ON THE COVER

BIG CATS 24/7 SEASON 2

Wednesday, September 10 @ 7 p.m.

Season two returns to Botswana's Okavango Delta, following lions, leopards, and cheetahs over five dramatic months. Tune in Wednesdays at 7 p.m. on Alaska Public Media TV beginning September 10 or stream it on PBS.org with AK Passport following the broadcast premiere.

NIXON: AMERICAN EXPERIENCE

Tuesday, September 2 @ 7 p.m.

This landmark documentary explores the rise, presidency, and fall of Richard Nixon, capturing the complexity of a leader who achieved groundbreaking domestic reforms and historic foreign policy breakthroughs, yet whose deep flaws, secrecy, and abuse of power led to scandal, resignation, and lasting questions about American politics and democracy. Tune in Tuesday September 2 at 7 p.m. on Alaska Public Media TV.

PROFESSOR T SEASON 4

Sundays @ 7 p.m.

After Season 3's shocking finale, Dan and Jasper are consumed by grief. Six months after a devastating loss, Tempest and his team confront a rising wave of crime while navigating personal upheavals. Tune in Sundays at 7 p.m. on Alaska Public Media TV or stream the entire series anytime on PBS.org with AK Passport.

ABOUT US

ALASKA PUBLIC MEDIA

TV | RADIO | NEWS

Alaska Public Media harnesses the power of multiple media platforms to make a more informed and connected life possible for all Alaskans. We produce and present news and content that provides lifelong learning opportunities in public affairs, health and leisure, science and nature, economic and social development, civic engagement and world events.

Located in Southcentral Alaska, we are comprised of KSKA radio, KAKM-TV, Create TV, PBS KIDS, and alaskapublic.org. Alaska Public Media also operates the Statewide News and a shared television service with KTOO in Juneau and KYUK in Bethel. Alaska Public Media and its affiliates deliver content that reaches 97% of the population of Alaska.

WELCOME

Welcome to the September 2025 edition of the Alaska Public Media Program Guide! Here are this month's featured programs, news and announcements.

STATION NEWS

DEFUNDED, NOT DEFEATED

Your support matters more than ever in the wake of CPB's shutdown.

As you've likely heard, we have been defunded. The Corporation for Public Broadcasting (CPB), which has supported public media for nearly 60 years, will shut down this fall following a vote by Congress to eliminate federal funding. For Alaska Public Media, this means the loss of $1.49 million — nearly 20% of our annual budget. It's a serious setback, but it will not silence us.

Already, our community has stepped up in remarkable ways. We've seen listeners, viewers, and readers raise their voices, write letters, and contribute financially to keep public media strong. If you've given recently, from the very bottom of our hearts, thank you. We have seen in excess of 300 sustainer increases, over 400 additional gifts, more than 500 returning and new members, and many increased their annual donations. We're on our way, but if you've not given in the last year, or perhaps never before, now is the time. In order to be sustainable for the years to come, we will be working towards the goal of 15,000 total members and for 1,600 of our sustaining members to increase their monthly giving.

We are also part of a statewide effort to protect and reimagine public media funding. The Alaska Community Foundation has launched the Voices Across Alaska Fund to address immediate shortfalls and build long-term resilience for the 27 public media stations serving our vast state. While this fund is not a replacement for what we've lost, it's an important piece of the path forward and will be essential for smaller rural stations.

This moment calls for collective strength and long-term commitment. The $1.49 million shortfall is great, but our mission is greater. Public media has always belonged to the people it serves — and together, we can ensure it continues to be a source of truth, culture, and connection for every corner of Alaska.

This moment in our history is a dark one. But with you in it, our future looks bright indeed.

HOW ALASKA-SAVVY ARE YOU?

Prove it over pints at News & Brews Trivia — Sept. 18, Onsite Brewing.

Test your Alaska knowledge, hang out with local reporters and grab a drink — all in one evening! Join us Thursday, September 18, at Anchorage's Onsite Brewing for Alaska Public Media's latest News & Brews Trivia event.

The evening kicks off at 5:30 p.m. with a casual meet-and-greet with our reporters. Then, at 6 p.m., dive into trivia on local news, Alaska history and quirky state facts.

This event is free and open to everyone — no RSVP or membership required (though beer isn't included). Just show up, grab a pint and get ready to show off your Alaska trivia chops! A food truck will also be on-site for the evening.

Questions? Email the news team at news@alaskapublic.org.

We hope to see you there!

Thursday, September 18 | 5:30 pm

WE'D LOVE YOUR FEEDBACK ON THIS PROGRAM GUIDE

Share your thoughts and help guide our next steps.

As we adapt to new budget realities following the loss of federal funding, we're taking a close look at how we use our resources — including how we produce and deliver this very Program Guide.

Whether you rely on it every month or just glance at it now and then, your input will help us make informed decisions about its future. Would you miss the Guide if it changed? What parts are most useful to you?

We're listening — and we want to hear from you.

Please take a moment to fill out a short survey. It only takes a minute or two, and your feedback will help us ensure the Program Guide continues to serve you in the best possible way.

ALASKA INSIGHT ON HOLD JUST BEFORE SEASON NINE PREMIERE

With your support, we can sustain public broadcasting and bring the program back.

By: Lori Townsend

Hello from the Alaska Public Media newsroom where we are honored to have just received three Edward R. Murrow regional awards! One for Alaska News Nightly, one for overall excellence and one for a politics story reported by Liz Ruskin. Murrow is a journalistic hero of mine and the awards are a big deal in the news industry.

That's the good news. Despite the challenges, our reporters and editors continue to produce stellar journalism that helps Alaskans and the world better understand our economy, politics and culture.

The not-so-good news is that the loss of federal funding means we will not be able to produce our weekly public affairs program, Alaska Insight. Season 9 was set to air this fall, but television is expensive and without funding from the Corporation of Public Broadcasting (CPB) we had to make hard choices to protect core services.

I'm sad to lose this program I loved hosting—where we featured leaders during crises, highlighted Alaska's cultures, and shared stories of resilience. I'm proud of the powerful topics we brought to air over the past eight seasons and we had a great line up of programs planned for this fall, before Congress voted to end CPB funding.

I am grateful that we can continue to bring robust radio reporting to you such as Alaska Morning News and Alaska News Nightly on a daily basis to keep you informed on the big issues facing our state.

To continue this service and to work to bring back other programs, like Alaska Insight, please become a member today. If you are already a member, thank you. If you can increase your support, now is the time. It is democracy at its best. You vote with your dollars to keep independent journalism alive, demanding accountability and elevating voices that shape Alaska's future.

UPCOMING EVENTS

TRAVEL AS A POLITICAL ACT WITH RICK STEVES

An evening of stories, insights, and inspiration from America's trusted travel voice.

Alaska Public Media is proud to welcome Rick Steves to Anchorage for a special evening of stories, insight, and inspiration. On Thursday, October 16, at 7 p.m., the bestselling travel author and beloved public television host will take the stage at the Wendy Williamson Auditorium for his talk, Travel as a Political Act.

In this thought-provoking presentation, Steves invites audiences to see travel not only as a source of fun and adventure, but as an opportunity to broaden perspectives and foster global understanding. Known for his practical travel tips, engaging storytelling, and passion for cultural exchange, Steves will share how venturing beyond one's comfort zone can help Americans better understand—and contribute to—a more connected world.

For more than three decades, Rick Steves has helped millions of Americans explore Europe with confidence, curiosity, and a spirit of connection. His award-winning guidebooks, long-running television and radio shows, and public advocacy have made him one of the most trusted and respected voices in travel. Whether guiding visitors through the art treasures of Italy, the backstreets of Paris, or the small towns of Eastern Europe, Steves encourages travelers to go deeper, engage with locals, and return home with a richer perspective.

This one-night-only fundraising event supports Alaska Public Media's mission to inform, inspire, and connect our community. While the VIP Meet & Greet experience is already sold out, tickets for the main event are still available starting at $65.

Don't miss your chance to hear one of America's most beloved travel experts live in Anchorage. Tickets are on sale now and can be purchased through Alaska Public Media. Event details and link to tickets at alaskapublic.org/events.

Rick Steves' programs are proudly broadcast in Anchorage on Create TV and KSKA FM 91.1, part of Alaska Public Media's commitment to bringing trusted voices and diverse perspectives to Alaska audiences.
