Borealis
Maine Public’s new outdoors series premieres this month!
MAINE PUBLIC’S BOREALIS SERIES DEBUTS on Maine Public Television this month! If you haven’t already heard, Borealis is a new outdoors program celebrating the nature of Maine and is hosted by writer and registered Maine Guide Aislinn Sarnacki (pictured on the cover). Perhaps you’ve already caught some of the Borealis YouTube, Instagram, and Facebook segments that Maine Public started sharing back in August. What’s in store for you? We’ll be bringing you stories from all over Maine – from York County to Aroostook County; far Western Maine to Acadia National Park.

Borealis covers a wide range of topics from hiking to fly fishing, loons to wood turtles, and much more. You’ll recognize the voices of some of the people contributing stories to Borealis – Ari Snider takes us canoeing with young people whose families recently arrived in Maine after fleeing their home countries; Murray Carpenter takes us fly fishing in far Western Maine with the group Confluence Collective; Patty Wight tags along on official Maine Guide training, and much, much more.

The host of Borealis is no stranger to the outdoors in Maine. Aislinn previously was an outdoors reporter at the Bangor Daily News for 10 years, has written three books centered around hiking in Maine, including Dog Friendly Hikes in Maine; and she’s well known for her series of videos called “One Minute Hikes.” Aislinn also teaches journalism at the University of Maine as an adjunct professor.

“I’m excited about the different kinds of stories we’ll tell through Borealis and how we’ll share them – not just as a television program, but as video segments over our social media platforms, audio stories on Maine Public Radio, as a podcast, and more,” noted Rick Schneider, Maine Public’s President and CEO. “Borealis will be accessible to a wide variety of audiences and will tell unique Maine stories to Mainers and to audiences beyond our state.”

Borealis premieres on Maine Public Television on Thursday, September 14, at 8:00 p.m. You can also catch each episode Friday afternoons at 2:00 and Sundays at 5:00 p.m. each week.

Borealis is a multi-platform project with exciting content available on YouTube, Instagram and Facebook, on Maine Public Radio, and on Maine Public Television. Find it all on Maine Public’s website, mainepublic.org.

Thank you to our production sponsor, The Nature Conservancy in Maine, as well as Evergreen Home Performance, Conservation Law Foundation and the Maine Office of Tourism for making this series possible.
CIFF 2023 is this month!
Camden International Film Festival
September 14-17 in Maine and September 18-25 online
Events taking place in Camden and Rockland

The Camden International Film Festival takes place this month, and it is unquestionably one of the most powerful experiences held in Maine each year. In fact, this is the 19th year of showcasing and celebrating independent documentaries in the state. But the reach of CIFF has transcended Maine’s borders. CIFF has come to be recognized across the world as one of the most important stops on the film festival circuit, with one of the most adventurous programs to be found anywhere. This year, there will be 32 feature films and 22 short films from 38 countries. Additionally, there will be 14 feature films and 8 shorts with significant premieres. If you are a film and documentary lover, this is a must-attend experience.

This year’s CIFF will offer an array of options enabling participants to choose their own adventure: in person from September 14 to 17 throughout venues in the Camden and Rockland area and virtually from September 18 to 25. They have a variety of ticket and pass options that allow attendees to really customize their 2023 CIFF experience.

Maine Public is very pleased to be a media sponsor of this year’s CIFF and to be able to offer our members a special ticket and pass discount. Go to mainepublic.org for all the details.

Book Club Reminders!

Fire up the warp core, put up your shields, and arm your photon torpedoes! It’s almost time for our Star Trek-themed book club meeting with author Ryan Britt! Host Bill Nemitz will talk to Ryan about his book Phasers on Stun! on Thursday, September 21, at 7:00 p.m. Have a question or two for the author? Send us a note to fun@mainepublic.org.

Next up will be It Goes. So. Fast. The Year of No Do-Overs by Mary Louise Kelly. We’ve heard some outstanding things about this book by one of our favorite NPR hosts and voices. That book club event will take place on Thursday, October 12.

Be sure to pick up both of these books at a Bull Moose location near you or at any of our bookstore partners (BookStacks in Bucksport, DDG Bookseller in Farmington, Left Bank Books in Belfast, Mockingbird Bookshop in Bath, Nonesuch Books and More in South Portland, and Sherman’s Maine Coast Book Shops).

Thanks to Bull Moose and Coffee by Design for helping make the book club happen!

This River Is Our Relative
Thursday, September 7, 9:00 pm; Saturday, September 9, 2:00 pm

Maine’s Penobscot Nation has an intrinsic kinship connection to and tireless environmental advocacy for the Penobscot River. Twenty-four Penobscots share their experiences of historical, physical, and spiritual connection to place, of cultural identity, and survival.

This River Is Our Relative shows the Penobscot Nation’s dedication to environmental justice and their efforts to minimize pollution. It demonstrates the importance of respecting inherent Tribal sovereignty, and celebrates Penobscot peoples’ ongoing river-based cultural traditions. As people who have lived in reciprocity with the Penobscot River for over 10,000 years, they are committed to protecting the health of this watershed. Despite many obstacles, including ongoing territorial theft and a rapidly increasing number of pollutants, the Penobscot Nation and its people continue to demonstrate their commitment to protecting the health of their beloved Relative, the Penobscot River. This story parallels both historical and present day environmental concerns and is also the origin story of the Penobscot family clans.

New Seasons on Masterpiece!

Unforgotten returns Sunday, September 3, 9:00 pm: In all new stories, DI Sunny Khan (Sanjeev Bhaskar) has a new member on his team, DCI Jessica “Jess” James (Sinead Keenan). The ghost of much-loved former colleague Cassie Stuart looms large over the team, and Jess knows there will be big shoes for her to fill.

Van der Valk begins Sunday, September 3, 10:00 pm: Steely-eyed, street-smart, and unapologetic, detective Piet Van der Valk (Marc Warren, pictured) investigates high profile cases and gritty murders in Amsterdam, a city of bikes, boats – and bodies. For him, it’s a new day and a new dawn as he welcomes two new sergeants to the team, the hotshot but impulsive Eddie Suleman and the technical whiz Citra Li.

Joni Mitchell: Library of Congress Gershwin Prize
Friday, September 1, 9:00 pm

The incomparable, trail-blazing singer-songwriter is celebrated by a cadre of musical stars who all drew inspiration from the woman many consider to be the most influential musical artist of her time.

Doc Martin is back!
New episodes begin September 9 at 8:00 pm

The brilliant, but abrasive, Doc Martin is back for a ninth season. Martin Clunes plays the town physician with no bedside manner, a.k.a. Dr. Martin Ellingham. This season, his medical career hangs in the balance as the General Medical Council assesses his ability and determines whether he is fit to continue practicing medicine following complaints about his approach to patients. Also returning are series’ regulars: Martin’s wife Louisa, who has resigned from her job at the local school to pursue a new career in child counseling, formidable Aunt Ruth, Bert and Al Large, PC Joe Penhale, Morwenna Newcross, and pharmacist Mrs. Tishell.
