Did you know? Communal singing has multiple physical, mental, and social health benefits. It can calm heart rates, boost immune systems, and increase life expectancy. Communal singing releases feel-good neurochemicals like endorphins, dopamine, and serotonin. Finally, it builds feelings of social cohesion and closeness, and has been shown to bond people faster than other activities.

EVENT DONORS

stcu
Harvard Park
Rocket Bakery

Print and Color!