AMERICAN EXPERIENCE

Unfolding like a political thriller, “Taken Hostage” on American Experience is a riveting four-hour two-part documentary film about the Iran hostage crisis, when 52 American diplomats, Marines and civilians were taken hostage at the American Embassy in Tehran on November 4, 1979. For the next 444 days, the world watched as the United States received a daily barrage of humiliation, vitriol and hatred from a country that had long been one of our closest allies. The crisis would transform both the U.S. and Iran and forever upend the focus and direction of American foreign policy.

“Taken Hostage” also explores the backstory of how America became mired in the Middle East and the nation’s role in igniting the firestorm that has consumed the most strategically important part of the world for the last 40 years.

Part One chronicles America’s quarter-century of unwavering support for its ally, the Shah of Iran, despite his dictatorial and increasingly brutal and corrupt regime. The film traces the Shah’s program to rapidly modernize and westernize Iran in the span of a single generation and the violent Islamic revolution that overthrew the Shah in 1979.

Part Two explores the holding of the hostages at the American embassy in Tehran by militant Islamic students, with the support and encouragement of the Iranian government led by Supreme Leader Ayatollah Khomeini. The film details how the crisis degenerated into what is arguably the most consequential foreign policy debacle of the second half of the 20th century. The Iran Hostage Crisis laid the groundwork for the modern 24-hour news cycle, inspired an escalating cycle of political terrorism and brought down the presidency of Jimmy Carter.

“Taken Hostage” on American Experience can be seen on 3-2 Monday and Tuesday, the 14th and 15th at 8:00 p.m. It airs on 3-1 Tuesday and Wednesday, the 15th and 16th at 7:00 p.m.

A hostage held at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran, Iran is shown to a crowd by Iranian students. November 8, 1979.

The Gerda That Remains

More than a decade ago, author and academic Gerda Saunders was diagnosed with cerebral microvascular disease—a precursor of dementia. In The Gerda That Remains, she embarks on a journey of self-discovery and inquiry as the effects of the illness begin to unravel her identity.

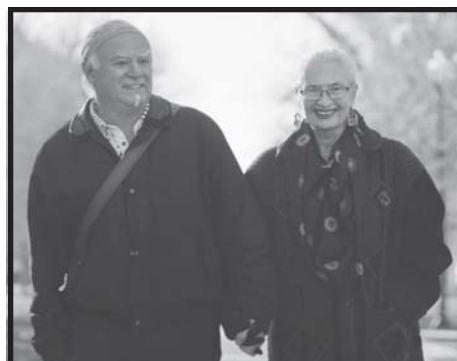

Born and raised in South Africa during the early years of apartheid, Gerda was shaped by her academic experiences and inquisitive nature. Her success in school carried over into a career of writing and teaching math, science, English, and gender studies.

But at the prime of her life’s work, Gerda’s brain began to fail her. Her degenerative brain became a new space for study from a scientific and personal perspective. “Every time my brain suffers an additional insult, I have less brain power to puzzle out my remaining self,” Gerda says.

Filmed over the course of six years, Gerda moves through her changing realities with intimacy and honesty in front of the camera. Observational footage draws viewers into her psychological experience as she navigates the loss of certain parts of her intellectual identity in real time. While her verbal skills remain strong, she articulates her experience of dementia with groundbreaking nuance, poetry and vulnerability.

The Gerda That Remains airs on 3-2 Sunday, the 20th at 10:00 p.m. It airs on 3-1 Sunday, the 27th at 10:00 p.m.

Tutankhamun: Allies & Enemies

Marking the 100th anniversary of the unearthing of King Tutankhamun’s tomb by British archaeologist Howard Carter, Tutankhamun: Allies & Enemies is a new two-hour documentary that investigates King Tut’s life and legacy.

Lead archaeologist Dr. Yasmin El Shazly and photographer Mahmoud Rashad explore Egypt and the Americas, meeting with historians, archaeologists and scientists to inspect historical inconsistencies and delve into the mysteries and unanswered questions about the boy king’s life: the religious and cultural revolution started by his father, those advising him as he ascends to the throne at a very young age, and the circumstances around his untimely death.

With rare access to government officials, El Shazly and Rashad travel across Egypt in search of answers—from the Egyptian Museum in Cairo to an active dig site in Abydos. Near the Colossi of Memnon and the Amenhotep III Conservation Project there is a brand-new discovery and, for the first time thanks to CT scans and Egyptian tissue marker charts, we can see the face of Tutankhamun.

Tutankhamun: Allies & Enemies airs on 3-2 Wednesday, the 23rd at 7:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. and Saturday, the 26th at 10:00 p.m. and 11:00 p.m. Watch it on 3-1 Wednesday, the 23rd at 8:00 p.m. and 9:00 p.m. and Saturday, the 26th at 11:00 p.m. and 12:00 midnight.

El Shazly & Rashad examine the Royal Mummy of Tutankhamun. (Valley of the Kings, Luxor, Egypt)

48 Hours to Victory

History enthusiast Dermot O'Leary teams up with former Royal Marine Arthur Williams and military historian Lucy Betteridge-Dyson to explore a pivotal 48 hours that led to the conclusion of three of the most historic battles in British history.

In the first episode, they tackle "Dunkirk" and the two key days during the evacuation of British soldiers that prevented a German triumph. The heroic actions of one ship, HMS Worcester, act as a window into the wider story of the safe retreat of thousands of men.

In "Somme," Dermot, Arthur and Lucy examine the final 48 hours of the Battle of the Somme, which raged for over four months. Dermot spends time in reconstructed trenches and meets the descendants of a Glasgow soldier who was one of just 15 men in his battalion to survive, and Lucy meets a bomb disposal team who are still uncovering shells from the conflict to this day.

The trio then examines "Waterloo" as it unfolded over 48 hours in 1815. It was a battle that would pave the way for a new Europe, cement Britain's position as a world power, and pit two famous generals—Napoleon and Wellington—up against one another.

48 Hours to Victory airs on 3-2 Thursdays at 7:00 p.m. beginning the 10th. Watch it on 3-1 Mondays at 7:00 p.m. beginning the 7th.

Narrated by Gary Sinise, Jack Taylor was born in St. Louis, Missouri, in 1922. Jack heeded his country's call after the attack on Pearl Harbor drew the United States into World War II. In 1942, he enlisted and served as a decorated Navy Hellcat pilot in the skies over the South Pacific.

Then, like so many others of the "Greatest Generation," Jack returned home to raise his family and start a business. Lessons learned in the Navy—including the values of integrity, hard work, team spirit, and simply doing the right thing—helped shape his personality. They also made their mark on the company he founded in 1957, Enterprise Rent a Car. He named his new business after the aircraft carrier he served on, the most decorated American ship in WWII, the USS Enterprise.

This is the incredible story of a World War II veteran utilizing the lessons he took home from war to establish one of America's most successful post-war companies.

Jack Taylor: The Enterprise airs on 3-2 Tuesday, the 15th at 10:00 p.m. Watch it on 3-1 Monday, the 21st at 8:00 p.m. and Wednesday, the 30th at 3:00 p.m.

Aderbanji Alade is an artist, teacher and Vice President of the Royal Institute of Oil Painters.

How to Paint the Mona Lisa

Her elusive smile is the perfect combination of art, science, optics and illusion—the greatest triumph of Leonardo da Vinci's career. How to Paint the Mona Lisa reveals the secrets of this iconic masterpiece with renowned British artist Aderbanji Alade as he recreates da Vinci's groundbreaking painting techniques from scratch to unlock the genius of the world's most famous painting. Alade enlists the help of artists and conservationists who are keeping these 500-year-old ways of painting alive.

He is also joined by historian Martin Kemp, one of the world's leading authorities on the life and works of Leonardo da Vinci, who reveals the story behind the sitter and what makes this portrait a true masterpiece. By recreating his version of the Mona Lisa using traditional materials and da Vinci's methods, one gains a deeper understanding of why the whole world is enthralled by this particular portrait.

How to Paint the Mona Lisa will be broadcast on 3-2 Tuesday, the 22nd at 10:00 p.m. It can be seen on 3-1 Wednesday, the 23rd at 7:00 p.m. and Monday, the 28th at 12:00 noon.

The Water Pipeline Project on Cultura

The UTE water pipeline project began with the construction of the UTE Reservoir, which was completed in 1963. This project was planned in response to the declining water levels in the Ogallala aquifer of water intended for Cannon Air Force Base, Clovis, Elida, Portales, Texico, and unincorporated areas in Roosevelt and Curry counties.

The Eastern New Mexico Rural Water System (ENMRWS) project includes a water intake facility to divert surface water from Ute Reservoir over 90 miles of water supply pipes and over 60 miles of lateral pipes to serve Texico, Clovis, Portales, Elida, and Cannon Air Force Base.

Cultura sits down to discuss the project with the mayors of Elida and Clovis, as well as United States Senator Martin Heinrich and United States Congresswoman Teresa Leger Fernández.

"The Water Pipeline Project" on Cultura will be broadcast on 3-2 Sunday, the 20th at 12:00 noon and Tuesday, the 22nd at 9:00 p.m. It can be seen on 3-1 Sunday, the 20th at 11:30 a.m. and Thursday, the 24th at 9:00 p.m.

T-Rex:

An Evolutionary Journey

Tyrannosaurus Rex, or T-Rex, was known as the king of all dinosaurs. But was their supremacy the result of their sheer size and power? T-Rex: An Evolutionary Journey traces the evolutionary path of these prehistoric predators by following the journey of two dinosaur brothers and the theoretical evolution of the species.

T-Rex originated in Asia and eventually made its way to Eurasia and into America. New fossil findings in China have revealed that the T-Rex were originally much smaller and weaker dinosaurs. It is believed that the fierce competition for food, dominance and survival forced the T-Rex to evolve astonishingly into the terrifying predator of its time.

Using stunning CGI and expert insights, the film reveals more about the imposing nature of species.

T-Rex: An Evolutionary Journey airs on 3-2 Monday, the 14th at 10:00 p.m. On 3-1 it airs Wednesday, the 9th at 8:00 p.m.
