

KCCU Quarterly Issues and Programs Report
FY 2026 Q1 January 1 to March 31

KCCU is a vital non-commercial educational radio station licensed to Cameron University in Lawton, Oklahoma, and simulcasts on KLCU-Ardmore, Oklahoma, KMCU-Wichita Falls, Texas, and KOCU-Altus, Oklahoma.

National and Local Programming:

KCCU delivers a diverse array of locally and regionally produced programs, public service announcements, live classical music, and specialty shows daily. The station features premier national programs in public media, including Morning Edition, All Things Considered, and Performance Today.

KCCU broadcasts 48 hours per week of NPR news programs. Additionally, it includes 30 minutes per week of Texas Matters, a news program highlighting the news and cultural events in Texas. The station also airs a local weekly public affairs program, StateImpact Oklahoma, and Community Focus, which explores issues and culture in Oklahoma. The station also broadcasts daily weather updates and severe weather coverage.

KCCU also broadcasts CU Today, hosted by Cameron University President Dr. Shane Hunt. The program airs once a month and highlights students and teachers from Cameron and discusses their involvement not only on campus but throughout our community.

Below is a list of significant issues addressed by the station, along with the most impactful programming treatments of those issues for the quarter. This list is not exhaustive, and the order of issues is chronological by date and does not indicate priority or significance. Details can be found in this file, which contains locally originated programming that also addresses other issues important to our community.

Total Accumulated Time: 144h:59m:56s

| Texas Matters is a public affairs program that airs Monday at 6:30 pm. Texas Matters is a statewide news program that spends half an hour each week looking at the issues and culture of Texas. |  |   |             |              |                 |

| State Politics / Texas History   | Pass The Biscuits, Pappy - Part Two                          | "Pass the Politics Pappy" explores the remarkable political rise of W. Lee "Pappy" O'Daniel, a flour salesman who used his popular radio show and catchy slogans to rocket into becoming Texas Governor and then U.S. Senator in the late 1930s and 1940s. Part 2 of the series focuses on O'Daniel's time as governor and delivered very little on his grand promises. Ultimately O'Daniel's story serves as a cautionary tale of media-driven political populism. | Jan 5       | 6:30 PM      | 30 Min.         |
| Texas History / Technology   | Nuclear-powered AI and the first Texas movie studio          | The Donald J. Trump Advanced Energy and intelligence Campus — near Amarillo — plans to use nuclear power for the biggest data center ever. And how in 1910 the classic western movie was born in San Antonio.   | Jan 12      | 6:30 PM      | 30 Min.         |

| Politics / State History                    | 1964, Civil Rights and the Lady Bird Special           | In October 1964, as the South simmered under the tensions following the signing of the Civil Rights Act three months earlier, First Lady, Lady Bird Johnson, began a whistle-stop tour of the South. She shattered the expectations of a presidential spouse with speeches, diplomacy, and palpable compassion as she encouraged the South to leave Jim Crow behind.  | Feb 9    | 6:30 PM | 30 Min. |
| Law / Religion                              | The meaning of the Spanish missions in San Antonio     | Today on Texas Matters: The old Spanish missions of San Antonio — 300 years of history, community memory and meaning. | State History / Religion                    | How Texas Got Religion                                 | Millions of Texans tell pollsters religion is very important in their lives. Every Sunday hundreds of megachurches fill up and celebrate their faith – which also shapes their politics. The result , elections are won and lost based on performances of righteousness. The State Board of Education bends the nation’s textbooks to a conservative Lone Star gospel, and laws are passed based on Christian values. How did Texas become “one state under God”? | March 2  | 6:30 PM | 30 Min. |
| State History / Texas Culture / Music       | Music from behind the walls of Texas prisons           | This week on Texas Matters — forgotten songs from Texas prisons. Heartfelt tracks written, performed, and recorded by incarcerated men. The resurrected recordings from the '60s, '70s, and '80s tell us about crime and punishment, rehabilitation, and the humanity of the men locked inside.   | March 16 | 6:30 PM | 30 Min. |
| Texas Culture / State History               | Larry McMurtry and the making of the modern Texas myth | This week on "Texas Matters," the life and writing of Larry McMurtry and how he refined the myths of being a Texan. David Streitfeld has written a biography of Texas writer Larry McMurtry — “Western Star: The Life and Legends of Larry McMurtry.”   | March 30 | 6:30 PM | 30 Min. |

| Oklahoma Legislative Preview / Politics  | StateImpact Oklahoma discusses what’s to come in the new year              | 2025 is coming to a close, and StateImpact Oklahoma’s Logan Layden sat down with StateImpact’s reporters to talk about some of the issues they’ve covered this year and how they’ll evolve in 2026.  | Jan 2 | 5:45 am6:45 am7:45 am | 5 Min.   |
| Environment  | Oklahomans continue the generational tradition of the Christmas Bird Count | One of the longest-running citizen science projects wrapped its annual event on Monday. Birders across Oklahoma had eyes to the skies to find out which species are living in or visiting the state during early winter. StateImpact’s Chloe Bennett-Steele joined some of them earlier this week. | Jan 9 | 5:45 am6:45 am7:45 am | 5 Min.   |

| Health                          | As AI becomes part of traditional Medicare reviews, some Oklahomans worry they'll lose out on care system strains against growth. | Traditional Medicare rarely requires providers to seek approval before delivering care. That is changing this month in six states, including Oklahoma. A federal pilot is using private companies with AI tools to process prior authorizations and reduce spending on certain treatments. Oklahoma providers and patients are concerned about how the program could impact access to care for the nation's growing aging population. | Jan 16  | 5:45 am6:45 am7:45 am | 5 Min. |
| Environment                     | Oklahoma climatologist Gary McManus on what to expect in 2026   | 2026 starts with drought across much of southern Oklahoma and La Niña still in place. What does that mean for the rest of the year? StateImpact's Logan Layden talks to state climatologist Gary McManus about what to expect.  | Jan 23  | 5:45 am6:45 am7:45 am | 5 Min. |
| Education / Politics            | Lawmakers eye bringing a literacy 'miracle' to Oklahoma   | After overhauling literacy policy in 2013, Mississippi went from 49th to a top 10 state in fourth-grade reading. It's been dubbed the "Mississippi Miracle," but those involved say it was more of a marathon. State lawmakers are now hoping to perform that same miracle in Oklahoma this legislative session.  | Jan 30  | 5:45 am6:45 am7:45 am | 5 Min. |
| State Politics /                | StateImpact Oklahoma previews the 2026 legislative session  | The Oklahoma Legislature is back in session for 2026, with thousands of bills up for consideration. StateImpact Oklahoma focuses on health, education, science and the environment. Logan Layden talked with the team about what they'll be watching.   | Feb 6   | 5:45 am6:45 am7:45 am | 5 Min. |
| Economics / Economy             | As electricity demand and investments grow, what's being done to shield Oklahomans from higher monthly bills?                     | Electricity demand is up nationwide and in Oklahoma, partly because of large load customers like data centers. Several initiatives are addressing concerns of rising residential rates.   | Feb 13  | 5:45 am6:45 am7:45 am | 5 Min. |
| Healthcare / Economics          | Oklahomans seek cheaper ways to pay for health care after ACA enhanced premium tax credits expire                                 | Enhanced premium tax credits for the ACA Marketplace expired last year, leaving people to pay a larger share of — or full price for — their health coverage. This year, nearly 50,000 fewer Oklahomans selected a plan, and even more are expected to drop out amid higher costs. Consumers are now navigating the consequences of this expiration with limited choices.  | Feb 20  | 5:45 am6:45 am7:45 am | 5 Min. |

| Environment / Oil Industry                         | Some of Oklahoma's thousands of orphaned wells could find a new purpose under this state bill     | Proposed Oklahoma legislation would authorize companies to convert abandoned oil and gas wells for geothermal and energy storage use.   | March 20 | 5:45 am6:45 am7:45 am | 5 Min. |
| Health care  | Minutes matter in stroke cases. In rural Oklahoma, a telemedicine program is saving critical time | Nearly 2,000 Oklahomans die from stroke-related complications annually. That burden is felt more in rural communities, where access to specialized care is limited. Oklahoma officials are working to change that by investing in telemedicine for stroke care. | March 27 | 5:45 am6:45 am7:45 am | 5 Min. |
