Dear Public Radio 90 Members,

Thank you for your continued support of WNMU, Public Radio 90.

I hope that you are all recovering from the record snowfall during the month of March! Even though we all had many extra duties landing on our chore list, you still showed up for Public Radio 90! Thank you to all of our newest members and our grateful thanks to every sustaining member – your monthly contributions are what fuels the great programming.

We are announcing two great fundraising events for Public Radio 90. Strega Nonna in Negaunee has stepped-up once again to host a fundraiser for Public Radio 90 featuring the amazing Loudon Wainwright, III. This event will be taking place on July 15th, so please be listening for more details including when we start selling tickets. Our next event is our Shades of Ireland trip slated to depart in April 2027. Our first informational meeting is set to take place on May 20th at our studios in Harden Hall. A representative from Collette Travel will be here to review the trip itinerary, as well as answer all of your questions. Nicole Walton will be our staff person accompanying the travelers. Nicole went on this trip many years ago and highly recommends it! Remember to RSVP for the informational meeting by giving us a call at 906-227-9668.

If you haven't thought about planned gifts, bequests, or a lasting contribution to the Public Radio 90 endowment fund, and you have questions, please reach out to your financial planner, or attorney. Of course, Public Radio 90 and the NMU Foundation are always available to help guide you through the process if you should need assistance. Thanks to all who are considering a lasting legacy gift.

Again, grateful thanks to every single member for your gifts. You make Public Radio 90 possible.

Inside, he stole hundreds of rare bird specimens—some over 150 years old—valued for their feathers by salmon fly-tying enthusiasts. What drove him to commit the theft, and what became of Edwin and the missing birds?
