Saz-Baglama

Sitar

Sanxian

Can you spot the difference between these instruments?

The saz-baglama is Turkish long-necked lute used in Ottoman classical music, Turkish folk music, and music from all over the Middle East.

The sitar is a plucked stringed instrument originating from the Indian subcontinent. It is often used in Hindustani classical music.

The sanxian is one of China's most traditional plucked string instruments. It has three strings and no frets.
