We’re invited to America to meet a new partner!

The Fund for Investigative Journalism (FIJ) has launched a new initiative with the Texas Association of Broadcasters (TAB), a member of the Texas Broadcasters Alliance, called “Investigate Texas.” Through this collaboration, FIJ will highlight stories of public interest that are being produced for the Texas market and will provide reporting support to TAB members’ investigative teams.

Reminder: FIJ rolling grants for stories on police misconduct

The Fund for Investigative Journalism is offering grants for stories on police misconduct and other forms of misconduct that break new ground and expose wrongdoing — such as corruption, brutality, and neglect. These stories can be based anywhere in the United States. The next grant deadline is May 10.

Resource center

For your reference:

- How to create a newsletter
- How to write a press release
- How to use social media
- How to share your work

Office of Public Affairs, Corporation for Public Broadcasting

Mentors needed for women in public media

The world of public media is changing rapidly and, to succeed in the digital age, public media organizations must embrace diversity and inclusion. For women, this means not only bringing new voices and perspectives to the table but also ensuring that those voices are heard and valued. That’s why the Center for Public Integrity, KUAF, and KUAR are pleased to announce the launch of the Public Media Mentoring Initiative (PMMI) — a program that will connect mid-career women in public media with mentors who can help them advance their careers and develop the skills they need to succeed.

Access our past newsletters

For any questions, please send email to: cms@cpb.org

Subscribe to our email list.

I want to sign up

TODAY’S TIP: "Gender-coded language in job descriptions can impact the diversity and inclusion of your workplace. The key is to find a balance in your job descriptions."

TODAY’S TIP: "Gender-coded language in job descriptions can impact the diversity and inclusion of your workplace. The key is to find a balance in your job descriptions."