The Sound of Cinnamon

Thursday, January 1 at 8 pm

What does hygge mean to you? Maybe it means friendship, laughter, or more concrete things like warmth, light, seasonal food and drink. It might make you think of sitting by the fire on a cold winter night, wearing your favorite oversized sweater, reading a book, and sipping cinnamon tea. In the special, "The Sound of Cinnamon," Jake Armerding invites you to experience coziness and contentment with a hygge soundtrack perfect for finding your favorite pair of slippers and putting your feet up.

Jazz Tribute Snap, Crackle, and Swing (Young Roy Haynes)

Sunday, January 4 at 3 pm & Monday, January 5 at 11 pm

Roy Haynes has been called the father and keeper of modern jazz drumming, one of the most consistently inventive and enduring percussionists the music has ever known, and whose discography could function as an encyclopedia of 20th-century jazz that extends into the present day. On this edition of Night Lights, we're paying tribute with recordings that Haynes made between the ages of 25 and 45 with Lester Young, Charlie Parker, Stan Getz, John Coltrane, Chick Corea, and others, as well as some of his own small-group leader dates

Chicago Jazz Live! Trio Nexus

Sunday, January 11 at 3 pm & Monday, January 12 at 11 pm

Joining them this evening is the wonderful vocalist – and Reggie's wife – Mardra Thomas. Reggie Thomas is the pianist for the legendary Count Basie Orchestra, and in this intimate "Trio Nexus" setting, these folks take us for a quick-footed swinging ride.

Blues & Beyond Songs and Stories for MLK Day "Blues in the Mississippi Night"

Saturday, January 17 at 8 pm & Sunday, January 18 at 6 am

In this hour of The Blues & Beyond, songs and stories that connect with the spirit of the Martin Luther King Day holiday. We'll hear from Sam Cooke, The Neville Brothers, and Johnny Copeland, as well as his daughter Shemekia Copeland, and from B. B. King, and others, including Big Bill Broonzy. We'll hear some of Broonzy's remarkable 1947 talking and singing session with Memphis Slim and John Lee "Sonny Boy" Williamson, recorded by Alan Lomax, but not issued until many years later, and even then with their names initially disguised - because it just wasn't safe for them otherwise. The session is known as "Blues In The Mississippi Night," and I'll talk with Bob Riesman who wrote the breakthrough biography of Big Bill Broonzy in 2011 about it as well.

Dear Public Radio 90 Members,

Happy New Year from all of us at Public Radio 90!

I am going to keep this message short and focused on the number one thing that keeps us going every single day: you! This past year was indeed very challenging, but we are all so very thankful for each one of you that stepped-up and became new members, increased your donations, and offered us such kind and supportive words and offers to help. We are grateful for each one of you and will never take your support for granted.

I wish that I could thank each of you in person and express what it meant to all of us when this brilliant community stepped forward to offer support (in so many ways). It is humbling and inspiring to us! Your support now helps us to stabilize our operations as we continue to work out our next steps in finding the additional financial resources that will enable us to continue the important programming work that you expect.

Patrick Lakenen, our general manager, said it best when he said: "We remain committed to providing and protecting the best in educational and national programming, public safety information, lifelong learning resources and local productions that benefit the public in our coverage area." That is our commitment to you and we will not waver from this.

Again, our most heartfelt thanks to you - you continue to inspire us! I hope this next year is filled with happiness and good health for you and your families. You are the reason we continue to exist and we look forward to serving you during 2026 and beyond.

With gratitude,

Tammy Wixtrom Johnson

Chapter-A-Day on WNNM-FM

Wednesday, January 14 through Friday, January 16, 2026: The Thief Of Words by Anthony Bukoski read by Norman Gilliland

The lightly interconnected stories in this riveting collection are split between the Polish American communities of northern Wisconsin and Louisiana, where refugees from World War II were resettled. Exploring themes of dislocation and assimilation, love and loneliness, and generational conflict, Bukoski admirably paints portraits of people doing their best, despite the odds and their sometimes-thwarted attempts to follow the urgings of their better angels.

Monday, January 19 through Thursday, February 5, 2026: The Piano Shop on the Left Bank by Thad Carhart

Every morning as he walked his children to school, American ex-pat Carhart passed a small shop, Desforges Pianos, which called to him. But every time he went in he was rebuffed. Eventually he gained entry to a place of magic; a hangout where university professors and car mechanics from the neighborhood gathered to discuss music, love and life.
