As we continue to enjoy the season, WAMC has just what you need to soak up the last full month of summer. Enjoy “Live From Tanglewood,” hear from a Pulitzer Prize-winning playwright, and stay on top of what’s happening in academia.

SPECIAL PROGRAMMING:

Enjoy a summer of music broadcast from the lush Berkshire Hills with “Live From Tanglewood.” Experience the BSO and Boston Pops, along with some of the most talented performers, conductors, and composers of our generation. Concerts air Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m. and Sundays at 2:30 p.m. through August 28.

Don’t miss new monthly episodes of our award-winning podcast “A New York Minute in History.” Hear unique tales of New Yorkers throughout American history from the oldest courthouse to the story of Corporal Margaret Hastings, a member of the Women’s Army Corps who survived 47 days in a New Guinea jungle during World War II. Visit wamcpodcasts.org/a-new-york-minute-in-history.

REGULAR PROGRAMMING

This month on “The Academic Minute” hear segments on pandemic planning with older adults in mind, how to prevent suicide using biomarkers, and how red flag laws could save thousands of lives from gun deaths. We’ll also feature a full week from the University of Miami’s Miller School of Medicine. Join us each weekday at 7:30 a.m. and 3:56 p.m. on WAMC or anytime online at academicminute.org.

On “Person Place Thing,” Pulitzer Prize winner Michael R. Jackson tells us about his love for soap operas, his upcoming work, and desire to move to Wyoming. Host Randy Cohen also speaks with Former Deputy Assistant to the President Fiona Hill and well-known Hungarian-American photographer Sylvia Plachy. “Person Place Thing” airs Fridays at 10:30 p.m. and Saturdays at 7:30 a.m.

On “Earth Wise,” host Dr. Randy Simon tells us how sea urchins are an environmental problem; hear about the progress on perovskite solar cells (and what they are); and how mangrove forests play a vital role in the health of our planet and the effects of climate change. “Earth Wise” airs weekdays at 11:10 a.m. and 4:04 p.m.

WAMC’s Performing Arts Studio The Linda features the best live and local music and events in the Capital Region. We start the month with a tribute to Pink Floyd with Run Rabbit Run on July 8. We’ll hear several of our region’s top blues bands at the Capital Region Blues Network Blues Challenge ’22 on July 17. And we’ll hear big band jazz stylings from The Brucker – Weisse – Canterbury Jazz Orchestra on July 21. For a full list of concerts, tickets, and up-to-date information please visit thelinda.org.

Be sure to subscribe to the WAMC News Podcast for our most interesting stories from across the Northeast, in-depth interviews with newsmakers, and other special segments. If you love “Midday Magazine” and “Northeast Report,” but can’t always listen on air, the WAMC News Podcast is a perfect way to catch up! Visit wamcpodcasts.org/wamc-news-podcast.

The work of the WAMC News team is complemented each day with news and features from the BBC and Stardate. Midday Magazine also offers a comprehensive regional weather summary and a range of commentators who span the political spectrum. Highlights from the WAMC Listener Comment Line are usually aired on Friday’s edition of Midday Magazine. wamc.org/programs/midday-magazine-wamc

MORNING EDITION
Weekdays, 5-9 a.m.
Every weekday for over three decades, Morning Edition has taken listeners around the country and the world with two hours of multi-faceted stories and commentaries that inform, challenge and occasionally amuse. A bi-coastal, 24-hour news operation, Morning Edition is hosted by Steve Inskeep, Rachel Martin and A Martinez. These hosts often get out from behind the anchor desk and travel around the world to report on the news firsthand. wamc.org/programs/morning-edition-wamc

THE MOTH RADIO HOUR
Friday, 1-2 p.m.
The Moth Radio Hour features true stories told live on stage without scripts, notes, props, or accompaniment. Each Moth Radio Hour mixes humorous, heartbreaking, and poignant tales that captivate, surprise, and delight audiences with their honesty and bravery. Moth storytellers stand alone, under a spotlight, with only a microphone and a roomful of strangers. The storyteller and the audience embark on a high-wire act of shared experience, which is both terrifying and exhilarating. themoth.org

THIS AMERICAN LIFE
Fridays, 8-9 p.m.
Saturdays, 4-5 p.m.
This American Life is a weekly public radio program and podcast. Each week we choose a theme and put together different kinds of stories on that theme. Mostly we do journalism, but an entertaining kind of journalism that’s built around plot. In other words, stories! Our favorite sorts of stories have compelling people at the center of them, funny moments, big feelings, surprising plot twists, and interesting ideas. Like little movies for radio. TAL is an Peabody Award and Pulitzer prize-winning show hosted by Ira Glass and produced in collaboration with WBEZ Chicago.

What is underwriting you might ask? As a public radio station, we don’t carry conventional advertisements. Instead, we offer sponsorship opportunities in the form of underwriting. Underwriting consists of brief radio announcements, or “credits,” that inform our listeners about what products, services, or events a business or organization offers. The objective, unbiased approach of underwriting strips away the clutter and loaded language of other advertising.

We are extremely grateful to work with hundreds of businesses throughout our listening area. These organizations opt to use their marketing and advertising dollars to share their message with our listeners, all while supporting the station at the same time. We truly appreciate their support and ask you take a moment to support them! View our Underwriting Directory highlighting all of our underwriters from various industries.

Interested in becoming an underwriter? It’s quick and simple! Visit wamcunderwriting.org/contact-us to get the ball rolling and we’ll take it from there.
