Sharks at the Aquarium

By: Layla

Sharks at the aquarium,
swimming round and round in the big tank.
Some have scars and textures,
Others look smooth and gray.
Their smiles are creepy, with jagged sharp teeth.
What are they searching for?
Their eyes are trolling back and forth.
Gill slits wide open, no need to surface.
Seeing them up close in the aquarium makes you never want to see one at the beach!