Muhammad Ali

A Sweeping Portrait of an American Icon

Sunday-Wednesday, September 19-22, 8:00-10:00 pm

A NEW FOUR-PART SERIES follows the life of one of the most consequential men of the 20th century. He was a three-time heavyweight boxing champion who captivated billions of fans with his combination of speed, agility and power in the ring, and his charm, wit and outspokenness outside of it. At the height of his fame, Muhammad Ali challenged Americans' racial prejudices and religious biases and inspired people all over the world with his message of pride and self-affirmation.

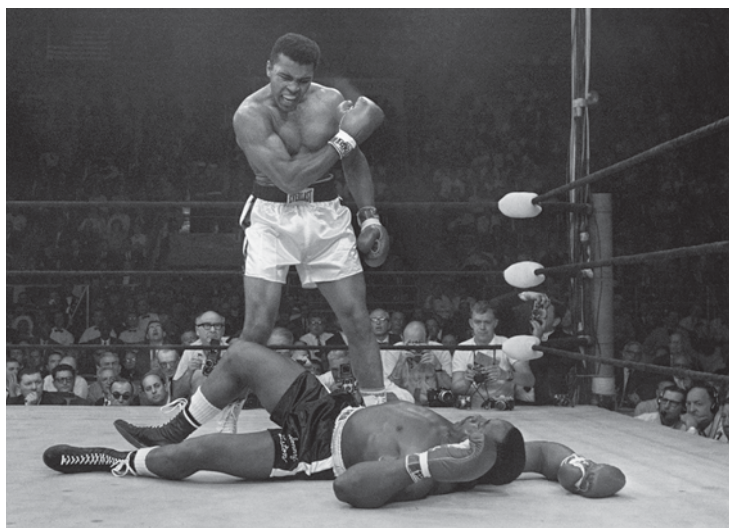

Drawing from an extraordinary trove of archival footage and photographs, contemporary music, and the insights and memories of eyewitnesses – including family and friends, journalists, boxers and historians, among others, Muhammad Ali is a sweeping portrait of an American icon. The series details the story of the athlete who called himself – and was considered by many to be – “the greatest of all time” and competed in some of the most dramatic and widely viewed sporting events ever, including “The Fight of the Century” and “The Thrilla in Manila,” both against his great rival Joe Frazier, and “The Rumble in the Jungle,” in which he defeated George Foreman to regain the heavyweight title that was stripped from him seven years earlier. The film also captures Ali’s principled resistance to the Vietnam War, his steadfast commitment to his Muslim faith, and his complex relationships with Elijah Muhammad and Malcolm X, who profoundly shaped his life and worldview.

While he is largely celebrated today as an icon of American sport and culture, Ali was not always widely embraced. At times he was reviled by many in American society, especially white Americans and white members of the media, who rejected his faith and feared his involvement with the Nation of Islam. Ali also faced a firestorm of criticism when he refused induction into the United States Army, citing his religious beliefs – a stance that would result in five years of legal jeopardy and a three-and-a-half-year banishment from boxing.

Ali’s story is full of contradictions. Despite his competitive reputation and ruthless athleticism in the ring, he went on to become a symbol for peace and pacifism. Though committed to a faith that expected obedience and dignified conduct, he was notoriously unfaithful to his wives. Ali was a clever showman with an unparalleled genius for promotion and turn of phrase. He endlessly trumpeted his own greatness as a boxer, but anonymously donated to save a Jewish old-age home, made surprise visits to pediatric hospitals and signed autographs for every last fan.

“Muhammad Ali was the very best at what he did,” said filmmaker Ken Burns. “He was arguably America’s greatest athlete, and his unflinching insistence that he be unabashedly himself at all times made him a beacon for generations of people around the world seeking to express their own humanity.”

Coming in October
American Veteran

A new four-part series, premiering Tuesdays, October 26 to November 16, illuminates the veteran experience with a stunning range of voices from today and across the arc of American history. Every voice featured is a veteran's. From the citizen-soldiers returning from the American Revolution to today's warrior class, they tell a deeply moving story, highlighting personal remembrances, drawing civilian viewers into an unfamiliar culture, and highlighting the evolving relationship between Americans who have served in the military and those who have not. MASTERPIECE 50

2021 marks the 50th anniversary of unforgettable Masterpiece programs airing on Maine Public Television, and we want to hear from you! What is your favorite Masterpiece program of all time?

"My two favorite Masterpiece shows are the newest All Creatures Great and Small and The Durrells in Corfu. I love how quirky the characters are and I love getting to travel and see lesser-known parts of Greece and England. Also, they are both just so cozy. I could watch these many times through!" – Mollie Gunnoe

"I have been a fan of Masterpiece for a very long time and so I am delighted to share a memory of the many years of wonderful programming. More recent shows have been awesome, creative, informative, entertaining, wonderful acting... the list goes on, but the memory that makes me smile broadest is that of the seasons of Upstairs, Downstairs introduced each week by Alistair Cooke. I actually had the opportunity to stay in the 'downstairs' rooms during a visit to London. What a thrill that was for me having experienced the joy of watching Upstairs, Downstairs." – Ruby Parker

"I am truly gratified to see how many productions of Masterpiece are someone's favorites, both ancient and modern. I'm a historian by training and inclination, and was netted into reading all Trollope's Parliamentary novels by watching The Pallisers in the '70s. I went on from there to dozens of his works, bios of Gladstone and Disraeli, and more recently, after Victoria and Indian Summer, a comprehensive history of British colonialism and imperialism. I still haven't managed to settle on a favorite Masterpiece contender, or even a list of them. But Sanditon made me go read it in Austen's minor works, and to want to know more about the 18th and 19th c. anti-slavery movements in Britain and America." – Cathy Baker

THANK YOU to HM Payson and The Park Danforth for their generous support in helping us celebrate 50 years of exceptional Masterpiece experiences! Send us a note about your favorite Masterpiece program and why it is so special to you. Email us at fun@mainepublic.org or mail us a note to Fun, Maine Public, 1450 Lisbon Street, Lewiston, ME 04240. ■

All Books Considered Book Club Reminder!

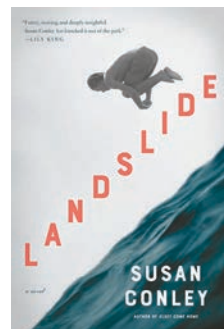

Our next book club event is scheduled for the end of the month – Thursday, September 30th at 7:00 p.m. Jennifer Rooks will be hosting the event and will be speaking with author Susan Conley about her novel Landslide.

As usual, there are two ways for you to attend the meeting. Either join via Facebook at facebook.com/mainepublic or through YouTube at youtube.com/mainepublic. If you can't make the event, we will post a recorded video of the event on our website. If you have questions for the author, send them to us at fun@mainepublic.org and Jennifer will get to as many of them as she can during the club meeting.

Not a member yet?

Go to mainepublic.org and sign up! It's free and a really nice way to discover some great books and authors and be connected with the larger Maine community.

There is also a list of some fabulous bookstore partners who can help you secure a copy of Landslide. Thanks to Birchbrook and Bull Moose for supporting the club! We hope you have a chance to attend! ■

Agatha and the Curse of Ishtar

airs Sunday, September 26
at 9:30 pm

In the deserts of Iraq for an archaeological dig, the famous crime writer unravels a series of mysterious murders. Lyndsey Marshal stars as Agatha Christie and Jonah Hauer-King as Max Mallowan, the archaeologist vying for her affection.

The Experience team sat down with Maine Public's new President and CEO, Rick Schneider, to hear his thoughts around his arrival in Maine and the experiences he plans to bring to bear in his new role.

Welcome to Maine, Rick!

► What intrigued you about joining Maine Public?

So many things! I'm a journalist at heart, and so I was attracted to the outstanding news organization here. Maine Public is what the public media system calls a "joint licensee" – joint meaning both public radio and television. It is a "community" licensee, which is a self-standing nonprofit governed by a board of trustees, instead of a government agency or educational institution. And, of course, our statewide reach. With the opportunity to cover the state with news, information, classical music, and education across radio, television, and digital platforms, we can positively impact Mainers' lives. A prime example is our coverage of Maine CDC briefings during the pandemic.

► What role do you see public media having in the context of the entire media landscape today?

Our role is based on trust – people knowing that our content is produced as a public service, not based on commercial imperatives. Our news is meant to inform, not sensationalize. Our education programs address the needs of children without treating them as advertising targets. In today's media landscape, there is more content available on more platforms than ever. Much of it is wonderful and much of it is trash. People trust the brands of Maine Public, NPR, and PBS to provide content that informs, inspires, and contributes to a more civil society.

In many communities, public media stations are the last locally owned media outlet. Maine Public offers statewide networks for radio news, classical music, and public television, all complemented by digital media, locally governed and produced with a public service mission. It is a tremendous community asset.

► What experiences have you had in public media that you feel are relevant for your new role here?

My journalism career, from local reporter to Washington correspondent to television news director, and later responsible for oversight of PBS NewsHour, helps me advocate for the powerful news team at Maine Public. I've been a champion for increasing original television production and digital content at my stations. And I have experience running stations; I am comfortable representing my organization in the community and covering diverse geographic areas.

► Is there a project or two that you have undertaken in your career that you are especially proud of?

The single national project I am most proud of is the modernization of PBS NewsHour. When I arrived at WETA as COO, the future of the NewsHour was in question. Jim Lehrer had retired from anchoring, and Jim and Robert MacNeil wanted to step back from owning their company, MacNeil/Lehrer Productions. They transferred the company to WETA and I was named president of the new NewsHour Productions. As someone who got his start as a local TV reporter, heading up NewsHour Productions was a great honor for me. The new team under executive producer Sara Just did an extraordinary job of evolving the program. That I worked with Judy Woodruff, Gwen Ifill, Sara, and the NewsHour team is a professional highlight.

More relevant for Maine Public, I'm proud of the original television series my stations have launched. In Reno we produced Nevada Experience, House with a History, and Wild Nevada. I took the outdoor concept with me to Miami to create Wild Florida. Our team launched Changing Seas, an underwater research series, and Check Please! South Florida, a local restaurant review show.

Public television is wonderful for showcasing stories about a state or region. We see that here with Assignment: Maine and the Maine Public Community Films series. The television team is eager to tell more of Maine's stories, and I look forward to making that possible.

► What are some of your favorite radio programs?

Easy answer – Maine Calling and the This Day in Maine podcast! I have learned so much about Maine from listening to them. I’m devoted to NPR news, Morning Edition and All Things Considered if I’m driving, or the Up First podcast first thing in the morning. I’m a big fan of Marketplace, and I catch Wait Wait...Don’t Tell Me! and This American Life when I can.

► And, of course, television?

With my news and WETA background, I’m loyal to PBS NewsHour and Washington Week. Frontline’s investigative coverage of significant issues is such important journalism. And I’m a history buff, so American Experience and, especially, the films of Ken Burns.

► What are some of the first steps you’ll take over your initial months on the job?

I’m learning about Maine Public’s team and services, of course, and I’m eager to travel across the state and meet listeners, viewers, and supporters. We have a system of 14 radio transmitters and 9 television transmitters statewide, and I look forward to visiting the communities they serve.

One specific project already underway is evaluating our geographically diverse facilities – our staff in Portland needs a better workspace. And I want to make it possible for the team to expand our radio journalism and create more original television content.

► What excites you about Maine itself?

I love the water and the outdoors. I’m a hiker, boater, lighthouse photographer, and avid road-tripper. Maine is perfect for me!

► Summer, fall, and spring are magical in Maine, but the winter weather... do you think you are ready for a Maine Winter?!?

Well, I’ll need to be! I grew up in Florida, so you might make certain assumptions. But I’ve experienced winter while living in New York, London, and Reno – I remember driving across Donner Summit in a blizzard. Those might not compare to Maine winters; I’m told the issue is not so much the snow, but that it gets very cold and dark for a long time. But a friend also told me there is no bad weather, only bad clothes! I’ll welcome any tips on getting through it and will enjoy the beauty of winter while looking forward to spring.

Thank you, Rick! ■

2021 Common Ground Country Fair Returns

September 24 to 26

Planning for this year’s Common Ground Country Fair has been extensive and the team at MOFGA has been working towards an in-person fair experience on September 24, 25 and 26 at the fairgrounds in Unity. Maine Public is very pleased to once again be a Media Sponsor of this seminal event. With the health and safety of the community being the fair’s number one priority, the fair will look different this year. They are implementing changes across the fairgrounds to offer and support a safe experience in accordance with current Maine Center for Disease Control and Maine Department of Economic and Community Development guidelines for outdoor festivals. As the fair days approach, please visit mofga.org for updates around purchasing tickets, festival activities, and the most up-to-date safety protocols that the fair will follow.

It’s an exciting time at MOFGA. They are celebrating their 50th anniversary this year and are celebrating what they have accomplished over the past five decades. Since 1971, the MOFGA community has made an incredible impact helping farmers thrive, making more local, organic food available and building sustainable communities. They are also looking ahead at meeting their ambitious goals of creating a food system that is healthy and fair for all of us. Congratulations! ■

Welcome to Maine Public's Dash of Maine "Masterpiece" Cooking Challenge

Hold onto your aprons, because this one is a little different (!) – it tests your culinary chops AND your love for Masterpiece programs on Maine Public Television!

You have five weeks – from September 20, 2021 to October 22, 2021 — to create a unique or much loved recipe using as many Maine-grown ingredients as possible. It can be a dessert, an entree or an appetizer – your choice. You need to provide us with a photo of the completed dish as well as a detailed recipe including ingredients and step-by-step instructions.

That's Part One of our Dash of Maine "Masterpiece" Cooking Challenge! Here is where it gets doubly tricky AND interesting! You need to tell us what Masterpiece character you've made the dish for and why. A rum cake for Inspector Morse to lighten him up a bit? A beans and franks casserole for Lady Mary so she can see how the other half lives? Or perhaps a version of French toast for Poirot instead of his usual boiled eggs and a piece of toast cut into perfect squares? 2021 marks the 50th anniversary of unforgettable Masterpiece programs airing on Maine Public Television. We are celebrating all year long and a cooking challenge with a Masterpiece twist was too much fun to miss! Enter as often as you like!

We will choose TWO winners every Friday starting on September 24, from those who submit an outstanding recipe featuring a plethora of Maine-grown ingredients. Send us a photo, AND tell the most interesting story detailing how your dish is connected to which Masterpiece character. Every winner will receive a copy of "Masterpiece: America's 50-Year-Old Love Affair with British Television Drama" for their own library.

Send your recipe, a picture of your dish, and your Masterpiece tale (along with your phone number so we can contact you if you are chosen) to us at FUN@mainepublic.org. We will post many of the entries over social media. You have 8 chances to win over the course of the Dash of Maine "Masterpiece" Cooking Challenge.

HUGE THANKS to the Maine Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry, HM Payson, The Park Danforth, and Southern Maine Community College for their support of this very special Dash of Maine "Masterpiece" Cooking Challenge! ■

Our "All Cars Considered Vehicle Donation Campaign Powered by Lee" is ON!

If you are interested in donating a car or truck to Maine Public AND you are starting to think about purchasing a replacement vehicle, this campaign may be right for you! Donate your no longer needed car or truck to Maine Public this September and October and you'll receive a $500 Lee Thank You Reward good toward the purchase of ANY new or used car at ANY Lee Auto Malls location!

Vehicle donations make a big difference here at the station, and last year, nearly 1,200 cars were donated to support Maine Public's programming. Our 2020 All Cars Considered campaign with Lee went a long way in helping us secure that many vehicles and we are hoping that this campaign has the same impact. Keep in mind that you must use the All Cars Considered Vehicle Donation Campaign Powered by Lee $500 Thank You Reward before the end of the year (December 31, 2021). Go to our website, mainepublic.org, to get started OR give our Audience Services Team a call at 1-800-884-1717 and they can answer all your questions. ■

Not To Be Missed

Lucy Worsley's Royal Myths & Secrets

~ Sundays, September 5 & 12, 8:00 pm ~

Popular royal historian Lucy Worsley is on a journey to sort out fact from fiction about tumultuous times when radicalism and rebellion threatened Europe's monarchies. In The Napoleonic War (September 5), Lucy reveals how mental health problems forced King George III to relinquish power to his debauched and extravagant son. Was this really an era of elegance and regal splendor or an age of radicalism and revolution? In The Russian Revolution (September 12), she explores how the spontaneous February 1917 popular uprising was the real Russian revolution that swept the Czar from power, not the famed October event in the history books. Guilt on Masterpiece

~ Sundays, September 5 & 12, 9:00 pm ~

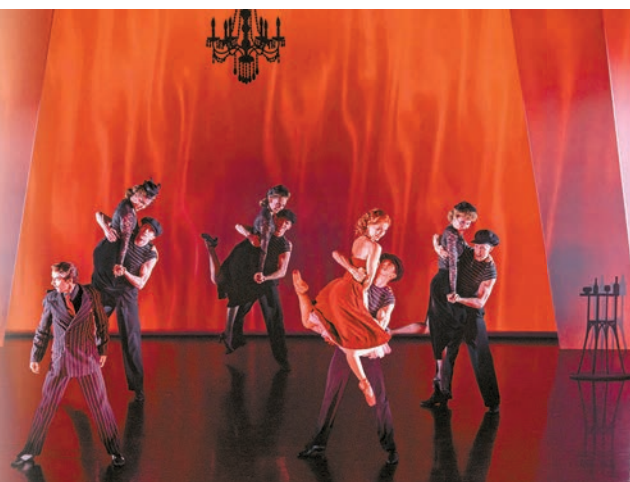

"It's not the crime, it's the cover-up" goes the old saying. But that didn't stop brothers Max and Jake from hiding their guilt after running into an elderly pedestrian during an inebriated drive home from a wedding. Mark Bonnar and Jamie Sives star as Max and Jake in a darkly absorbing tale of rascality and deceit. Although the brothers are no longer close, they are now co-conspirators in a crime that grows in severity as they dig a deeper and deeper pit of evasions and desperate stratagems. Their plan to escape justice gets even more complicated when the niece of the victim shows up.

The Red Shoes on Great Performances

~ Friday, September 17, 9:00 pm ~

Based on the famous 1948 cinema classic, "The Red Shoes" was originally inspired by Hans Christian Andersen's dark fairy tale of the same name. A story of obsession, possession and one dancer's dream to be the greatest dancer in the world, this stage adaptation recounts the tale of an aspiring ballerina who lives to dance – yet her ambition creates a battle of wills between the two men who inspire her passion. It is set to the romantic music of golden-age Hollywood with the dance talents of Ashley Shaw, Adam Cooper, Dominic North and Michaela Meazza. Acclaimed director-choreographer Matthew Bourne's dance interpretation won Olivier Awards for "Best Entertainment" and "Best Theatre Choreographer" in 2017. (Photo: Johan Persson.)

Citizen Hearst on American Experience

~ Monday-Tuesday, September 27-28, 9:00 pm ~

A new four-hour documentary explores the colorful life and times of William Randolph Hearst. By the 1930s, Hearst controlled the largest media empire in the country: 28 newspapers, a movie studio, a syndicated wire service, radio stations, and 13 magazines. He used his communications stronghold to achieve political power unprecedented in the industry, then ran for office himself. A man of prodigious appetites and the model for Orson Welles' "Citizen Kane," his castle, San Simeon, was a monument to his extravagance. By the time Hearst died in 1951 at the age of 88, he had forever transformed the role of media in American life and politics. ■

CIFF 2021 is this month!

The 17th edition of the Camden International Film Festival promises to be their most unique, intimate, and accessible festival to date! This year's CIFF will offer an array of options enabling participants to choose their own adventure. In person from September 16 to 19 throughout venues in Camden, Rockport, and Rockland, the festival runs virtually from September 16 to 26.

CIFF's Opening Weekend will take place from September 16 to 19, and will include in-person screenings at four venues, including their newly built drive-in, and a pop-up cinema lounge at the largest boat storage facility in Maine, located at the edge of the Atlantic. Filmmakers will be in attendance and 50+ filmmaker fellows will be on the ground for the fest making it one of the most paramount documentary gatherings since the start of the pandemic. The Festival's virtual element allows audiences the opportunity to screen their slate of feature and short films from the comfort of their own home (or screen) at any time. Maine Public is very pleased to be a media sponsor of this year's CIFF. Go to mainepublic.org for all the details. ■

Maria's Portuguese Table

Thursdays at 9:30 am,
12:30 & 4:30 pm

Maria's Portuguese Table, on the Create channel, airs Thursdays at 9:30 a.m., 12:30 and 4:30 p.m. Popular cookbook author Maria Lawton takes viewers on a Portuguese-themed culinary and cultural journey in this series. She explains the influence of Portuguese cuisine throughout the world, and how it has migrated and evolved along with generations of Portuguese immigrants. Says Maria, "I want everyone to see just how amazing Portuguese food and culture is. Even though the Portuguese were great explorers of the world, their widespread impact isn't always recognized. It's time for the world to discover all things Portuguese!" ■

The Good Road | Mondays at 9:00 pm

In The Good Road, Mondays at 9:00 p.m., on the World channel, two best friends travel the world meeting philanthropists and change-makers who have dedicated their lives to addressing global humanitarian issues. From depressed inner-city neighborhoods to border camps for refugees, to rural health clinics, hosts Earl Bridges and Craig Martin explore efforts to help local citizens improve their lives. In the "Zanzibar Archipelago" episode (pictured) on September 27, the men help a technology team bring WiFi to several small, remote islands in Tanzania to support a small weather station being installed there. ■
