PERFORMERS

Pianist Yi-Wen Chang has garnered acclaim for her impeccable technique and innovative concert programs, with her musical journey taking her all over the world including performing in venues such as Kodak Hall at Eastman Theatre, Taiwan National Concert Hall, and the Moscow Conservatory International Summer Festival. In her career she has collaborated with distinguished artists including Rebecca Penneys, Ramon Ricker, Ian Bousfield, and Jeffrey Milarsky. Dr. Chang's artistry has been showcased on WXXI and WBFO broadcasts and can also be heard on the recent album Reflections, released by Centaur Records in collaboration with violinist Pia Liptak.

Chang has a keen interest in the evolution of musical styles and is known for curating original concert programs. Fascinated by new compositions and re-imagined repertoire, she is dedicated to reviving the 19th-century composer-pianist tradition, bringing fresh perspectives to the concert experience. In 2015 she created the Then and Now concert series, combining traditional and contemporary music to breathe new life into this practice and help audiences reconnect with its significance. Her compositions and transcriptions include the Taiwanese folk song Longing for the Spring Breeze and original works such as Imminence and A Stream of Thought. Recently on the Live from Hochstein concert series Dr. Chang premiered Preludes to Chopin Preludes and Between Mozart and Chopin. Chang's engagement with contemporary music performance includes recently giving the U.S. premiere of Dos Páginas para Granados by Spanish composer Benet Casablanca.

Chang is also a dedicated pedagogue, having served as an adjudicator for numerous piano competitions, including the MTNA New York State Competition, Rochester Philharmonic League Young Artist Auditions, Nazareth University Piano Competition, and Taiwan National Piano Competition. Chang currently serves as Co-Chair of the Piano Department at The Hochstein School and Hobart and William Smith Colleges. She is also on faculty at Nazareth University and SUNY Geneseo.

Dr. Chang's scholarly contributions include translating R.O. Morris's Figured Harmony at the Keyboard into Chinese, a text widely adopted in music colleges across Chinese-speaking regions. Chang earned her Bachelor of Music and Doctor of Musical Arts in Piano Performance with the prestigious Performer's Certificate from the Eastman School of Music under the tutelage of Rebecca Penneys. She received her Master of Music in Piano Performance from the Juilliard School, where she studied with Joseph Kalichstein.
