KRWG-TV is the PBS station located in Las Cruces, New Mexico. We are licensed by New Mexico State University and our offices are located on NMSU’s Las Cruces campus. KRWG-TV is proud to be the only television station in southern New Mexico. We also provide unique services in the El Paso, Texas/Las Cruces, New Mexico service area.

Through meetings with citizens and community leaders, partnerships with area newspapers and other organizations, and extensive production of news and public affairs programming, the staff of KRWG-TV has determined the following issues are of primary importance to our coverage area:

Health/Welfare/Safety – While the over-all crime rate is no higher than the national average, poverty and a higher than average teenage population contribute to a gang and crime problem. Poverty also results in health and welfare issues including an above average social services caseload and a high number of welfare cases handled by the local hospital.

Culture – The mix of Hispanic/Native American/ and Anglo cultures provide many positive attributes to life in southern New Mexico. Cultural and historical understanding is of great importance.

Business - With an above-average unemployment rate and a below-average income level, the status of the business/agricultural community in southern New Mexico is crucial. Concern over the constant issue of defense spending at the federal level is ongoing in this area due to the presence of several military and NASA installations. Dona Ana County is also actively seeking new businesses and a strong infrastructure exists near the Santa Teresa Border Crossing to boost border trade.

Politics/Public Affairs – Southern New Mexico and the United States have a wide variety of contentious political issues that are of constant interest to the citizens of the involved communities.

Education – With a constantly growing population of children, many of whom use Spanish as their primary language, the school systems in the KRWG-TV viewing area are constantly trying to provide facilities and teachers to meet this growing school age population with limited funds. New Mexico is one of the poorest per-capita states in the nation, which results in a chronic shortage of funds for local education.

Water/Environment – KRWG-TV is located in a desert with two major sources of water: the Rio Grande River and an aquifer that supplies drinking water to Las Cruces and surrounding areas in the Mesilla Valley. Water is the lifeblood of the region and conflicts are escalating over the requirements of a growing urban population and agriculture.

Energy Paradox with Steven Gundry, MD
Saturday, 11/26 @ 330pm & Sunday, 12/4 @ 9am (90min)
"Why am I so tired all the time?" It's the question on the minds of millions of Americans. In fact, we are struggling with an epidemic of low energy, something no amount of coffee, energy drinks or prescription drugs can fix. But now, in this program, Dr. Steven Gundry, the mega-New York Times bestselling author of The Plant Paradox and The Longevity Paradox, reveals the shocking source of our exhaustion and the simple steps we can take to reclaim our youthful energy in this program. It's called The Energy Paradox. Based on Dr. Gundry's two decades of experience with his patients and from the latest scientific research, The Energy Paradox program unveils a step-by-step approach for tackling constant fatigue with nothing more than simple dietary and lifestyle changes (you'll be amazed by how easy they are!) Dr. Gundry also exposes the sources of our low energy levels and challenges the conventional wisdom that's making this "energy crisis" worse. In The Energy Paradox program, Dr. Gundry shares ground-breaking, life-changing information to help you reclaim your energy to be your active, vibrant best - at any age. Dr Gundry will also reveal the revolutionary biotic that will help you more than probiotics, as well as the BEST practices for promoting more energy in your life - while exposing the worst. Dr. Steven Gundry was the professor and chairman of cardiothoracic surgery at Loma Linda University School of Medicine. In 2000, Dr. Gundry started his own practice dedicated to using diet to reverse and prevent chronic illness. Since then, Dr. Gundry has shown tens of thousands of his patients how dietary and lifestyle changes can dramatically reverse health problems and restore energy levels that traditional medicine could not solve. He's also the host of the Dr Gundry Podcast and author of the New York Times bestsellers "The Plant Paradox", "The Longevity Paradox", "The Plant Paradox Cookbook", and more.

Rubi: A DACA Dreamer in Trump’s America
Thursday, 10/13 @ 730pm, Friday, 10/14 @ 130am, Saturday, 10/15 @ 530pm, Sunday, 10/16 @ 1130am & Tuesday, 11/8 @ 9pm (30min)
Rubi: A DACA Dreamer in Trump's America is a documentary that tells the story of how the current immigration crisis in the United States has imperiled the lives and aspirations of more than 800,000 young adults now registered under DACA. The film documents the nation's most recent resurgence of anti-immigration bigotry and violence through the experiences of a young woman, Rubi, who must navigate the costs associated with failed immigration policies and the dehumanization of bodies reduced to exchangeable commodities under neoliberal economic flows. Rubi is an intimate true-life portrait of 22-year old Rubi, an undocumented Mexican-American DACA Dreamer. In revealing interviews filmed over three years, Rubi and her parents (also undocumented) recount their family's harrowing immigration story and detail why they came to the United States with their then-7 year old daughter.

Five Dreamers
Saturday, 10/8 @ 530pm & Sunday, 10/9 @ 1130am (30min)
FIVE DREAMERS chronicle the past and present lives of five young adults from the Denver community who came to the U.S. at early age from countries around the world and are participants in the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program known as D.A.C.A. In 2012, D.A.C.A. was created by President Obama to protect the rights of eligible immigrant children who had arrived in the United States. In 2017, President Trump rescinded that protection. Five Dreamers is a half-hour film created to assist in understanding the unique situation our communities and these young people find themselves in.

Saturday, 11/26 @ 5pm, Sunday 11/27 @ 1030am, Saturday, 12/3 @ 830am, Sunday, 12/4 @ 12pm & Sunday, 12/25 @ 930am (90min)

Master Your Future presenter Rajiv Nagaich is on a mission. His goal is to change the way Americans think about, plan for, and navigate through retirement. Retirement is a bigger problem than you might think. Ten thousand people turn 65 every day, either already retired or with retirement on their minds. Retirement may start out as an exciting time of adventure. But as you get older, that excitement will probably turn into anxiety—and for good reason.

Maybe you are feeling the trifecta of retirement fears: fear of ending up in an institution, fear of becoming a burden, and fear of running out of money. If you are, welcome to the club! These are the biggest retirement concerns today's retirees face, whether rich, poor, or in between. And the problem is even worse for families with small to medium size estates.

In Master Your Future, Rajiv Nagaich explains the grim reality most retirees face. The average plan for retirement is mostly about creating a financial nest egg. But that's only part of the reality. Once you retire, you might live for decades more. Rajiv Nagaich will show you why retirement plan failure is so common. He will also show you what you can do to make sure that your story has a different—and better-ending. Effective retirement planning requires more than just legal planning or financial planning.? effective retirement plan should be multi-disciplinary, involving coordinated plans for health, housing, legal and family issues, in addition to financial matters. Rajiv Nagaich is an elder law attorney, author, radio personality, retirement planning expert, and the architect of LifePlanning, a comprehensive, coordinated, and multi-disciplinary approach to retirement planning. Since launching AgingOptions in 2006, Rajiv Nagaich has transformed the way millions of people think about, plan for, and experience retirement.

Collagen Diet with Dr. Josh Axe
Saturday, 12/31 @ 930am (90min)
Dr. Josh Axe is a doctor of natural medicine, a doctor of chiropractic and a clinical nutritionist with a passion for helping people get well using food as medicine. He operates one of the world's largest natural health websites: www.DrAxe.com. He has hosted two previous fundraising programs based on his bestselling books Eat Dirt and Keto Diet. In The Collagen Diet, Dr. Axe highlights the health benefits of collagen, a protein made in the body but which diminishes with age. Because it's also absent from the typical western diet, many Americans suffer with the consequences of a collagen deficit: achy joints, sagging skin and inflammation, a precursor to chronic disease. Dr. Axe shows viewers how to get more collagen in their diets and effective ways to support the body's ability to make it. Collagen is the most abundant protein in the body. Beyond skin it's found in nails, bone, cartilage, tendons, muscles, the gut lining, the discs that cushion vertebrae, blood vessels, and the outer layer of organs. Because it's woven into so many tissues, it plays a vital role in countless aspects of health. In fact, new research is showing that collagen may help regenerate new tissue, aid in gut repair, boost the immune system, and even increase lifespan.

This week on New Mexico in Focus, Gene and the Line Opinion Panel react to the news that Sen. Daniel Ivey-Soto has been removed from one of his committee assignments in the wake of several sexual harassment accusations. Then, our panelists take a close look at the Secretary of State’s race where one candidate admits she made a mistake when offering a chance to win a firearm in exchange for campaign donations. Finally, the panel addresses an update in state compliance with the Yazzie Martinez Lawsuit.
Senior Producer Lou DiVizio sits down with three people entrenched in education in our state. The leader of an influential early childhood advocacy group, a teacher, and the lead plaintiff in the Yazzie Martinez Lawsuit all give their thoughts on Constitutional Amendment 1.
Gene Grant speaks with several leaders at the Black Voters Collaborative about their efforts boosting turnout in communities of color. Those leaders explain exactly how influential the African American vote can be here in New Mexico.

This week on New Mexico in Focus, Gene Grant and the Line Opinion Panel break down the recent debate for governor between Republican Nominee Mark Ronchetti and Democratic incumbent Michelle Lujan Grisham. The panel dissects the performances of both candidates and considers the key issues that are still developing ahead of election day. The panel also explores a new report from the Santa Fe New Mexican showing remarkable turnover rates for public school superintendents around New Mexico. The panelists end with a discussion about a new study from the University of New Mexico that quantifies the economic impact of the military in the state. Gene asks if environmental costs should have been factored into the data.

New Mexico in Focus Correspondent Gwyneth Doland sits down with the co-author of a new report assessing the effectiveness of our state’s recent redistricting process. As Dr. Gabriel Sanchez explains, the Citizens Redistricting Commission made some significant strides towards proper representation for all New Mexicans, but it hasn’t been perfect. Our Land Senior Producer Laura Paskus catches up with a tribal leader from the Pueblo of Acoma to ask about the historical significance of Chaco Canyon, and the ongoing effort to stop new extraction projects from starting in the area.

Senior Producer Lou DiVizio talks with a journalist and filmmaker who spent the last several months in Ukraine covering the Russian invasion. Patrick Hilsman has covered military conflicts for years and has family here in New Mexico. He shares the horrors, and the triumphs he witnessed during his time covering the war in Ukraine.

This week on New Mexico in Focus, the Line Opinion Panel dives into our state’s three congressional races as candidates navigate new district lines in the final weeks of the campaign. The new districts have made those races more competitive, and they’re creating some interesting challenges for all three incumbents. Plus, Gene and the Panel explore the potential future of colonialist monuments in the city of Santa Fe after protests on Indigenous People’s Day.

Senior Producer Lou DiVizio talks to representatives from two organizations who are part of a new initiative meant to encourage candidates, political parties, and voters to uphold five core doctrines of democratic elections – integrity, nonviolence, security, oversight, and the peaceful transfer of power.

A New Mexico State Senator explains his opposition towards Constitutional Amendment 1, which would increase the amount of accessible funding for early childhood and public education. Senator Bill Sharer says taking more money out of the Permanent Education Fund now would be ineffective, and irresponsible.
Two New Mexico residents who’ve dedicated their careers to preventing domestic violence share their expertise and insights on controlling that kind of abuse. They also discuss the impact of the recently reinstated Violence Against Women Act, and how mental health treatment can help prevent domestic violence.

Our Land Senior Producer Laura Paskus explores the legalities of water rights along New Mexico’s many rivers, including the Rio Grande. She speaks with Paul Tashjian, director of freshwater conservation for Audubon Southwest about the current system used to assign water rights, and the reality that the river itself has no rights to the water that maintains its ecosystem.

This week on New Mexico in Focus, correspondent Antonia Gonzales begins the show’s series of candidate conversations featuring leading contenders for Governor, Congress, and Navajo Nation President. Current Navajo President Jonathan Nez tells Antonia that his leadership can help carry his tribe through the end of the pandemic. But challenger Dr. Buu Nygren says it’s past time to open the tribe back up and to move on from the crisis.

Gene Grant and the Line Opinion Panel talk through new developments in the race for Attorney General. Pre-trial detention has become a major issue in the contest. The panel debates the positions of each candidate.

Our Land Senior Producer Laura Paskus continues her series of discussions on the future of the greater Chaco landscape. She speaks with Mario Atencio, whose family lives on the eastern Navajo Nation, where oil and gas development have affected the land and water. Atencio is the Greater Chaco Energy Organizer with Diné CARE, or Diné Citizens Against Ruining Our Environment, and he talks about why increased protections for communities and landscapes are so important.

Senior Producer Lou DiVizio sits down with New Mexico Secretary of Indian Affairs Lynn Trujillo to talk about the state’s inaugural ‘Missing in New Mexico Day.’ It’s just one of several steps the state is taking after a formal response plan was drafted to address the crisis of missing indigenous people.

Anthony Moreno from our Las Cruces sister station, KRWG, sits down with Governor Michelle Lujan Grisham to talk about major issues on the minds of New Mexicans. Correspondent Gwyneth Doland also speaks with the Democratic challenger in District 2, Gabe Vasquez and asks what he would bring to Congress if chosen to represent New Mexico.

Gene Grant and the Line Opinion Panel analyze the latest polling data in key statewide races. And Gene asks the panel if a last-minute campaign tactic could help either candidate for Governor claim any undecided voters. Plus, the panel takes a close look at our state’s three congressional races and considers which incumbent faces the highest risk of losing their seat in Washington.

This week on New Mexico in Focus, Gene Grant hosts the Line Opinion Panel live in studio to talk about the criticism Republican leadership is facing after a disappointing midterm election. Does the blame fall on the party chairman, or was the performance of New Mexico candidates a symptom of a larger national trend? Gene and the panel also discuss record-breaking cannabis sales as a new growing facility could be coming to Santa Fe County. Plus, the panelists talk through an array of new health concerns as winter approaches.

Our Land Senior Producer Laura Paskus speaks with an attorney from the Elephant Butte Irrigation District about a proposed settlement in a major water lawsuit. If approved, it could have serious implications for water distribution in Colorado, Texas and New Mexico.

Gene dives into the debate surrounding the New Mexico rental market in a conversation with the executive director of the Apartment Association of New Mexico.

Alan LaSeck explains his group’s position on rent stabilization as a state lawmaker introduces a bill to repeal our state’s ban on the practice.

This week on New Mexico in Focus, Our Land Senior Producer Laura Paskus sits down with Governor Michelle Lujan Grisham for an exclusive interview covering the critical environmental concerns impacting New Mexico. In collaboration with New Mexico In Depth, Gene Grant hosts a roundtable discussion about the impacts of alcohol in our state. Journalist Ted Alcorn explains his findings in a 7-part series which focuses on our death rate that currently leads the U.S., drunk driving, alcohol’s impact on violent crime, myths when it comes to who carries the burden of this problem, failings in our state’s public policy, and the overarching issue of addiction and how it’s treated. Former U.S. Senator sits down with Senior Producer Lou DiVizio to talk about his new book, ‘Breakdown: Lessons for a Congress in Crisis.’ Bingaman gives insight on the difficulties ahead for what will be a divided congress in 2023. Plus, he gives some suggestions on how lawmakers could help tamp down the partisan rhetoric that seems to be contributing to growing polarization. Senior Producer Lou DiVizio also talks with a journalist and filmmaker who spent the last several months in Ukraine covering the Russian invasion. Patrick Hilsman has covered military conflicts for years and has family here in New Mexico. He shares the horrors, and the triumphs he witnessed during his time covering the war in Ukraine.

BUSINESS
Five Dreamers
Saturday, 10/8 @ 530pm & Sunday, 10/9 @ 1130am (30min)
FIVE DREAMERS chronicle the past and present lives of five young adults from the Denver community who came to the U.S. at early age from countries around the world and are participants in the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program known as
D.A.C.A. In 2012, D.A.C.A. was created by President Obama to protect the rights of eligible immigrant children who had arrived in the United States. In 2017, President Trump rescinded that protection. Five Dreamers is a half-hour film created to assist in understanding the unique situation our communities and these young people find themselves in.

Thursday, 10/13 @ 730pm, Friday, 10/14 @ 130am, Saturday, 10/15 @ 530pm, Sunday, 10/16 @ 1130am & Tuesday, 11/8 @ 9pm (30min)

Rubi: A DACA Dreamer in Trump’s America is a documentary that tells the story of how the current immigration crisis in the United States has imperiled the lives and aspirations of more than 800,000 young adults now registered under DACA. The film documents the nation's most recent resurgence of anti-immigration bigotry and violence through the experiences of a young woman, Rubi, who must navigate the costs associated with failed immigration policies and the dehumanization of bodies reduced to exchangeable commodities under neoliberal economic flows. Rubi is an intimate true-life portrait of 22-year old Rubi, an undocumented Mexican-American DACA Dreamer. In revealing interviews filmed over three years, Rubi and her parents (also undocumented) recount their family's harrowing immigration story and detail why they came to the United States with their then-7 year old daughter.

Rubi: A DACA Dreamer in Trump's America
Thursday, 10/13 @ 730pm, Friday, 10/14 @ 130am, Saturday, 10/15 @ 530pm, Sunday, 10/16 @ 1130am & Tuesday, 11/8 @ 9pm (30min)
Rubi: A DACA Dreamer in Trump's America is a documentary that tells the story of how the current immigration crisis in the United States has imperiled the lives and aspirations of more than 800,000 young adults now registered under DACA. The film documents the nation's most recent resurgence of anti-immigration bigotry and violence through the experiences of a young woman, Rubi, who must navigate the costs associated with failed immigration policies and the dehumanization of bodies reduced to exchangeable commodities under neoliberal economic flows. Rubi is an intimate true-life portrait of 22-year old Rubi, an undocumented Mexican-American DACA Dreamer. In revealing interviews filmed over three years, Rubi and her parents (also undocumented) recount their family's harrowing immigration story and detail why they came to the United States with their then-7 year old daughter.

Five Dreamers
Saturday, 10/8 @ 530pm & Sunday, 10/9 @ 1130am (30min)
FIVE DREAMERS chronicle the past and present lives of five young adults from the Denver community who came to the U.S. at early age from countries around the world and are participants in the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program known as D.A.C.A. In 2012, D.A.C.A. was created by President Obama to protect the rights of eligible immigrant children who had arrived in the United States. In 2017, President Trump rescinded that protection. Five Dreamers is a half-hour film created to assist in understanding the unique situation our communities and these young people find themselves in.

Esta Es Mi Casa-This is My Home
Thursday, 10/20 @ 730pm, Friday, 10/21 @ 130am, Saturday, 10/22 @ 530pm & Sunday, 10/23 @ 1130am (30min)
Starting in the 1930s and continuing for decades, farmers in the Red River Valley of North Dakota and Minnesota depended on Hispanic field workers-laborers from Texas and Mexico. Now, one and two generations later, this community has contributed its own cultural stamp to the region's art, cuisine, diversity, and economy.

This week on New Mexico in Focus, Gene Grant and the Line Opinion Panel break down the recent debate for governor between Republican Nominee Mark Ronchetti and Democratic incumbent Michelle Lujan Grisham. The panel dissects the performances of both candidates and considers the key issues that are still developing ahead of election day. The panel also explores a new report from the Santa Fe New Mexican showing remarkable turnover rates for public school superintendents around New Mexico. The panelists end with a discussion about a new study from the University of New Mexico that quantifies the economic impact of the military in the state. Gene asks if environmental costs should have been factored into the data.

New Mexico in Focus Correspondent Gwyneth Doland sits down with the co-author of a new report assessing the effectiveness of our state’s recent redistricting process. As Dr. Gabriel Sanchez explains, the Citizens Redistricting Commission made some significant strides towards proper representation for all New Mexicans, but it hasn’t been perfect.

Our Land Senior Producer Laura Paskus catches up with a tribal leader from the Pueblo of Acoma to ask about the historical significance of Chaco Canyon, and the ongoing effort to stop new extraction projects from starting in the area.

Senior Producer Lou DiVizio talks with a journalist and filmmaker who spent the last several months in Ukraine covering the Russian invasion. Patrick Hilsman has covered military conflicts for years and has family here in New Mexico. He shares the horrors, and the triumphs he witnessed during his time covering the war in Ukraine.

This week on New Mexico in Focus, the Line Opinion Panel dives into our state’s three congressional races as candidates navigate new district lines in the final weeks of the campaign. The new districts have made those races more competitive, and they’re creating some interesting challenges for all three incumbents. Plus, Gene and the Panel explore the potential future of colonialist monuments in the city of Santa Fe after protests on Indigenous People’s Day.
Senior Producer Lou DiVizio talks to representatives from two organizations who are part of a new initiative meant to encourage candidates, political parties, and voters to uphold five core doctrines of democratic elections – integrity, nonviolence, security, oversight, and the peaceful transfer of power.
A New Mexico State Senator explains his opposition towards Constitutional Amendment 1, which would increase the amount of accessible funding for early childhood and public education. Senator Bill Sharer says taking more money out of the Permanent Education Fund now would be ineffective, and irresponsible.
Two New Mexico residents who’ve dedicated their careers to preventing domestic violence share their expertise and insights on controlling that kind of abuse. They also discuss the impact of the recently reinstated Violence Against Women Act, and how mental health treatment can help prevent domestic violence.
Our Land Senior Producer Laura Paskus explores the legalities of water rights along New Mexico’s many rivers, including the Rio Grande. She speaks with Paul Tashjian, director of freshwater conservation for Audubon Southwest about the current system used to assign water rights, and the reality that the river itself has no rights to the water that maintains its ecosystem.

This week on New Mexico in Focus, correspondent Antonia Gonzales begins the show’s series of candidate conversations featuring leading contenders for Governor, Congress, and Navajo Nation President. Current Navajo President Jonathan Nez tells Antonia that his leadership can help carry his tribe through the end of the pandemic. But challenger Dr. Buu Nygren says it’s past time to open the tribe back up and to move on from the crisis.

Gene Grant and the Line Opinion Panel talk through new developments in the race for Attorney General. Pre-trial detention has become a major issue in the contest. The panel debates the positions of each candidate.

Our Land Senior Producer Laura Paskus continues her series of discussions on the future of the greater Chaco landscape. She speaks with Mario Atencio, whose family lives on the eastern Navajo Nation, where oil and gas development have affected the land and water. Atencio is the Greater Chaco Energy Organizer with Diné CARE. or Diné Citizens Against Ruining Our Environment, and he talks about why increased protections for communities and landscapes are so important. Senior Producer Lou DiVizio sits down with New Mexico Secretary of Indian Affairs Lynn Trujillo to talk about the state’s inaugural ‘Missing in New Mexico Day.’ It’s just one of several steps the state is taking after a formal response plan was drafted to address the crisis of missing indigenous people.

Does the blame fall on the party chairman, or was the performance of New Mexico candidates a symptom of a larger national trend? Gene and the panel also discuss record-breaking cannabis sales as a new growing facility could be coming to Santa Fe County. Plus, the panelists talk through an array of new health concerns as winter approaches.

Our Land Senior Producer Laura Paskus speaks with an attorney from the Elephant Butte Irrigation District about a proposed settlement in a major water lawsuit. If approved, it could have serious implications for water distribution in Colorado, Texas and New Mexico.

Gene dives into the debate surrounding the New Mexico rental market in a conversation with the executive director of the Apartment Association of New Mexico. Alan LaSeck explains his group’s position on rent stabilization as a state lawmaker introduces a bill to repeal our state’s ban on the practice.

This week on New Mexico in Focus, Our Land Senior Producer Laura Paskus sits down with Governor Michelle Lujan Grisham for an exclusive interview covering the critical environmental concerns impacting New Mexico.

In collaboration with New Mexico In Depth, Gene Grant hosts a roundtable discussion about the impacts of alcohol in our state. Journalist Ted Alcorn explains his findings in a 7-part series which focuses our death rate that currently leads the U.S., drunk driving, alcohol’s impact on violent crime, myths when it comes to who carries the burden of this problem, failings in our state’s public policy, and the overarching issue of addiction and how it’s treated.

Former U.S. Senator sits down with Senior Producer Lou DiVizio to talk about his new book, ‘Breakdown: Lessons for a Congress in Crisis.’ Bingaman gives insight on the difficulties ahead for what will be a divided congress in 2023. Plus, he gives some suggestions on how lawmakers could help tamp down the partisan rhetoric that seems to be contributing to growing polarization.

Senior Producer Lou DiVizio also talks with a journalist and filmmaker who spent the last several months in Ukraine covering the Russian invasion. Patrick Hilsman has covered military conflicts for years and has family here in New Mexico. He shares the horrors, and the triumphs he witnessed during his time covering the war in Ukraine.

Rubi: A DACA Dreamer in Trump’s America
Thursday, 10/13 @ 730pm, Friday, 10/14 @ 130am, Saturday, 10/15 @ 530pm, Sunday, 10/16 @ 1130am & Tuesday, 11/8 @ 9pm (30min)

Rubi: A DACA Dreamer in Trump's America is a documentary that tells the story of how the current immigration crisis in the United States has imperiled the lives and aspirations of more than 800,000 young adults now registered under DACA. The film documents the nation's most recent resurgence of anti-immigration bigotry and violence through the experiences of a young woman, Rubi, who must navigate the costs associated with failed immigration policies and the dehumanization of bodies reduced to exchangeable commodities under neoliberal economic flows. Rubi is an intimate true-life portrait of 22-year old Rubi, an undocumented Mexican-American DACA Dreamer. In revealing interviews filmed over three years, Rubi and her parents (also undocumented) recount their family's harrowing immigration story and detail why they came to the United States with their then-7 year old daughter.

Five Dreamers
Saturday, 10/8 @ 530pm & Sunday, 10/9 @ 1130am (30min)
FIVE DREAMERS chronicle the past and present lives of five young adults from the Denver community who came to the U.S. at early age from countries around the world and are participants in the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program known as D.A.C.A. In 2012, D.A.C.A. was created by President Obama to protect the rights of eligible immigrant children who had arrived in the United States. In 2017, President Trump rescinded that protection. Five Dreamers is a half-hour film created to assist in understanding the unique situation our communities and these young people find themselves in.

Esta Es Mi Casa-This is My Home

Starting in the 1930s and continuing for decades, farmers in the Red River Valley of North Dakota and Minnesota depended on Hispanic field workers-laborers from Texas and Mexico. Now, one and two generations later, this community has contributed its own cultural stamp to the region's art, cuisine, diversity, and economy.

Unrepresented
_Thursday, 10/27 @ 7pm, Friday, 10/28 @ 1am, Saturday, 10/29 @ 5pm & Sunday, 10/30 @ 11am (30min)_
UnRepresented is an award-winning documentary that reveals the driving forces behind the cycle of corruption in Congress. The film explores how special interests bankroll political campaigns and relentlessly lobby to rig the system in their favor, all while following the letter of the law. Featuring leaders and luminaries, the film also highlights powerful reform efforts gaining traction to restore a government that better serves the people.

Title: Cyberchase: Math rules in the animated adventure series CYBERCHASE. CYBERCHASE energizes kids ages eight to eleven with math power. Full of cyber-mysteries with eye-popping animation and a sly comic flair, the daily series features the voices of Christopher Lloyd and Gilbert Gottfried. CYBERCHASE sends the message that math is fun - it's about problem solving and, boy, does it come in handy. When the dastardly villain Hacker (Lloyd) launches a mad mission to conquer the virtual universe, Motherboard calls upon three earth kids for help. They are Jackie, Matt and Inez - the culturally diverse heroes of CYBERCHASE - who, along with the wise-cracking cyber-bird Digit (Gottfried), travel from their real-world realm to the colorful virtual vistas of cyberspace, where they vanquish the bad guys in an all-out battle of wits. Each episode takes the kids on a thrilling adventure driven by a different math concept - from tackling time in ancient Egyptian tombs to cracking codes in creepy caves or making sense of numbers in a fractured fairy tale world.

Title: CURIOUS GEORGE - is an animated series based on the popular books by Margret and H.A. Rey. It airs daily on PBS KIDS aimed at preschool viewers (age’s three to five); the goal of the series is to inspire children to explore science, engineering, and math in the world around them. And what better guide is there for this kind of exploration than the world's most curious monkey? George lives to find new things to discover, touch, spill, and chew. Everything is new to George and worth investigating. Of course, in George's hands — all four of them — investigation often leads to unintended consequences! Throughout George's adventures, he encounters and models’ basic concepts in each of the three content areas. (To learn more, read about the educational philosophy that drives the series.) While remaining true to the look and feel of the beloved books, the daily series expands George's world to include a host of colorful new characters and locales. Each episode features two animated stories followed by short live-action segments in which real kids investigate the ideas that George introduces in the stories. The series is narrated by Emmy award-winning actor William H. Macy. The CURIOUS GEORGE series also aims to show parents and caregivers how to foster the development of science and math literacy in children. In addition to programming, the series is supported by a substantial educational outreach campaign that develops relevant materials and distributes them to librarians, teachers, community centers, and families. These materials offer activities designed to support and extend the learning objectives of the series.

Viewers are introduced to the rich history and modern-day experience of family life in the heart of the Alaskan tundra through the eyes of Molly, her parents, and her friends. Designed to help kids develop skills around informational text such as using a map and following an instruction manual, this is the first nationally distributed children's series in the U.S. to feature an Alaska Native lead character.

KRWG Airdate and Time: M-F at 930am except 10/31, 12/13 & 12/23 (30min)

Title: DANIEL TIGER'S NEIGHBORHOOD

Daniel Tiger’s Neighborhood is a new, beautifully-textured animated series from PBS KIDS for preschoolers aged 2-4, based on the legacy of Fred Rogers. Its cast are the children of his original and much-loved Neighborhood of Make-Believe characters. A young Daniel Tiger is joined by his friends’ O the Owl, Katerina Kittycat, Prince Wednesday and Miss Elaina. Together, through imagination, creativity and music they learn the key social skills necessary for school and for life.

Every Daniel Tiger’s Neighborhood episode offers a parenting strategy. The clip below is from an episode about first experiences—a visit to the doctor and a ‘look around’ visit to school. The parenting strategy being modeled shows that by talking to children in advance about what to expect, parents can ease any apprehension they may be feeling. As in all Daniel stories, the strategy is offered as a musical ‘jingle’ – in this case “When we do something new, let’s talk about what we’ll do!”

Building on the landmark PBS series Mister Rogers’ Neighborhood, Daniel Tiger’s Neighborhood is a new series for a new generation of children. Launching in fall 2012 on PBS KIDS, the series tells engaging stories about the life of a preschooler and is accompanied by cross-platform games and activities for the very youngest children, together with online resources for parents and teachers. Daniel was developed by The Fred Rogers Company, and brings together a group of today’s leading creators of children’s media and educational technology. The series tells its engaging stories using musical strategies grounded in Fred Rogers’ landmark curriculum: its songs give parents and children a concrete way to practice important school-readiness skills together.

Title: Rosie’s Rules - Rosie's Rules is an 11-minute preschool family sitcom about a little girl just beginning to learn about the fascinating, baffling, thrilling world beyond her family walls. And it doesn't always go smoothly. In her resilient quest to make sense of the world's most mystifying concepts, she often plows her way into comic chaos. It's "learning-by-doing" and she usually does it a little bit wrong before she gets it right.

KRWG Airdate and Time: M-F at 12pm except 10/28, 11/24, 11/25, 12/14, 12/19 & 12/23 (30min)
Title: DINOSAUR TRAIN - "Dinosaur Train" is an animated series for 3-to-6-year olds. The series features a curious young T-rex named Buddy who, together with his adopted Pteranodon family, takes the Dinosaur Train to meet, explore, and have adventures with all kinds of dinosaurs and prehistoric creatures.

KRWG Airdate and Time: Saturdays at 7am (30min)
Title: MISTER ROGER’S NEIGHBORHOOD – The soothing voice of Mr. Rogers continues to comfort children telling them that there will always be someone to take care of them and helping them feel good about themselves. Ages 2-5.
Title: ODD SQUAD – ODD SQUAD is a PBS KIDS live-action media property designed to help kids ages 5-8 learn math. The show focuses on two young agents, Olive and Otto, who are part of the Odd Squad, an agency whose mission is to come to the rescue whenever something unusual happens. A math concept is embedded in each of their cases, as Olive and Otto work together to problem-solve and save the day in each episode. ODD SQUAD is created by Tim McKeon (Foster's Home for Imaginary Friends, Adventure Time, The Electric Company) and Adam Peltzman (The Electric Company, The Backyardigans, Wallykazam!) and produced by Sinking Ship Entertainment and The Fred Rogers Company.

Each adventure will help young viewers make the connection between the skills that made these historical figures heroes and those same qualities within themselves, helping them discover that they, too, can change the world.

KRWG Airdate and Time: M-F at 730am except 10/20, 10/26, 10/28, 10/31, 11/21, 12/2, 12/6, 12/9, 12/16, 12/21 & 12/23 (30min)

Title: Wild Kratts - "Wild Kratts" joins the adventures of Chris and Martin Kratt as they encounter incredible wild animals, combining science education with fun and adventure as the duo travels to animal habitats around the globe. Each adventure explores an age-appropriate science concept central to an animal's life and showcases a never-before-seen wildlife moment, all wrapped up in engaging stories of adventure, mystery, rescue, and the Kratt brothers' brand of laugh-out-loud-comedy that kids love. Real-life Chris and Martin introduce each "Wild Kratts" episode with a live action segment that imagines what it would be like to experience a never-before-seen wildlife moment, and asks,
"What if...?" The Kratt brothers transition into animation and the adventure begins, bringing early-elementary school children into the secret lives of extraordinary creatures, many of which have never been animated before -- including Tiger quolls, Draco lizards, and Caracals!

This week on New Mexico in Focus, Gene and the Line Opinion Panel react to the news that Sen. Daniel Ivey-Soto has been removed from one of his committee assignments in the wake of several sexual harassment accusations. Then, our panelists take a close look at the Secretary of State’s race where one candidate admits she made a mistake when offering a chance to win a firearm in exchange for campaign donations. Finally, the panel addresses an update in state compliance with the Yazzie Martinez Lawsuit.
Senior Producer Lou DiVizio sits down with three people entrenched in education in our state. The leader of an influential early childhood advocacy group, a teacher, and the lead plaintiff in the Yazzie Martinez Lawsuit all give their thoughts on Constitutional Amendment 1. Gene Grant speaks with several leaders at the Black Voters Collaborative about their efforts boosting turnout in communities of color. Those leaders explain exactly how influential the African American vote can be here in New Mexico.

This week on New Mexico in Focus, Gene Grant and the Line Opinion Panel break down the recent debate for governor between Republican Nominee Mark Ronchetti and Democratic incumbent Michelle Lujan Grisham. The panel dissects the performances of both candidates and considers the key issues that are still developing ahead of election day. The panel also explores a new report from the Santa Fe New Mexican showing remarkable turnover rates for public school superintendents around New Mexico. The panelists end with a discussion about a new study from the University of New Mexico that quantifies the economic impact of the military in the state. Gene asks if environmental costs should have been factored into the data.
New Mexico in Focus Correspondent Gwyneth Doland sits down with the co-author of a new report assessing the effectiveness of our state’s recent redistricting process. As Dr. Gabriel Sanchez explains, the Citizens Redistricting Commission made some significant strides towards proper representation for all New Mexicans, but it hasn’t been perfect. Our Land Senior Producer Laura Paskus catches up with a tribal leader from the Pueblo of Acoma to ask about the historical significance of Chaco Canyon, and the ongoing effort to stop new extraction projects from starting in the area. Senior Producer Lou DiVizio talks with a journalist and filmmaker who spent the last several months in Ukraine covering the Russian invasion. Patrick Hilsman has covered military conflicts for years and has family here in New Mexico. He shares the horrors, and the triumphs he witnessed during his time covering the war in Ukraine.

This week on New Mexico in Focus, the Line Opinion Panel dives into our state’s three congressional races as candidates navigate new district lines in the final weeks of the campaign. The new districts have made those races more competitive, and they’re creating some interesting challenges for all three incumbents. Plus, Gene and the Panel explore the potential future of colonialist monuments in the city of Santa Fe after protests on Indigenous People’s Day.

Senior Producer Lou DiVizio talks to representatives from two organizations who are part of a new initiative meant to encourage candidates, political parties, and voters to uphold five core doctrines of democratic elections – integrity, nonviolence, security, oversight, and the peaceful transfer of power.

A New Mexico State Senator explains his opposition towards Constitutional Amendment 1, which would increase the amount of accessible funding for early childhood and public education. Senator Bill Sharer says taking more money out of the Permanent Education Fund now would be ineffective, and irresponsible.

Two New Mexico residents who’ve dedicated their careers to preventing domestic violence share their expertise and insights on controlling that kind of abuse. They also discuss the impact of the recently reinstated Violence Against Women Act, and how mental health treatment can help prevent domestic violence.

Our Land Senior Producer Laura Paskus explores the legalities of water rights along New Mexico’s many rivers, including the Rio Grande. She speaks with Paul Tashjian, director of freshwater conservation for Audubon Southwest about the current system used to assign water rights, and the reality that the river itself has no rights to the water that maintains its ecosystem.

This week on New Mexico in Focus, correspondent Antonia Gonzales begins the show’s series of candidate conversations featuring leading contenders for Governor, Congress, and Navajo Nation President. Current Navajo President Jonathan Nez tells Antonia that his leadership can help carry his tribe through the end of the pandemic. But challenger Dr. Buu Nygren says it’s past time to open the tribe back up and to move on from the crisis.

Gene Grant and the Line Opinion Panel talk through new developments in the race for Attorney General. Pre-trial detention has become a major issue in the contest. The panel debates the positions of each candidate.

Our Land Senior Producer Laura Paskus continues her series of discussions on the future of the greater Chaco landscape. She speaks with Mario Atencio, whose family lives on the eastern Navajo Nation, where oil and gas development have affected the land and water. Atencio is the Greater Chaco Energy Organizer with Diné CARE, or Diné Citizens Against Ruining Our Environment, and he talks about why increased protections for communities and landscapes are so important.

Senior Producer Lou DiVizio sits down with New Mexico Secretary of Indian Affairs Lynn Trujillo to talk about the state’s inaugural ‘Missing in New Mexico Day.’ It’s just one of several steps the state is taking after a formal response plan was drafted to address the crisis of missing indigenous people.

Does the blame fall on the party chairman, or was the performance of New Mexico candidates a symptom of a larger national trend? Gene and the panel also discuss record-breaking cannabis sales as a new growing facility could be coming to Santa Fe County. Plus, the panelists talk through an array of new health concerns as winter approaches.

Our Land Senior Producer Laura Paskus speaks with an attorney from the Elephant Butte Irrigation District about a proposed settlement in a major water lawsuit. If approved, it could have serious implications for water distribution in Colorado, Texas and New Mexico.

Gene dives into the debate surrounding the New Mexico rental market in a conversation with the executive director of the Apartment Association of New Mexico.

Alan LaSeck explains his group’s position on rent stabilization as a state lawmaker introduces a bill to repeal our state’s ban on the practice.

This week on New Mexico in Focus, Our Land Senior Producer Laura Paskus sits down with Governor Michelle Lujan Grisham for an exclusive interview covering the critical environmental concerns impacting New Mexico.
In collaboration with New Mexico In Depth, Gene Grant hosts a roundtable discussion about the impacts of alcohol in our state. Journalist Ted Alcorn explains his findings in a 7-part series which focuses our death rate that currently leads the U.S., drunk driving, alcohol’s impact on violent crime, myths when it comes to who carries the burden of this problem, failings in our state’s public policy, and the overarching issue of addiction and how it’s treated.

Former U.S. Senator sits down with Senior Producer Lou DiVizio to talk about his new book, ‘Breakdown: Lessons for a Congress in Crisis.’ Bingaman gives insight on the difficulties ahead for what will be a divided congress in 2023. Plus, he gives some suggestions on how lawmakers could help tamp down the partisan rhetoric that seems to be contributing to growing polarization.

Senior Producer Lou DiVizio also talks with a journalist and filmmaker who spent the last several months in Ukraine covering the Russian invasion. Patrick Hilsman has covered military conflicts for years and has family here in New Mexico. He shares the horrors, and the triumphs he witnessed during his time covering the war in Ukraine.

Energy Switch

Sundays at 3pm beginning 10/23 except 11/27, 12/4 & 12/25 (30min)

Energy and climate are intertwined, two of the most important topics in the world today. Yet viewers know very little about them. This show aims to change that. ‘Energy Switch’ brings together two renowned experts from government, NGOs, academia and industry, with differing perspectives on important energy and climate topics, such as: Could solar and wind power our future? Or could hydrogen be the dominant energy source? Should we have more or less nuclear power? How should we respond to climate change? What policies most effectively reduce emissions? How could we pay for them? These lively discussions and more are moderated by renowned energy scientist and communicator Dr. Scott Tinker. The show is produced, written and directed by Emmy-winning documentary filmmaker Harry Lynch, creator of the celebrated PBS series 'Great Performances: Now Hear This' and 'Stories of the Mind.'

Rubi: A DACA Dreamer in Trump’s America

Thursday, 10/13 @ 730pm, Friday, 10/14 @ 130am, Saturday, 10/15 @ 530pm, Sunday, 10/16 @ 1130am & Tuesday, 11/8 @ 9pm (30min)

Rubi: A DACA Dreamer in Trump's America is a documentary that tells the story of how the current immigration crisis in the United States has imperiled the lives and aspirations of more than 800,000 young adults now registered under DACA. The film documents the nation's most recent resurgence of anti-immigration bigotry and violence through the experiences of a young woman, Rubi, who must navigate the costs associated with failed immigration policies and the dehumanization of bodies reduced to exchangeable commodities under neoliberal economic flows. Rubi is an intimate true-life portrait of 22-year old Rubi, an undocumented Mexican-American DACA Dreamer. In revealing interviews filmed over three years, Rubi and her parents (also undocumented) recount their family's harrowing immigration story and detail why they came to the United States with their then-7 year old daughter.

Five Dreamers

Saturday, 10/8 @ 530pm & Sunday, 10/9 @ 1130am (30min)
FIVE DREAMERS chronicle the past and present lives of five young adults from the Denver community who came to the U.S. at early age from countries around the world and are participants in the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program known as D.A.C.A. In 2012, D.A.C.A. was created by President Obama to protect the rights of eligible immigrant children who had arrived in the United States. In 2017, President Trump rescinded that protection. Five Dreamers is a half-hour film created to assist in understanding the unique situation our communities and these young people find themselves in.

Esta Es Mi Casa—This Is My Home
Thursday, 10/20 @ 7:30pm, Friday, 10/21 @ 1:30am, Saturday, 10/22 @ 5:30pm & Sunday, 10/23 @ 11:30am (30min)
Starting in the 1930s and continuing for decades, farmers in the Red River Valley of North Dakota and Minnesota depended on Hispanic field workers—laborers from Texas and Mexico. Now, one and two generations later, this community has contributed its own cultural stamp to the region's art, cuisine, diversity, and economy.

UnRepresented
Thursday, 10/27 @ 7pm, Friday, 10/28 @ 1am, Saturday, 10/29 @ 5pm & Sunday, 10/30 @ 11am (30min)
UnRepresented is an award-winning documentary that reveals the driving forces behind the cycle of corruption in Congress. The film explores how special interests bankroll political campaigns and relentlessly lobby to rig the system in their favor, all while following the letter of the law. Featuring leaders and luminaries, the film also highlights powerful reform efforts gaining traction to restore a government that better serves the people.

Frontline: Putin’s Attack on Ukraine: Documenting War Crimes

Frontline: Putin's War at Home
Tuesday, 11/1 @ 9pm & Wednesday, 11/2 @ 3am (60min)
Defiant Russians push back against Putin's crackdown on critics of the war in Ukraine. Facing arrest and imprisonment, the inside stories of activists and journalists refusing to stay silent and protesting the Kremlin's war effort.

America’s Heartland
Saturdays at 6pm except 11/26, 12/3, 12/24 & 12/31 (60min)
America's Heartland celebrates the men and women across who grow the country's crops, raise its livestock, tend its nurseries and prepare its food. America's Heartland taps into the national fascination with food and curiosity about unfamiliar places and ways of life, while also exploring the American values of family, hard work and the spirit of independence. The series, produced entirely on location, portrays the worlds of agriculture, horticulture and aquaculture complete with fascinating stories, compelling characters, innovative ideas and enticing travel destinations.

NEWS 22
Tuesday-Thursday at 6:30pm except 11/8, 11/22-11/24, ended 12/1 (30min)
Student produced nightly news show for Southern New Mexico and West Texas.
Through meetings with local community leaders, review of area newspapers and other publications, and production of daily newscasts (Monday-Friday), the staff of KRWG-FM/KRXG-FM has determined that the following issues are of primary importance to the citizens within our coverage area:

1. Arts, Entertainment, and Culture – The mix of Hispanic/Native American/ and Anglo cultures provide many positive attributes to life in southern New Mexico. However, this same mix results in an on-going undercurrent of conflict among the cultures. Cultural and historical understanding is of on-going importance in this area. The area includes a diverse mix of arts and entertainment, including local musicians and performance venues and efforts to build a film industry.

2. Business, Economic Development, Environment - With an above-average unemployment rate and a below-average income level, the status of the business/agricultural community in southern New Mexico is an important issue. Concern over the constant issue of defense spending at the federal level is ongoing in this area due to the presence of several military and NASA installations. Dona Ana County is also actively seeking new businesses and a strong infrastructure exists near the Santa Teresa Border Crossing, which is also a source of news and related issues. Environmental concerns are often at odds with economic development pressures.

3. Local Public Affairs and Education– Southern New Mexico has very intensive governance and political issues that are of constant interest to the citizens of the involved communities, which include a variety of elected and appointed officials. The area is also making efforts to improve education and has a variety of elected school boards.

Stories placed in these three main categories are broadcast on local newscasts each weekday (Monday-Friday) at 645, 745, 845, 1644, 1744, and 1844.

Story descriptions and broadcast time(s) are listed on the upcoming pages by topic area.

2. Business, Economic Development and Environment - With an above-average unemployment rate and a below-average income level, the status of the business/agricultural community in southern New Mexico is an important issue. Concern over the constant issue of defense spending at the federal level is ongoing in this area due to the presence of several military and NASA installations. Dona Ana County is also actively seeking new businesses and a strong infrastructure exists near the Santa Teresa Border Crossing, which is also a source of news and related issues. Environmental concerns are often at odds with economic development pressures.
