INDEPENDENT THE KING

Forty years after the death of Elvis Presley, climb into his 1963 Rolls-Royce for a musical road trip and timely meditation on modern America, when "The King" premieres on Independent Lens.

From Tupelo to Memphis to New York, Las Vegas, and countless points between, the journey explores the rise and fall of Elvis as a metaphor for the country he left behind. What emerges is a visionary portrait of the state of the American dream and a penetrating look at how we got here.

Far more than a two-hour musical biopic, "The King" is a snapshot of America at a critical time in the nation's history. Tracing Elvis' life and career from his birth and meteoric rise in the deep south to his tragic and untimely end in Hollywood and Las Vegas, "The King" covers a vast distance across contemporary America, painting a parallel portrait of the nation's own heights and depths, from its inspired origins to its perennial struggles with race, class, power, and money.

Over thousands of miles, a diverse group of passengers join the journey, including Alec Baldwin, Rosanne Cash, Chuck D, Emmylou Harris, Ethan Hawke, James Carville, Ashton Kutcher, David Simon, Van Jones, Mike Myers, and Dan Rather, among others.

"The King" on Independent Lens can be seen on 3-2 Monday, the 28th at 8:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs in early February.

Controversial and unapologetic, Watson still thrives on competition and disruption. The film uncovers his signature achievements, complexities, and contradictions, including his penchant for expressing unfiltered and objectionable points of view.

"James Watson" on American Masters can be seen on 3-2 Wednesday, the 2nd at 9:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 6th at 10:30 p.m. On 3-1, it will be broadcast Monday, the 7th at 7:00 p.m.

USS Indianapolis: The Final Chapter

USS Indianapolis: The Final Chapter is a scientific detective story detailing the discovery of the USS Indianapolis wreck site under the Philippine Sea, while revealing the riveting history of the ill-fated ship and its final voyage. The ship's sinking during World War II marks the largest loss of life in U.S. Naval history, with only 316 of nearly 1,200 sailors surviving the attack.

The tragic end of the Indianapolis and the location of her remains have been shrouded in mystery for more than seven decades, until now. The film follows Paul G. Allen's expedition team aboard his research vessel as they search the remote Philippine Sea and uncover the well-preserved wreckage of the Indianapolis nearly 18,000 feet beneath the surface.

Woven throughout the 90-minute documentary is the story of Captain Charles Butler McVay III, who survives the sinking of his ship only to face a Navy court-martial—the only captain in U.S. history convicted for losing his ship in wartime.

In the waning days of WWII, the cruiser USS

Indianapolis had just delivered "Little Boy"—the atomic bomb destined for Hiroshima—and sailed off to join the Allied invasion force. The captain of the ship, Charles Butler McVay III, was eager to arrive in Leyte in order to begin training his inexperienced crew. After the U.S. deciphered Japanese communication codes, the Navy knew there would be enemy submarines along McVay's route. But that warning did not get to McVay in time and he sailed off without

On the dark and cloudy night of July 30, 1945, the USS Indianapolis sailed with no lights on to avoid being seen. For a moment, just after midnight, the clouds parted and Indianapolis was spotted, alone and vulnerable. Torpedoed by a Japanese submarine in the middle of the Philippine Sea, she sank within minutes, taking 300 of her crew down with her. The remaining 900 survivors drifted for four and a half days, battling the sun, thirst, sharks, and their own fear.

It was a disaster that owes as much to bureaucratic snafus as it does to enemy action: the Navy lost track of the ship and failed to mount a search. It was only by chance that a passing plane happened to spot the survivors and only 316 of the nearly 1,200 original crew were pulled from the sea alive.

In 1968, Captain McVay committed suicide, sparking a campaign by his loyal crew to clear his name—a campaign joined by the captain of a nuclear submarine who risks his own career to right the injustice.

USS Indianapolis: The Final Chapter will be broadcast on 3-2 Tuesday, the 8th at 9:00 p.m. and Thursday, the 10th at 7:00 p.m. On 3-1, it can be seen Monday, the 14th at 7:00 p.m.

Victoria Season 3 Premieres

It is 1848, and revolution is breaking out across Europe. In Britain, one woman stands between order and chaos: Queen Victoria. Jenna Coleman returns as the young but fearless monarch, facing a crisis that threatens to end her reign, on "Victoria, Season 3" on Masterpiece.

As Season 3 gets underway, Victoria is pregnant with her sixth child. But she has much else on her mind, chiefly the Revolutions of 1848, when the downtrodden throughout Europe begin agitating for the overthrow of aristocratic rule.

In England, this discontent leads to Chartism, a set of demands for universal male suffrage, the secret ballot, equal representation for voters, and other reforms that were considered radical by leading political figures during Victoria's reign. As with many crusades, passions are aroused on both sides—sometimes violently.

At Buckingham Palace, Victoria is reluctant to risk more pregnancies. Parents now of six, Victoria and Albert find themselves at odds about their offspring, especially the troubled Bertie, the role of the monarchy, and increasingly with each other.

"Victoria, Season 3" on Masterpiece can be seen on 3-2 Sundays at 8:00 p.m. beginning the 13th and Fridays, the 18th at 11:00 p.m. and the 25th at 11:30 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Sundays at 7:00 p.m. beginning the 13th and repeats Mondays at 1:00 p.m. and the following Sunday at 6:00 p.m.

Victoria & Albert: The Wedding

In Victoria & Albert: The Wedding, historian Lucy Worsley oversees the glorious re-imagining of one of the most famous weddings of all time, that of Queen Victoria and her consort Prince Albert. The two-part series celebrates an enduring love that was to melt the nation's heart and the wedding that was to change British matrimonial ceremonies for generations of brides to come.

Aided by experts, Lucy painstakingly recreates the most important elements of the wedding celebrations, scouring history books, archives, newspapers, and even Victoria's very own diaries for details.

From the dress and the bouquet, to the beautifully tiered cake and the music for the ceremony, each element has been carefully researched and remade by hand, leading to the most accurate reconstruction of Victoria and Albert's wedding ever staged.

Victoria & Albert: The Wedding airs on 3-2 Sundays at 7:00 p.m. and 9:00 p.m. beginning the 13th. On 3-1, it can be seen Sundays at 8:00 p.m. beginning the 13th and Mondays at 2:00 p.m. beginning the 14th.

Equus: Story of the Horse

The relationship between man and his noble steed is almost as old as civilization itself, allowing our species to explore, conquer, and flourish side by side with the horse.

The two-part "Equus: Story of the Horse" on Nature traces this revolutionizing partnership. It treks around the world in search of the moment when man first climbed into the saddle, and explains how the relationship between humans and horses has evolved in today's modern world.

Discover the habits of these majestic animals and their unique biological makeup, which made them a perfect fit for our ancestors. Ride along with the world's last nomadic tribes who view the horse not just as an animal, but a means of survival. Witness the return of horses to the wild as mankind preserves the hardest-working animal partners we've ever had.

"Equus: Story of the Horse" on Nature airs on 3-2 Wednesdays at 7:00 p.m. beginning the 16th and Saturdays at 11:00 p.m. beginning the 19th. On 3-1, it airs Wednesdays at 9:00 p.m. beginning the 16th, Thursdays at 2:00 p.m. beginning the 17th, and Mondays at 6:00 a.m. beginning the 21st.

Jared Diamond's Rise of the Third Chimpanzee

Jared Diamond's Rise of the Third Chimpanzee is a six-part series of lectures featuring Jared Diamond— a UCLA professor and the Pulitzer Prize-winning author of Guns, Germs, and Steel: The Fates of Human Socieities—who traces the footsteps of humanity, from the apes to the challenges of today.

Presented from the Los Angeles Zoo, the first episode explores how we share 98.4 percent of our DNA with chimpanzees. What's in the extra 1.6 percent that gave us music, art, culture, and an advantage over other animals? A master storyteller, Dr. Diamond looks to evolution for clues, and dives into the origins of human language.

In subsequent episodes, Diamond unravels the mysterious mechanisms that determine how humans and animals choose their mates, with a fresh take on Charles Darwin's theory of sexual selection. He also explores the unique features of the human lifecycle, examining the evolutionary process for evidence as to how we became what we are.

In part four, Diamond reveals agriculture's influence on our development over the last 11,000 years and its contribution to the inequality between nations that exist to this day.

Diamond also investigates our species' shocking capacity for murder, war, and genocide, and the "us vs. them" mentality we share with other animals.

Finally, in the sixth installment, Diamond examines the dangers of the growing wealth gap within societies and between nations, and leaves us with an urgent warning that now is the time to pursue solutions.

Jared Diamond's Rise of the Third Chimpanzee will be broadcast on 3-2 Sundays at 6:00 p.m. beginning the 6th and Sundays at 10:00 p.m. beginning the 13th. On 3-1, it can be seen Tuesdays at 7:00 p.m. beginning the 8th on KENW-TV.

AM RICAN EXPERIENCE

The Swamp

"The Swamp," a two-hour American Experience, chronicles the dramatic history of Florida's Everglades, the deadly quest to conquer it, and the ensuing drive to save one of nature's most mysterious and unique ecosystems. A story of greed, hubris, and destruction, it is told through the lives of a handful of colorful and resolute characters, from hucksters to politicians to unlikely activists. As the world copes with increasingly deadly weather events, "The Swamp" is a timely tale of the perils of mankind's abuse of nature.

Florida's Everglades was an immense watershed covering the southern half of the Florida peninsula. But to most progress-minded Americans, the Everglades was a useless swamp filled with deadly diseases and vile reptiles. Entrepreneurs and politicians saw great potential in draining the Everglades and turning the massive wetland into a profitable enterprise.

Philadelphia industrialist Hamilton Disston was the first to make a serious effort to drain the Everglades. In 1881, he purchased four million acres of swampland from the state, dug canals that opened up dry land, and attracted newcomers, but a season of heavy rains flooded farms and frustrated his plans.

Governor Napoleon Bonaparte Broward, who took office in 1905, promised to finish what Disston had started. He convinced people that the Everglades could be drained. As he exited office, Broward sold a huge tract of the Everglades to land speculator Richard Bolles who sold thousands of parcels sight unseen to would-be farmers and settlers from all over the country.

Many new landowners soon discovered that their investment was still underwater. "I have bought land by the acre, and I have bought land by the foot," said one purchaser, "but, my God, I have never bought land by the gallon."

While voices began to question the constant call to "drain and develop" the Everglades, it was a group of well-connected women who would be the first to protect a piece of this unique wilderness, home to a profusion of plants and animals found nowhere else on the continent.

Altering the landscape of the Everglades had unleashed a torrent of unintended deadly consequences, from catastrophic floods to brutal droughts, including the 1928 Lake Okeechobee Hurricane that would become the second deadliest natural disaster in American history, drowning 2,500 people, mostly black migrant laborers.

As attempts to conquer the Everglades continued to wreak havoc on the environment, efforts increased to preserve and understand this vital ecosystem. Ernest Coe moved to Miami in 1925 and fell in love with what remained of the Florida Everglades. Creating a large national park became his life's work, and he drew many other influential people into his cause, including Miami Herald writer Marjory Stoneman Douglas, who publicized the national park campaign and would become one of the most passionate and effective advocates for the Everglades. Efforts paid off and, in 1934, President Franklin Delano Roosevelt signed a bill authorizing the creation of Everglades National Park.

"The Swamp" on American Experience can be seen on 3-2 Tuesday, the 15th at 8:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Monday, the 21st at 7:00 p.m.

INDEPENDENT LENS -

My Country No More

Between 2011 and 2016, oil drilling in rural North Dakota set off a modern-day gold rush in Trenton, North Dakota, population less than 1000. With billions of dollars to be gained in the state, towns like Trenton became overwhelmed by an influx of workers, and countless acres of farmland were repurposed for industrial development.

"My Country No More" on Independent Lens is the story of a small town caught between economic opportunity and personal regret. The film challenges the long-term human consequences of short-term approaches to land use.

One man's decision to sell a piece of land for a planned ethanol plant sets off a chain of consequences from which there is no turning back. The community becomes divided, with some favoring development and others bemoaning the loss of their rural way of life.

"My Country No More" on Independent Lens will be broadcast on 3-2 Monday, the 7th at 9:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 13th at 11:00 p.m. On 3-1, it can be seen Sunday, the 13th at 9:00 p.m.

RUMBLE: The Indians Who Rocked the World

"RUMBLE: The Indians Who Rocked the World" on Independent Lens is an electrifying look at the Native American influence in popular music, despite attempts to ban, censor, and erase Indian culture.

As the folk rock era took hold in the '60s and '70s, Native Americans such as Peter La Farge and Buffy Sainte-Marie helped to define its evolution, and Native guitarists and drummers like Link Wray, Jimi Hendrix, Jesse Ed Davis, and Randy Castillo forever changed the trajectory of rock and roll.

The film brings the music and musicians to life with stories told by some of the music legends who knew them, played with them, and were inspired by them, including Robbie Robertson (Mohawk), George Clinton, Taj Mahal, Slash, Jackson Browne, Taboo (Shoshone/Mexican), Buddy Guy, Quincy Jones, Derek Trucks, Tony Bennett, Iggy Pop, Steven Tyler, and Stevie Van Zandt.

"RUMBLE" on Independent Lens airs on 3-2 Monday, the 21st at 9:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 27th at 11:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Sunday, the 27th at 9:00 p.m.

Evolution of America: 1619 to Today

Across centuries, the long term ramifications of what took place in the seemingly obscure year of 1619 have both bedeviled and helped define the United States. Evolution of America: 1619 to Today explores four of these pivotal events, making a coherent connection between 1619 and 2019.

- The meeting of the General Assembly in Jamestown, Virginia in 1619.
- The arrival of the first Africans to British North America.
- The recruitment of single women to stabilize and make permanent the nascent English settlement at Jamestown.
- The first "official" Thanksgiving, which was a religious expression rather than a harvest feast. In addition to other experts, this discussion features Graham Woodlief, a direct descendent of the Captain who oversaw the first Thanksgiving.

Evolution of America: 1619 to Today airs on 3-2, Sunday, the 20th at 2:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 27th at 7:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Tuesday, the 8th at 9:00 p.m. and Wednesday, the 9th at 9:00 a.m.

Beyond Pluto

When the New Horizons spacecraft whizzed by Pluto in 2015, it beamed home a never before seen alien landscape—a world of mountains made of ice mixed with plains of frozen-solid methane and nitrogen. After over two years of pouring over the data, scientists have made remarkable new discoveries about everyone's favorite dwarf planet.

Now, New Horizons is at it again, this time "Beyond Pluto." On New Year's Day 2019, this craft will fly by an object known now as MU69, which is believed to be a primordial building block of the solar system. This will be the most distant flyby in NASA history-4 billion miles from Earth. And, it will shed light on one of the least understood regions of our solar system: the Kuiper Belt.

Nova will again be embedded with the New Horizons mission team to follow the action as they uncover in real time the secrets of what lies "Beyond Pluto."

"Beyond Pluto" on Nova airs on 3-2 Wednesday, the 2nd at 8:00 p.m. and Saturday, the 5th at 10:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Thursday, the 3rd at 4:00 p.m., Friday, the 4th at 8:00 p.m., Saturday, the 5th at 11:00 p.m., and Sunday, the 6th at 4:00 p.m.

Einstein's Quantum Riddle

NOVA

Einstein called it "spooky action at a distance," but today quantum entanglement is poised to revolutionize technology from computers to cryptography.

As Nova reports in "Einstein's Quantum Riddle," physicists have gradually become convinced that the phenomenon—two subatomic particles that mirror changes in each other instantaneously over any distanceis real. But a few doubts remain.

Nova follows a ground-breaking experiment in the Canary Islands to use quasars at opposite ends of the universe to once and for all settle remaining questions.

"Einstein's Quantum Riddle" on Nova can be seen on 3-2 Wednesday, the 9th at 8:00 p.m. and Saturday, the 12th at 10:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Thursday, the 10th at 4:00 p.m., Friday, the 11th at 8:00 p.m., Saturday, the 12th at 11:00 p.m., and Sunday, the 13th at 4:00 p.m.

Island Volcano

In May of 2018, the Kilauea Volcano erupted, obliterating neighborhoods with devastating forces and uprooting thousands of local inhabitants. It is the most destructive volcano eruption in Hawaii in over a century.

How can one of the most beautiful places on Earth suddenly transform into a roaring inferno, sputtering molten lava and bombs of volcanic rock the size of refrigerators?

On the ground in the early days of the eruption, Nova joins scientists and residents alike on a breathtaking journey to investigate Kilauea's recent spike in activity. Along the way, some of Hawaii's biggest secrets are revealed: Why did these geologically distinctive volcanoes form in the middle of the Pacific? How did life establish itself on the remote islands? And what dangers yet lurk for the local inhabitants of the island paradise?

"Island Volcano" on Nova airs on 3-2 Wednesday, the 23rd at 8:00 p.m. and Saturday, the 26th at 10:00 p.m. On 3-1, it can be seen Thursday, the 24th at 4:00 p.m., Friday, the 25th at 8:00 p.m., Saturday, the 26th at 11:00 p.m., and Sunday, the 27th at 4:00 p.m.

A Spark of Nerve

A Spark of Nerve is a remarkable story of life-changing innovation and personal triumph. The film focuses on the groundbreaking work of Dr. Susan E. Mackinnon, known for her success in restoring movement to limbs that many doctors believe to be permanently paralyzed. With a pioneering technique called nerve transfer surgery, patients are rewired with their own redundant nerves, retraining the brain to move lifeless muscles.

The film follows the charismatic Mackinnon and several of her patients on their emotional journeys from trauma and disappointment to hope and finally joy as movement is slowly regained. Loren was fifteen when she was brutally stabbed, severing the nerves in her neck. Michael suffered a freak chain saw accident while Chelsey survived a horrific car wreck. As a quadriplegic, Tom no longer had use of his hands.

A Spark of Nerve will be broadcast on 3-2, Thursday, the 3rd at 7:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 6th at 2:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Tuesday, the 8th at 8:00 a.m. and Tuesday, the 15th at 9:00 p.m.

The Dictator's Playbook

The Dictator's Playbook is a new six-part series that chronicles the rise and fall of six of the 20th century's most infamous rulers— Kim Il Sung, Saddam Hussein, Benito Mussolini, Manuel Noriega, Francisco Franco, and Idi Amin. The series examines the historical, sociological, and psychological foundations of these brutal men, and provides fresh insight into their impact on world history. As different as these men were from each other, they followed a set of essential steps, from seizing power to eliminating enemies—an unwritten "dictator's playbook."

While focusing specifically on the individual dictators and their countries, each episode asks a series of questions that allows viewers to understand the politics and psychology of dictatorships, including: What drove their thirst for domination and control? and How did they finally come to the bitter end?

The Dictator's Playbook can be seen on 3-2 Wednesdays at 9:00 p.m. beginning the 9th and Sundays at 5:00 p.m. beginning the 13th. On 3-1, it airs Wednesdays at 8:00 p.m. beginning the 9th.

In Money We Trust?

In a narrative that begins in ancient times and takes us to the present day, In Money We Trust? explains how, 2,500 years ago, the invention of money provided a shared measure of value that facilitated trade and cooperation between strangers. Sound, trustworthy money has throughout history fueled great human achievement—from the emergence of philosophy to the high-tech revolution.

In Money We Trust? also explores the destructive consequences that ensue when inflation or other forms of instability cause money not to be trusted. In the most extreme instances, such as in Weimar Germany or present-day Venezuela, the economy—and social order—collapses.

Featuring more than 20 distinguished experts, the film shows how the loss of trust in money during modern times has given rise to cryptocurrencies, greater income inequality, and social turmoil.

In Money We Trust? airs on 3-2 Tuesday, the 15th at 10:00 p.m. and Thursday, the 17th at 7:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Monday, the 28th at 8:00 p.m.
