AMERICAN EXPERIENCE
Rivetted: The History of Jeans
Monday, February 7, 9:00 pm

Boot cut, flare, ripped and faded. Mom jeans, dad jeans, skinny jeans. Everyone has their favorite style and their favorite pair. The essential symbol of cool, jeans have become a wardrobe staple the world over. At any given moment, half the people on the planet are wearing them. Rivetted: The History of Jeans on American Experience is the fascinating and surprising story of the ultimate American garment.

Worn by everyone from presidents to supermodels, farmers to rock stars, they’re more than just a pair of pants – America’s tangled past is woven deeply into the indigo fabric.

From their roots in slavery to the Wild West, youth culture, the civil rights movement, rock and roll, hippies, high fashion and hip-hop, jeans are the fabric on which the history of American culture and politics are writ large.

“It’s been quite a while since I heard the story, but I remember really loving it. Robbie Feinberg went onto a school bus with the driver and went to homes to deliver food. It was classic. Took me right with him to something that was happening every day that I didn’t know anything about, how it worked, and what it was like. That was one of my favorites.” – Vanessa Stevens

2022 Camden Conference
Europe Challenged at Home and Abroad | February 25 to 27, 2022
Moderated by Marketplace Morning Report’s David Brancaccio

The 2022 Camden Conference theme will be Europe today – what is happening and what we can anticipate. Europe’s leaders and citizens are facing pervasive economic, political and social challenges, some exacerbated by the global pandemic. How cohesive is the European Union? Where are populist movements headed, and where are democratic institutions under threat? What will happen to the European-United States bond as a new generation of leaders pursue their own agendas with Russia, China, and other countries? When can we rely on Europe, and can Europeans rely on us? The conference moderator will be David Brancaccio, host and senior editor of American Public Media’s Marketplace Morning Report. The conference’s Keynote Speaker is Stavros Lambrinidis, the Ambassador of the European Union to the United States, as of March 1, 2019. From 2012 to 2019, he served as the European Union Special Representative for Human Rights. In 2011, he was Foreign Affairs Minister of Greece. This year’s conference will be an entirely virtual, live-streamed event and tickets are on sale now. For more information on the Camden Conference, visit the conference website at www.camdenconference.org.

A Solemn Promise
Thursday, February 17, 8:30 pm
Sunday, February 20, 5:00 pm

Join Maine Public for an original Maine Public production of a story of courage, hope and commitment… A Solemn Promise tells the story of Lt. Ernest Vienneau, a pilot and WWII hero from Millinocket who went missing in action in 1944, beginning a decades long search for his remains spanning four generations.

“This story is so meaningful to our family, but also to the town, and to me, but I really feel like this is our country’s story. I feel like we need this hope right now. Like we need this bringing us together,” said Chelsea Carbonell, grandniece of Lt. Vienneau. Vienneau’s family never lost faith that someday they would find their lost relative, actively searching for him over the years. With help from the military, civilian experts, and even a filmmaker, they finally found closure this October when Ernest Vienneau was buried next to his parents and brothers in the St. Martin of Tours Cemetery in Millinocket.

“I always knew that I had an uncle that died in World War II, but to actually know the whole story and to have him brought back, I’m just amazed,” added Carbonell. “It defines us as a nation that here we are, decades later, still searching, still finding, still bringing home missing Americans who made the supreme sacrifice,” said Kelly McKeague, Director of the Defense POW/MIA Accounting Agency (DPAA). “Ernest’s demise was tragic, he was a fallen hero and died very young, not able to grow old and experience life, but his greatest legacy may be 77 years later, here bringing his whole family back together to celebrate his return. Now, there’s a whole new chapter to the Vienneau family,” observed filmmaker Kirk Wolfinger.

Follow along on this journey to find a missing hero from Maine as A Solemn Promise takes you back to Vienneau’s early days as an aviator, reveals firsthand accounts of his fatal mission, and shows present-day efforts to find, recover and return this brave B-17 pilot back home to Millinocket. Legacy of Love
Thursday, February 10, 9:00 pm;
Saturday, February 12, 2:00 pm

Martin Luther King, Jr. and Coretta Scott dreamed a new world together and resolved to dedicate their union to the civil rights movement – no matter the cost. From the beginning, they were committed to making the country a better place. In the end, they made the world a better place. Historical dramatizations, archival footage and images of the Kings in their early years are combined with interviews with people who knew the couple in the early 1950s.

Stories From the Slopes: A Skiing History of Western New England
Thursday, February 24, 9:00 pm

Western New England was once a skiing mecca, with nearly 80 ski areas across four counties. Today, there are fewer than a dozen. Archival film and interviews pay tribute to some of the major resorts no longer in operation and those that still are.

Welcome to the 2022 Edition of Maine Public’s All Books Considered Book Club!

It’s a new year and there are sooo many wonderful authors and books out there and so little time! With input from our book club members, we have selected a number of really interesting and provocative works for the club to take on this year. First up is Enter the Aardvark by Jessica Anthony. The set-up for this novel is something very different. It’s early one morning on a hot day in August, and millennial congressman Alexander Paine Wilson, planning his first reelection campaign and in deep denial about his sexuality, receives a mysterious, over-sized FedEx delivery on his front stoop. Inside is a gigantic taxidermized aardvark. What happens next? You’ll have to dive into the novel to find out for yourself!

We will hold our first book club meeting discussing Enter the Aardvark in late March with the author and host Jennifer Rooks. You can pick up a copy at any Sherman’s Coast Book Shops location, BookStacks in Bucksport, Print in Portland, Left Bank Books in Belfast, Nonesuch Books & More in South Portland, DDG Booksellers in Farmington, and any Bull Moose location. Not a book club member? It’s fun and totally free! Sign up on our website – mainepublic.org. A big thanks to Bull Moose for their ongoing support of the club!

I Come From Away: An Immigrant in Maine
Thursday, February 17, 9:00 pm; Saturday, February 19, 2:00 pm

The Maine Public Film Series is very pleased to showcase an exceptional piece from filmmaker Charles Stuart during Black History Month. I Come From Away is an intimate look inside the immigrant community in Portland, as told by Nyamuon Nguany Machar (aka Moon) who arrived as a refugee in 1995 and David Zwalita Mota who came as an asylum seeker in 2019.

Moon is a charismatic 30-year-old African woman who arrived in Portland with her Ethiopian mother and Sudanese father when escaping war as refugees. This is her story of settling into one of the whitest states in America. Through Moon’s eyes, we experience the immigrant community in Portland with its successes and its burden of continuing racism. Moon is an extraordinary mix of a counselor for children at-risk and an activist for refugees and asylum seekers.

We are with Moon inside the city of Portland’s dramatic effort to absorb 600 asylum seekers arriving from The Congo with little warning. Their journey had taken them six months finally crossing illegally into the US southern border and being bussed to Portland, Maine. One asylum seeker, Mota, tells the story of his life and death journey with his young family to get to Maine, walking through Central America, stepping over dead bodies and being shot by gangs. Moon’s poetry (“The Scars on My Daddy’s Back” and “I Come From Away”) sets the tone for this absorbing story of risk, hope and chasing the American dream. As such, this film is a microcosm of the national debate surrounding immigration.
