

Classroom Activities Teacher's Guide

Enclosed in this packet are a series of resources to help your students break down the process of story writing.

Activity 1: Get Ready to Write!

Activity Objective:

This worksheet is intended to help your students start to form ideas for potential stories. The activity provides your students with a blank page to freely develop story ideas through text and illustration. Serving as a precursor to the Brainstorming sheet, this is a place for the child to draw or write topic ideas for their story.

Potential Prompt:

All stories start with an idea of the characters, places or events that will be in the story. You can draw/write any idea you have in this space and then we'll talk about how it might become a story.

Activity 2: Brainstorming

Activity Objective:

Even short stories are complex, and require students to work on a number of elements: characters, plot/story structure, climax/ resolution, and setting. This worksheet is intended to help your students expand upon their story idea(s) to develop a strong story.

Visit pbslearningmedia.org for more free story writing lesson plans and activity sheets featuring your favorite PBS KIDS characters, including:

Alma's Way - My Story Martha Speaks - Silly Story Builder PBS KIDS Family Storytelling Bingo

Activity 3: Revising

Activity Objective:

This worksheet is intended to help your students develop self-criticism skills so that they can refine and improve their stories. There are two versions of this worksheet, one with the questions and answers filled out and one with blank questions and answers for you to fill out based on the reading and writing skills of your students.

Potential Prompt:

How are you feeling about your stories? Do they hold your interest? One of the hardest thing to do as a writer is to review and revise your stories. This is done by "critiquing" your story, which means evaluating all of the parts of your story to see if they are what you want. As you read through your stories, ask yourself the questions on the worksheet. If you don't think you can check off the boxes, think about how you can change, or revise, your story so that you can check off each of the boxes.

Activity 4: Illustrations

Activity Objective:

This worksheet is intended to help your students practice making thoughtful, engaging illustrations for their stories. On the worksheet are some examples of words that you can write into the boxes if you would like to provide the students with the words.

You can also allow your students to pick words or phrases from their own stories and have them draw corresponding images.

The state of the s

Potential Prompt:

Lots of books have both pictures and words. The pictures are important because they can show things that aren't in the words of the story, and they can add funny, happy, sad or scary feelings to the story. (You can show examples of books with illustrations and talk about elements and feelings). In this worksheet you will draw an illustration of the word or words in each box. When you do this, try to show something about the word that helps tell more. For example, for the word "school" is it a red school? Is it a school in winter? You can use a picture to tell more about the people, places and events in your story.

Supplementary Worksheet: Caption Writing

Activity Objective:

This supplementary worksheet is designed to help children think about the relationship of images and illustrations to text, or captions. The worksheet provides a few examples of pictures and captions. You can leave the rest of the worksheet blank for your students to draw pictures and write captions for that that picture or you can pre-populate some of the spaces with images to help your student relate current lessons to the story writing project.

Write This Write This specific property of the
	It's a happy, sunny day!	(frave apittenhen) (Mille poer sen suptim hers.)	(free a printer law) (free law)
	(firm a pinton hom) (Mrife year som saption hom.)	(finar a pinnas hana) (Mrife year wan sagilian hana)	(fina a pinna hau) (Melle year own saplianhon.)
	(form a pinton hom.) (Melle year som capitina hom.)	(frae a piras hasa) Ohilis pue sen capilina hasa)	(from a platent have) Othilar year sum confident have.)

PBS KIDS and the PBS KIDS Logo are registered trademarks of Public Broadcasting a Service. Used with permission. ALMA'S WAY © 2021, Think It Through Media, LLC. All rights reserved. Made possible by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, a private corporation funded by the American people. CARI THE COLLECTOR © 2025 FUZZYOWN Productions, LLC. All rights reserved. All rights reserved. ELNOR WONDERS WHY © 2025 SHOE Ink. All Rights Reserved. Funding for ELINOR WONDERS WHY is provided by Ready To Learn Grant from the U.S. Department of Education; the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, a private corporation funded by the American People; and by public television viewers. The contents of this document were developed under a grant from the Department of Education, and you should not assume endorsement by the Federal Government. The project is funded by a Ready To Learn grant (PR/AWARD No. U275A150003, CFDA No. 84.295A) provided by the Department of Education to the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. Lyla in the LoopTM / © 2025 Mighty Picnic LLC, All rights reserved. Lyla in the Loop is produced by Mighty Picnic in Association with Pipeline Studios. ROSIE'S RULES © 2021-2023 Ruby Productions Inc. Rosie and associated characters, logos and designs are owned by 9 Story Media Group. Distributed by 9 Story Media Group. All rights reserved.