Fires of Faith

THE COMING FORTH OF THE King James Bible

Fires of Faith: The Coming Forth of the King James Bible celebrates the 400th anniversary of one of the most enduring pieces of writing in the history of humanity. Historians, theologians and actors transport audiences to an era when the Bible in English was an unlawful possession and reading it resulted in imprisonment.

Since its original publication in 1611, the King James Bible has had immeasurable influence on religion, language, culture, art and literature. Yet the road to its influence and acceptance was paved with the horrors of humanity. Those who sought to translate “God’s message” into the English vernacular were seen as heretics, persecuted and ultimately executed.

Fires of Faith, a two-hour film, crisscrosses a tumultuous Europe at the birth of religious freedom and chronicles characters central to the Reformation, including John Wycliffe, Martin Luther, King Henry VIII, and Bloody Queen Mary I, culminating with the reign of King James I.

In 1604, England’s King James I ordered a new translation of the Bible, and after seven years, 54 scholars and one of the greatest committee efforts in history, those who persevered brought forth the most influential and enduring book the Western world has ever seen.

At the forefront of the saga was British religious scholar William Tyndale, who was responsible for the original translation of more than eighty percent of the King James Bible’s text. His death by strangulation and burning at the stake under Henry VIII didn’t stop his translated words from ultimately reaching a global audience.

This intriguing film features more than 130 reenactments filmed in eight countries at the actual buildings and settings where the events originally took place. Fires of Faith includes commentary from 18 international scholars and religious leaders—from the Universities of Notre Dame and Oxford to the Chief Rabbinate of Israel. While their perspectives differ, based on respective affiliations and orientations, these scholars and religious leaders are in agreement that the King James Bible’s influence is unparalleled.

Fires of Faith: The Coming Forth of the King James Bible will be broadcast on 3-2 Thursday, the 16th at 7:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 19th at 5:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Tuesday, the 14th at 7:00 p.m.

Jesus: Countdown to Calvary

In Jesus: Countdown to Calvary, actor Hugh Bonneville examines the events leading up to the death of Jesus of Nazareth. Bonneville, a theology graduate of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, travels to Jerusalem to explore the historical context of the last days of Jesus.

With the help of noted academics and spiritual leaders, Bonneville investigates the complex factors that, in just six days, turned a popular preacher into a reviled victim of the Romans’ most brutal form of execution—crucifixion. The film counts down each critical moment from Palm Sunday to Good Friday.

Hugh and his guides utilize ancient artifacts, Gospel texts, historical analysis and modern insight to provide a fresh perspective on the social, religious and political tensions at play in first century Jerusalem. The legacies of leading figures like Pontius Pilate, Caiaphas and Judas Iscariot are brought into focus; long-held assumptions, some of which formed the root of centuries of anti-Semitism, are challenged.

Jesus: Countdown to Calvary can be seen on 3-2 Sunday, the 12th at 10:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Tuesday, the 7th at 7:00 p.m. and Saturday, the 11th at 9:00 p.m.

INDEPENDENT LENS

Jim Allison: Breakthrough

“Jim Allison: Breakthrough” on Independent Lens is the astounding true story of one stubborn man’s visionary quest to find a cure for cancer. From his small town Texas boyhood, the renowned scientist went on to blaze a trail that would save the lives of hundreds of thousands of people worldwide.

Subtitled “This Is What a Hero Looks Like,” the documentary tells a deeply Texan story laced with the Lone Star State’s culture, institutions, characters, places and music—namely country and blues.

Jim Allison, who grew up in Alice, Texas, was just 11 when his mother succumbed to lymphoma; in subsequent years, he lost two uncles and a brother to other forms of cancer. His natural inclination to develop a cure for the disease progressively drove him to obsessive scrutiny of the immune system—specifically, to studies of T-cells, the white blood cells that attack diseased cells—long before immunology was widely accepted as anything more than “voodoo science.” For decades he waged a lonely struggle against the skepticism of the medical establishment and the resistance of Big Pharma.

Allison’s singular focus on the T-cell and its central role in harnessing the power of the immune system initiated a series of discoveries on T-cells’ ability to stop cancer in its tracks. In 2018, he was awarded the Nobel Prize for discovering the immune system’s role in defeating cancer.

Narrated by Midland-born actor Woody Harrelson, the film features music by the legendary Willie Nelson, who hails from a town north of Waco called Abbott. The entertaining documentary concludes with Allison—onstage with the outlaw country artist at Austin City Limits—playing “Roll Me Up and Smoke Me When I Die” on his harmonica.

Allison is currently Chairman of the Department of Immunology at Houston’s renowned MD Anderson Cancer Center.

“Jim Allison: Breakthrough” on Independent Lens can be seen on 3-2 Monday, the 27th at 9:00 p.m. It airs on 3-1 Monday, the 27th at 7:00 p.m.

Rowan LeCompte: A Life in Light

Rowan LeCompte was a renowned stained glass artist best known for his work at the Washington National Cathedral. This film celebrates his unique perspective on a medieval decorative art, which he transformed into a fine art for modern times.

A visit to the Washington cathedral at age 14 with an aunt would prove transformative for LeCompte. It was 1939 and the Gothic church wasn't even complete, but the beauty of the stained glass windows gave the Baltimore native's young life new purpose.

LeCompte's first attempts at making stained glass windows involved scrap glass and his mother's gas stove. He followed instructions from library books. At 16, he pitched a design to Philip H. Frohman, the architect for the cathedral, who took it and paid LeCompte $100 "for his troubles."

Over the next 70 years, LeCompte went on to design more than 40 stained glass windows at the Washington cathedral, as well as windows for cathedrals and other buildings throughout the United States. His West Rose window (shown above) at the cathedral in Washington has been called "one of the masterpieces of Christendom."

Rowan LeCompte: A Life in Light airs on 3-2 Monday, the 13th at 8:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 26th at 10:00 a.m. On 3-1, it airs Saturday, the 25th at 9:00 p.m. and Monday, the 27th at 2:00 p.m.

Inside the Vatican

Filmed over the course of the fifth year of Pope Francis's pontificate, no film crew has ever had such access to the inner workings of the Vatican.

From Pope Francis himself to his head of security, the nuns who cater for the homeless, the choristers of the Sistine Chapel and many others, Inside the Vatican offers an intimate look into the daily lives of those who live and work in this independent city state.

It is a time of dramatic changes. The Pope introduces reforms, shakes up the clerical establishment and deals with the fallout of a sex abuse scandal. He has challenged attitudes on divorce and homosexuality and is not shy about confronting opponents.

As Easter draws near, skilled craftsmen and gardeners are at work preparing St. Peter's Basilica and St. Peter's Square for the festivities. After Palm Sunday, Pope Francis follows a very personal Easter ritual: he visits inmates of the Regina Coeli prison to wash their feet.

Inside the Vatican can be seen on 3-2 Tuesday, the 28th at 7:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Tuesday, the 28th at 8:00 p.m.

BEDLAM

You can't get well in a cell.

"Bedlam" on Independent Lens offers a harrowing, intimate account of the current mental health crisis unfolding every day in cities around the country. The film follows the poignant stories of people grappling with schizophrenia, bipolar disorder and other chronic psychiatric conditions. Impossible to mask when untreated, their symptoms shove them into the path of police officers, ER doctors and nurses, lawyers and prison guards.

Today, one in five adults—over 40 million Americans—live with a mental illness. Most of them are left to cycle through a revolving door of insufficient care due to lack of funding, personnel and space.

Massive federal defunding shuttered mental institutions across the country from the 1950s to the 1980s, creating this bedlam on a national scale. Untold numbers of mentally ill people landed on the streets and, inevitably, stumbled on the cracks in American society that have led to misuse of jails, tens of thousands of people sleeping in parks and on sidewalks, and too many stories of loved ones lost while the clock ticks on solutions from policy makers and Big Pharma.

For those suffering with a serious mental illness in Los Angeles—the epicenter of this crisis—their only refuge is the overwhelmed and vastly underresourced psych ER emergency room of the Los Angeles County + USC Medical Center.

"Bedlam" also goes inside the Los Angeles County jail—the largest mental institution in the U.S.—where thousands of psychiatric patients are warehoused, and into the homes and homeless encampments of people affected by mental illness, where silence and shame often worsen the suffering.

"Bedlam" on Independent Lens can be seen on 3-2 Monday, the 13th at 9:00 p.m. Watch it on 3-1 Sunday, the 19th at 9:00 p.m.

THE KING OF CRIMES

What happened to Aaron Burr?

A two-hour cinematic stage play, The King of Crimes tells of the great forces that almost tore our young country apart, and the Constitution—and remarkable men—that held it together.

Treason is the "King of Crimes," the only criminal act defined in the U.S. Constitution. In 1807, Thomas Jefferson's ex-Vice President, Aaron Burr, was arrested in Alabama for treason and returned to Richmond, VA to be tried.

The Aaron Burr treason trial is one of America's most important chapters. Just three years after the deadly Hamilton duel, President Thomas Jefferson had Aaron Burr charged with treason for plotting to carve out an empire for himself out of Texas and the Louisiana Purchase? Was he gunning to start a war with Spain so he might make his move on Mexico with a private army, then declare himself a king? Or was he simply interested in the riches that the vastly unexplored lands of our continent promised?

The ensuing "Trial of the Century" captivated a young nation. What was treason and how to prove it? Did it require an open act of war against our nation, or was it enough to simply talk about it?

These questions were put to John Marshall, U.S. Chief Justice and Virginia Circuit Court judge. Richmonders and citizens from across our fledgling nation flocked to the Capitol building, unable to resist the courtroom cast of famous double crossers, spies, villains, cipher letters, thunderous speeches and the man who'd shot Alexander Hamilton in a duel.

In The King of Crimes, cousins Jefferson and Marshall square off in a historic grudge match that will help shape the balance of power in our government for centuries to come.

The King of Crimes will be broadcast on 3-2 Monday, the 20th at 8:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 26th at 10:00 p.m. On 3-1, it can be seen Sunday, the 26th at 9:00 p.m.

INHERITANCE

Thousands of women each year learn that they have a genetic predisposition to breast and ovarian cancer. The response of three women to this information is the subject of Inheritance, an unprecedented documentary about hereditary cancer, genetic mutations, and the life-altering measures devised to prevent the onset of disease in high-risk families.

The two-hour film follows Alejandra, Lilith and Bonnie, women who are genetically predisposed to breast cancer, as they undergo life-altering medical procedures in the hope of reducing their risk and saving their lives.

mutation (BRCA) carrier. Virtually all of her female ancestors and relatives on her maternal side have endured breast cancer. This toll led Alejandra to research and identify the specific genetic mutation that has plagued the women of her Mexican American family for five generations. She elected to have a double mastectomy.

Lilith Costa is an African American mother of two. Breast cancer has run so rampant in her family that even her uncle has battled the disease. After testing positive for a genetic mutation, Lilith decided to undergo a grueling 12-hour surgery to reduce her risk, removing both her breasts, her fallopian tubes and her ovaries.

Bonnie Feuerman's mother died in her early 40s of breast cancer that had metastasized. Her sister tested positive for BRCA a decade ago, but Bonnie refuses to take a genetic test, choosing to rely on intensive monitoring during her annual gynecological exam.

Inheritance will be broadcast on 3-2 Sunday, the 5th at 9:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 26th at 5:00 p.m. On 3-1, it can be seen Tuesday, the 7th at 8:00 p.m.

BLOOD SUGAR RISING

America's Hidden Diabetes Epidemic

Blood Sugar Rising follows the diabetes epidemic in the U.S. Diabetes and pre-diabetes affect over 100 million people in the U.S., costing more than $325 billion each year. It's now predicted that one in three children born since 2000 will develop the disease.

This two-hour PBS special puts human faces to these statistics, presenting intimate stories of Americans living with Type 1 and Type 2 diabetes, and personal voices from the battle against the disease. Their struggles and successes showcase the dramatic impact of this national health crisis.

The film also reveals new hopes for diabetes management and prevention—from the rise of new medical treatments to exciting discoveries about lifestyle and environmental factors. The film asks a provocative question: Why isn't there a war on diabetes?

Blood Sugar Rising airs on 3-2 Wednesday, the 15th at 8:00 p.m. and Saturday the 18th at 10:00 p.m. On 3-1, watch it Tuesday the 21st at 7:00 p.m.

The Gene: An Intimate History

The Gene: An Intimate History is a two-part, four-hour documentary based on Pulitzer Prize-winning author Dr. Siddhartha Mukherjee's book of the same name.

The Gene weaves together science, history and personal stories for a historical biography of the human genome, while also exploring breakthroughs for diagnosis and treatment of genetic diseases—and the complex ethical questions they raise.

Groundbreaking treatments will improve the lives of millions of people, but there are worries that scientists will take gene-editing technology too far, using it to modify germline DNA in order to enhance certain traits deemed "preferable."

From the prospect of genetic therapies to CRISPR—technology that allows researchers to easily alter DNA sequences and modify gene function—the film explores the complex web of moral, ethical and scientific questions facing this generation.

The two-part The Gene: An Intimate History airs on 3-2 Tuesdays at 7:00 p.m. beginning the 7th and Sundays at 10:00 p.m. beginning the 12th. On 3-1, it airs Mondays at 7:00 p.m. beginning the 13th.

Cuba's Cancer Hope The Truth About Fat

How did Cuba, a small nation cut off from modern medical technology, become a world player in cancer science? Could these new treatments actually transform some cancers from a death sentence into a chronic condition, like diabetes or high blood pressure?

The U.S. trade embargo left Cuba isolated, forcing that country's biomedical researchers to invent innovative immunotherapies, including a lung-cancer vaccine that jumpstarts the body's own immune response to a growing cancer. Their lung cancer vaccines show so much promise that some Americans are defying the embargo and traveling to Cuba for treatment.

Now, for the first time ever, Cuba's experts have joined America's leading cancer research institute to develop an even more effective treatment by combining the best of both countries' researchers and medical technologies.

"Cuba's Cancer Hope" on Nova airs on 3-2 Wednesday the 1st at 8:00 p.m. and Saturday, the 4th at 10:00 p.m. On 3-1, it will be broadcast Thursday, the 2nd at 4:00 p.m., Friday, the 3rd at 8:00 p.m., Saturday, the 4th at 11:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 5th at 4:00 p.m.

NOVA

Do we control our fat, or does it control us? For generations, fat has been the enemy, and overweight individuals have been stigmatized and shamed. But scientists are coming to understand fat as a fascinating and dynamic organ—one whose size has more to do with biological processes than personal choices.

Through real-life stories of supermodels, sumo wrestlers and hunter-gatherers, Nova explores the complex functions of fat and the role it plays in controlling hunger, hormones and even reproduction.

"The Truth About Fat" on Nova airs on 3-2 Wednesday, the 8th at 8:00 p.m. and Saturday, the 11th at 10:00 p.m. On 3-1, watch it Thursday, the 9th at 4:00 p.m., Friday, the 10th at 8:00 p.m., Saturday, the 11th at 11:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 12th at 4:00 p.m.

World on Fire

Helen Hunt portrays American broadcaster Nancy Campbell.

“World on Fire” is a gripping World War II drama that follows the intertwining fates of ordinary people in five countries as they grapple with the effects of the war on their everyday lives. Originally broadcast in the UK during fall 2019 for the 80th anniversary of the start of World War II, the epic war saga airs on Masterpiece in seven parts.

Set in Britain, Poland, France, Germany and the United States—on the frontlines and the home front—events take place during the first year of the war, from the Nazi invasion of Poland, to the near debacle at Dunkirk, to the fall of Paris and beyond.

“World on Fire” on Masterpiece airs on 3-2 Sundays at 8:00 p.m. beginning the 5th and repeats Fridays at 10:00 p.m. (11:00 p.m. on 17th). On 3-1, watch it Sundays at 7:00 p.m. beginning the 5th and Mondays at 1:00 p.m. beginning the 6th.

Baptiste

One of the “The Missing’s” best-loved characters, Tchéký Karyo revives his role as French detective Julien Baptiste in a six-part crime thriller on Masterpiece.

While Julien and his wife are visiting Amsterdam, a lunch with old flame Martha Horchner—Amsterdam’s Chief of Police—turns out to be more than a catch-up on old times: she wants his help finding Natalie, a missing girl who is the niece of Englishman Edward Stratton.

Julien meets up with Edward, but it’s not long before he realizes that all is not as it seems. As he starts to uncover some of the truths behind the lies, Julien becomes aware of the grave danger that he and his family have been drawn into.

Masterpiece “Baptiste” on 3-2 airs Sundays at 9:00 p.m. beginning the 12th. It airs on 3-1 Sundays at 8:00 p.m. beginning the 12th.

Tchéký Karyo stars as Julien Baptiste.

FORLORN HOPE

Forlorn Hope tells the story of the 1st Maine Heavy Artillery Regiment, recognized as having suffered the greatest loss of men in a single battle of any Union unit in the war.

The regiment arrived on the outskirts of Petersburg on June 16, 1864. They waited there two days to allow the Army of the Potomac to assemble more fully, during which time the Confederate Army reinforced its defensive position.

When the order came, more than 850 soldiers undertook a full-frontal charge upon the entrenched Confederates. In fewer than 10 minutes, more than 630 men had fallen, either killed or wounded, and the Confederates would not allow the wounded to be recovered or the dead retrieved.

Afterwards, General George Gordon Meade announced that there would never be another full-frontal assault conducted on an entrenched enemy position.

Forlorn Hope airs on 3-2 Sunday, the 26th at 12:00 noon and Monday, the 27th at 10:30 p.m. On 3-1, watch it Monday, the 27th at 8:30 p.m.

Broken Places

Why are some children permanently damaged by early adversity while others are able to thrive? By revisiting childhood trauma victims profiled decades ago, we learn how their experiences shaped their lives as adults.

It turns out that some of these children were so scarred by abuse and neglect that they are now in mental institutions, correctional facilities or drug rehabilitation centers.

Danny Jacob shares his story of being abandoned by his mother when she became addicted to crack cocaine.

A few died prematurely. However, there are others who managed to overcome comparable childhood stress and are now healthy, self-sufficient adults.

Broken Places interweaves these longitudinal narratives with commentary from nationally renowned experts in neurobiology and early childhood development to help viewers better understand the devastating impact of childhood adversity as well as the factors that can foster resilience.

Broken Places will be broadcast on 3-2 Monday, the 6th at 9:00 p.m. On 3-1, it can be seen Sunday, the 12th at 9:00 p.m.

Babe Ruth in Sing Sing

Babe Ruth in Sing Sing weaves back and forth between the careers of Babe Ruth, the major sports figure of his day, and Sing Sing Warden Lewis E. Lawes, “America’s Warden.” The two figures met in person when Lawes invited Babe Ruth and the New York Yankees to play an exhibition game against the Sing Sing inmates on September 5, 1929.

Coming to Sing Sing in 1920, Lawes would become part of the progressive prison reform movement, which sought to emphasize how prisoners could best be rehabilitated and reintegrated into society. His approach included expanding the Sing Sing baseball team.

While playing for the New York Yankees, Ruth held the nation spellbound with the number and distances of his home runs. At the same time, he was a model of generosity in devoting his time and money to charities. Ruth’s willingness to travel to Sing Sing and play against the inmates was emblematic of this generosity.

Babe Ruth in Sing Sing airs on 3-2 Tuesday, the 28th at 10:00 p.m. and Thursday, the 30th at 7:00 p.m. Watch it on 3-1 Friday, the 17th at 8:00 p.m.

Troubled Waters: A Turtle’s Tale explores the impact of human behavior on our environment as seen through the lens of one of South Florida’s most beloved and fragile underwater creatures—the sea turtle.

Featuring actor and ocean activist Ted Danson and narrated by Peter Coyote, this film takes a critical look at the effects of global warming, water pollution and our “throw-away” plastic lifestyle on this keystone species—a species on which other species in an ecosystem largely depend, and whose removal would drastically change the ecosystem.

With ocean health intricately linked to human activity, Troubled Waters reveals some of the technological advancements that are tackling the challenges faced by turtles and other marine mammals today.

Troubled Waters: A Turtle’s Tale can be seen on 3-2 Friday, the 3rd at 11:00 p.m. and Wednesday, the 15th at 7:00 p.m. It airs on 3-1 Wednesday, the 15th at 8:00 p.m. and Thursday, the 16th at 7:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m.

Times Have Changed!

KENW Public Radio Network listeners may have noticed some changes in the weekday afternoon schedule. Here is a brief explanation.

For decades, we have broadcast Marketplace at 4:00 p.m., All Things Considered at 4:30 p.m. and the PBS NewsHour at 6:00 p.m. Some years ago, NPR changed All Things Considered from a 90-minute program to a 2-hour one. Since we were taking Marketplace directly from the satellite at 4:00 p.m. and had to join the PBS NewsHour at 6:00 p.m., we did not have room for the entire 2-hour All Things Considered at 4:30 p.m.

Recently, Marketplace changed its satellite feed to 3:00 p.m. only. Therefore, since we were now going to have to tape and delay the program everyday anyway, it gave us an opportunity to air the full two hours of All Things Considered. However, in order to do so, we had to move our afternoon programs up one half hour.

So, Marketplace is now being broadcast at 3:30 p.m. The half hour informational programs, Tuesday through Friday, moved up to 3:00 p.m. And on Monday, Here & There with David Marsh moved to a 2:30 p.m. start.

H₂O

THE MOLECULE THAT MADE US

This landmark, three-part series tells the human story through our relationship to water. How did water arrive on Earth? How did it come to underpin every aspect of existence from dragonflies to deserts in bloom to human life? Dive in!

H₂O dramatically reveals how this life giving molecule has shaped the history of human civilization, from the rise of agriculture 10,000 years ago to 21st Century technology.

But Earth's changing water cycle—and a globalized movement towards water for profit—is forcing changes in humans' reliance on water. Can the Earth's water supplies guarantee our future?
