The Santa Fe Trail played a pivotal role in the westward expansion of the United States. On the occasion of its 200th anniversary, The Road to Santa Fe explores the forces that spawned the trail and shaped its development.

The story begins with the departure of a small group of traders from Franklin, Missouri in September of 1821 on the first successful trading expedition to Santa Fe, then governed by Mexico. The documentary proceeds through the next six decades of the trail's active trading life, highlighting the main events and historical characters connected to it.

Trade soon grew into what became a seasonal movement of freight wagons rolling back and forth. Merchandise from Europe and the East Coast flowed through St. Louis and up the Missouri River, spawning new cities that became primary points of departure for caravans heading west. Furs, fleeces, woven goods and silver flowed east as Mexican merchants also became heavily involved in the commerce on the trail.

In 1846, "The Army of the West" marched down the trail after Congress declared war with Mexico. The Americans took control of Santa Fe without firing a shot and by war's end, most of northern Mexico was ceded to the US. As the military presence along the trail increased, so did tensions with Native Americans, which eventually led to the forced relocation of the Plains Indians.

Conflicts that escalated into civil war also occurred along the trail beginning in the 1850s. As the Civil War progressed, military engagements on the western end of the Santa Fe Trail played a significant role in the war's outcome.

By 1880, the construction of the railroads brought an end to the flow of freight wagons on the Santa Fe Trail, closing a pivotal chapter in American history.

The Road to Santa Fe can be seen on 3-2 Thursday, the 18th at 7:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 21st at 2:00 p.m. It will be broadcast on 3-1 Monday, the 22nd at 7:00 p.m.

The Road to Santa Fe A Convergence of Cultures

Cultura

Spiritual Journeys

Cultura has been a KENW production since the mid '70s. Each episode is an exploration into the history, people, and places that make the Land of Enchantment and surrounding areas unique.

Monastery of Christ in the Desert

In this month's episode of Cultura, entitled "Spiritual Journeys," producers Desirée Markham and Jim Wygal travel to the Upaya Zen Center in Santa Fe, NM, a Buddhist monastery that offers daily Zen meditation, weekly dharma talks, and programs on Buddhist teachings. Then travel to the banks of the Chama River to the Benedictine Monastery of Christ in the Desert near Abiqui, NM, one of the most remote monasteries in the U.S. The monastery operates a small brewery, along with a guesthouse in which both men and women can stay and join the monks in Mass.

Cultura "Spiritual Journeys" airs on 3-2 Sunday, the 21st at 12:00 noon and Tuesday, the 23rd at 9:00 p.m. Watch it on 3-1 Sunday, the 21st at 11:30 a.m. and Thursday, the 25th at 8:30 p.m.

The Lafayette Escadrille: The Americans Who Flew for France in World War One

Filmed in the skies above France and the United States, this two-part documentary tells the story of the extraordinary American volunteers who flew and fought for France in World War I, becoming the founding squadron of American combat aviation. It is the true story of a disparate group of idealistic young men risking their lives at the dawn of aviation to fight for freedom and democracy.

Through archival footage and stunning photography of the places where the pilots trained, flew, fought and died, the documentary gives the viewer a thrilling and visceral experience of the early days of combat aviation. Never-before-seen photographs, letters and memoirs, and thrilling aerial sequences tell the only American story that covers the entire scope of WWI along the Western Front, from fighting in the trenches and driving ambulances to flying single-seat fighters.

The Lafayette Escadrille: The Americans Who Flew for France in World War One airs on 3-2 Sundays, the 14th and 21st at 6:00 p.m. Watch it on 3-1 Tuesdays, the 9th and 16th at 8:00 p.m.

The Great Escape: The True Story

The Great Escape: The True Story is a three-part documentary looking at one of World War II's most audacious acts of survival and defiance. On the night of March 24, 1944, a mass escape of Allied soldiers from the German prisoner of war camp Stalag Luft III was set into motion.

This thrilling story of ingenuity and bravery is told through never-before-seen photographs and documents, dramatic reconstructions and expert testimony from historians and the children of the escapees.

Captive British airmen make it their mission to escape from a brand new Nazi prison—Stalag Luft III—by building three escape tunnels and preparing 200 men for escape. By August 1943, the tunnels, code-named Tom, Dick and Harry, were getting longer every day with teams digging around the clock. In October, the Tom tunnel is discovered and destroyed by guards. Little did the Germans know there were two other tunnels right under their feet.

A second escape tunnel, nicknamed Harry, is opened as teams begin assembling costumes and forging documents. When the escape finally goes ahead, the men are met with a series of problems to overcome and a constant danger of being discovered. Once out of the camp, with only a few rations, over 600 miles of occupied land and sea lay between the POWs and Allied Britain.

The Great Escape: The True Story airs on 3-2 Sundays at 5:00 p.m. beginning the 7th and Mondays at 8:00 p.m. beginning the 8th. It airs on 3-1 Wednesdays at 7:00 p.m. beginning the 10th.

Native American Heritage Month

Home From School: The Children of Carlisle

“Kill the Indian in him, and save the man” was the guiding principle of the U.S. government-run Indian boarding school system starting in the late 19th Century. The program removed tens of thousands of Native American children from their tribal homelands, and through brutal assimilation tactics, stripped them of their languages, traditions and culture.

The students were forced through a military-style, remedial education.

Most children returned emotionally scarred, culturally unrooted with trauma that has echoed down the generations. Many students never returned home, having died at the schools.

The Carlisle boarding school was the 19th century brainchild of Capt. William Henry Pratt, who theorized that Indians could only be “civilized” if removed from their families and immersed in the culture and manners of the civilization that had conquered their people.

“Home From School: The Children of Carlisle” on Independent Lens follows the difficult journey of a delegation of Northern Arapaho tribal elders as they delve into the controversial history of Indian boarding schools, patch together the historic record and personal stories of the relatives who were shipped away, and, finally, travel to Carlisle to reunite with, and ultimately retrieve, the lost children of their tribe.

“Home From School: The Children of Carlisle” on Independent Lens airs on 3-2 Tuesday, the 23rd at 8:00 p.m. It can be seen on 3-1 Tuesday, the 23rd at 7:00 p.m.

Searching for Sequoyah

Searching for Sequoyah chronicles the life and accomplishments of the legendary 19th century Cherokee visionary, Sequoyah (George Guess), through the oral stories of five modern day Sequoyah descendants.

While much is known about Sequoyah’s Cherokee writing system or syllabary, very little is known about the man himself. How did this illiterate Cherokee invent a writing system that transformed the future of his people?

From Tuskegee, Tennessee to Zaragoza, Mexico, Searching for Sequoyah takes viewers on a journey retracing his final quest to reunite his fellow Cherokees in Mexico, the mystery surrounding his death, and the legacy he left behind.

Searching for Sequoyah airs on 3-2 Sunday, the 7th at 2:00 p.m. and Tuesday, the 30th at 10:00 p.m. It will be broadcast on 3-1 Monday, the 8th at 7:00 p.m.

CANES of POWER

In 1864, President Abraham Lincoln recognized Pueblo independence by bestowing an ornamental, silver tipped cane to each Pueblo Nation. From more than 500 Indian nations in the United States, only New Mexico’s 19 Pueblos received these symbolic gifts of sovereign status.

Through historical narrative, interviews, video images of Pueblo communities, and photographic or oral histories of cultural and political events, Canes of Power tells the story of the Canes in the voice of the Pueblo people and their struggle for sovereignty, upon which cultural survival depends.

Canes of Power can be seen on 3-2 Sunday, the 14th at 2:00 p.m. Watch it on 3-1 Monday, the 15th at 7:00 p.m.

INDEPENDENT LENS

Storm Lake

Art Cullen is a 63-year-old Pulitzer-prize-winning, old-school journalist who has dedicated his life to his family’s biweekly newspaper The Storm Lake Times.

Nearly 2,000 local papers have shuttered in the last 20 years and the stakes have been especially high for the Cullen family; they comprise half The Times’ 10-person team. Against slimmer margins, the Cullens doggedly report on their town, as readers with a preference for their social media feeds cease their support.

In May 2020, Storm Lake becomes the COVID-19 epicenter in the state and The Times ad revenue and newspaper sales suffer a serious blow. And yet, the need for The Times is more vital than ever as credible journalism is under siege and democracy hangs by a thread. Despite the setbacks, the Cullens continue to deliver the news. There’s simply too much at stake not to.

“Storm Lake” on Independent Lens airs Monday, the 15th at 9:00 p.m. On 3-1 it can be seen Sunday, the 21st at 9:00 p.m.

Duty Free

While exploring the layers of one mother’s life, “Duty Free” shines a light on the estimated 25 million older Americans who won’t have enough money to get through retirement age.

Rebecca, an immigrant American mother from England, worked her entire adult life as a hotel housekeeper to give her two sons, Sian-Pierre and Gabriel, every opportunity life could afford. When it was time for Sian-Pierre to go to college, she even cashed out her 401K to give him the best education possible. But when she was suddenly fired from her job at the age of 75, Rebecca was left with nothing: no savings, no safety net, and no future job prospects.

Now, Sian-Pierre is giving her back the life she sacrificed, and helping her to reclaim her future, one bucket-list adventure at a time.

Watch Independent Lens “Duty Free” on 3-2 Monday, the 22nd at 9:00 p.m. It airs on 3-1 Tuesday, the 23rd at 8:00 p.m.

Elvis and the USS Arizona

In the late-1950s, the USS Arizona Memorial Commission was struggling to raise money for a memorial. By 1960, less than half of the $500,000 needed was raised.

Elvis was already heading to Hawaii to film a movie called Blue Hawaii. His manager asked Elvis if he would consider holding a benefit concert at Pearl Harbor to help move the USS Arizona Memorial project forward. Elvis said “yes” without hesitation.

On March 25th, 1961 Pearl Harbor’s Bloch Arena was the location for the Elvis Presley USS Arizona Memorial benefit concert. On the evening of December 6th, 1941, that same arena had hosted the “Battle of the Bands” between the battleships anchored at Pearl Harbor. The entire USS Arizona band died the next day.

Presley’s benefit concert raised more than $54,000 for the memorial fund. More money from both the public and private sectors arrived, allowing the USS Arizona Memorial to be dedicated on May 30, 1962.

Elvis and the USS Arizona airs on 3-2 Sunday, the 7th at 6:00 p.m. and Tuesday, the 16th at 10:00 p.m. It airs on 3-1 Monday, the 8th at 8:00 p.m.

Voces on PBS American Exile

“American Exile” on Voces on PBS tells the story of two brothers, Manuel and Valente Valenzuela, who volunteered and fought in Vietnam. They returned wounded and with distinguished records. Fifty years later they are among thousands of U.S. military veterans who are being deported.

Now in their 70s, the brothers reluctantly don their uniforms for one last mission—to bring deported veterans and their families back home. Along the way, they meet two other veterans facing deportation—a gold star father whose daughter was killed trying to save another soldier in Iraq and an army vet who is wheelchair bound because of a devastating military injury.

It is a tale of two winter soldiers who still believe in the old fashioned American ideal of service and sacrifice for the greater good. Ultimately, one brother is exiled while the other goes all the way to the White House.

Voces on PBS “American Exile” airs on 3-2 Tuesday, the 16th at 9:00 p.m. Watch it on 3-1 Friday, the 19th at 9:00 p.m.

Secrets of the Dead The First Circle of Stonehenge

A decade-long archaeological quest reveals that the oldest stones of Stonehenge originally belonged to a much earlier sacred site: a stone circle built on a rugged, remote hillside in West Wales.

Using the latest tools of geotechnology, a dedicated team of archaeologists painstakingly searched for the evidence that would fill in a 400-year gap in our knowledge of the site’s bluestones.

“The First Circle of Stonehenge” on Secrets of the Dead reveals the original stones of Europe’s most iconic Neolithic monument had a previous life before they were moved almost 155 miles from Wales to Salisbury Plain.

A Samurai in the Vatican

In 1613, feudal lord Date Masamune sent a Japanese diplomatic mission to Europe to negotiate with the Pope and the King of Spain in hopes of opening a new trade route.

Led by samurai Hasekura Tsunenaga and Franciscan monk Luis Sotelo, the expedition spent seven years traveling one-third of the globe.

In “A Samurai in the Vatican,” discover the fate and legacy of these men caught up in the first stages of globalization and facing religious and political tensions.

The Oratorio: A Documentary with Martin Scorsese

In The Oratorio: A Documentary with Martin Scorsese, the famed film director/producer/actor reveals the fascinating story of a one-night-only performance in 1826 at St. Patrick’s Old Cathedral—Scorsese’s home church in Little Italy—that marked the arrival of Italian opera in the New World. This watershed event was lost to history for almost 200 years, but was recently rediscovered and restaged by an Italian opera company at the historic church.

The Oratorio is populated with unforgettable real-life characters, including Lorenzo Da Ponte, Mozart’s librettist, who, after being banished from Vienna, ended up in New York City working as a grocer; Pierre Toussaint, a freed slave who became a successful hairdresser and the primary benefactor for building St. Patrick’s Old Cathedral; and opera’s first diva, Maria Malibran, whose performances in America inspired young women to take up singing lessons.

Scorsese grew up around the corner and served as an altar boy at the two-centuries-old church where the original staging and restaging of the oratorio took place. In the documentary, he explores the neighborhood’s history, its transition from Irish to Italian, and the incredible influence it had on “the way I view my world and my work.”

Immediately following the documentary, DaPonte’s Oratorio: A Concert for New York presents Italian opera company Teatro Lirico di Cagliari performing the restaged concert, lost to history for almost 200 years.

The Oratorio: A Documentary with Martin Scorsese airs on 3-2 Friday, the 5th at 9:00 p.m. and DaPonte’s Oratorio: A Concert for New York follows at 10:00 p.m. On 3-1 The Oratorio airs Saturday, the 6th at 7:00 p.m. followed at 8:00 p.m. by DaPonte’s Oratorio.

The Caravaggio Heist

In 1984, a Maltese national treasure went missing from the cathedral of St. John in Valletta—a masterpiece by the legendary Italian master Caravaggio. “The Caravaggio Heist” on Secrets of the Dead tells the story of how two years of investigations across Europe led to nothing, and how a strong-willed priest never gave up.

Father Marius Zerafa, director of museums in Malta, set off on a quest to recover the priceless painting. Despite not having the money to pay the ransom, he risked everything, putting his life on the line for the sake of a masterpiece.

Please see the AtoZ listings on page 3 (for 3-2) and page 19 (for 3-1) for dates/times of SECRETS OF THE DEAD episodes.

A GREAT AMERICAN TAPESTRY: The Many Strands of Mountain Music

The Southern mountains were home to a diverse mix of Europeans, African-Americans and indigenous native peoples. This unique backcountry became a vibrant musical cauldron that combined and synthesized the tremendous contributions of many traditions to create a musical legacy that inspired the world.

Tapestry tells the eyeopening story of the Scots-Irish ballad tradition, the lost chapters of African-American banjo and fiddle history, the role of blackface minstrelsy in creating Old Time Music, the Cherokee music and dance tradition and so much more.

The film features Grammy award-winners Rhiannon Giddens and Dom Flemons (The Carolina Chocolate Drops), singer-songwriter Amythyst Kiah, folk performer and lecturer Sheila Kay Adams, David Holt (O Brother, Where Art Thou?), and folk balladeer and storyteller Joe Penland.

A Great American Tapestry airs on 3-2 Thursday, the 25th at 10:00 p.m. Watch it on 3-1 Sunday, the 28th at 11:00 p.m.

FRONTLINE

Pandora Papers

Frontline premieres the “Pandora Papers,” a trove of nearly 12 million confidential documents that are said to reveal the hidden assets and secret deals of some of the world’s wealthiest and most powerful people, including 130 billionaires, 35 current and former world leaders and more than 330 politicians and public officials.

The documents—shared with the International Consortium of Investigative Journalists (ICIJ) by an anonymous source—include records from 14 financial service providers around the world. The leaked files illustrate the global entanglement of political power and secretive offshore finance, and how U.S. trusts are sheltering millions in controversial assets.

“Pandora Papers” on Frontline can be seen on 3-2 Tuesday, the 9th at 10:00 p.m. and Thursday, the 11th at 7:00 p.m. It will be broadcast on 3-1 Friday, the 12th at 9:00 p.m.

Coppelia

Reviving an 1870 classical ballet favorite, GREAT PRFORMANCES "Coppelia" is a contemporary reboot for the digital age that sees Doctor Coppelius as a sinister cosmetic surgeon whose quest to build the perfect robot woman threatens the lives of young lovers Swan and Franz.

With everyone falling under the surgeon's spell, Swan must act to save her sweetheart before his heart is used to spark life into Doctor Coppelius' creation: Coppelia.

A modern fairytale for the whole family, this new interpretation features international ballet stars in an innovative blend of live action ballet with 2D and 3D animation.

Friday, November 26th at 9:00 p.m. on 3-2
Sunday, November 28th at 2:00 p.m. on 3-2
