

Maine Public Broadcasting Network

We Take You There

Friends,

IT HAS BEEN AN EXCITING YEAR at MPBN, and I am pleased to tell you that we have weathered all of our challenges, embraced our successes and believe that MPBN, in keeping with our mission, stands tall as Maine's primary source for quality news, information, and entertainment.

MPBN's award-winning news department continues to be relied on across Maine for the depth of our coverage, and that strength was reinforced with the launch of the Maine Capitol Connection which offered statewide TV coverage of the Legislature for the first time in Maine history. We saw additional popularity in the expansion of our noontime Maine Calling. Our election coverage, both on radio and television and additionally online, was lauded by our viewers, listeners, and members as being comprehensive and essential in charting the voting season in Maine and across the country. The news team has been busy!

Our radio listenership itself continued to rise as program changes resulting from listener feedback and our Community Advisory Board hit their mark. Local programming like In Tune with Sara Willis and Jazz Tonight with Rich Tozier grew audience share and legions of new followers. Our strategy for radio pledge, the one-day "Super Thursday" format, tapped into listeners' enthusiasm to keep the programs interruption-free as much as possible and has proven to be a true success.

The television side, too, experienced an exciting year, led of course by the juggernaut known as Downton Abbey. The quality and breadth of programs coming to us from PBS – from NOVA to new Masterpiece offerings – continue to really impress us and excite our audience. MPBN released its own documentary, Sixteenth Maine at Gettysburg, to great fanfare as the film was debuted on MPBN Television on the 150th Anniversary of Gettysburg itself. Talk about timing!

This was a year of significant financial challenges, leading to staff reductions and a reassessment of our strategic plan. We carefully navigated these waters and believe that the changes we made remain in keeping with our stated focus on journalism, integrating the possibilities of new technologies across all our platforms, and driving sustainability across our footprint. We are positioning ourselves to serve our current and future audiences well.

I am saddened to report that two great friends of MPBN, former CEO and President Jim Dowe, whose deft leadership during periods of financial uncertainty served MPBN incredibly well, and former board member and longtime supporter Albert Glickman, passed away this past year. Their enthusiasm for public broadcasting and love for MPBN were contagious and remain a palpable force within our organization today. They will be greatly missed.

One major achievement occurred with the Maine State Legislature, as the MPBN governance structure that has been in place for the past twenty-two years was modified to allow for more flexibility in our statewide board. The founding institutions and their leaders, the presidents of Bowdoin, Bates and Colby Colleges, as well as the Chancellor of UMS, will move out of their state-mandated roles as trustees, and instead will become trusted friends and supporters. And their attention and care will continue as our relationship evolves. This is an appropriate time to thank these individuals and their institutions for their dedication to the cause of public broadcasting. Our roots are deep in the soil of higher education in Maine, and we see this continuing and expanding as MPBN continues to evolve and grow.

We want to thank you – the tens of thousands of contributors to public radio and television here in Maine – for your steadfast support and the relationship that we have formed with each of you. The personal importance of our programming is something you have told us about day in and day out, and we have worked diligently this past year to be your partner.

The ensuing pages detail just a few of the exciting developments that have taken place at MPBN over the past year and what we have accomplished. Your support has made all of this possible. Thank you!

Best regards,

Mark Vogelzang, President & CEO

Our Mission

Every day, the Maine Public Broadcasting Network connects the people of Maine to each other, to the world, and the world to Maine through the open exchange of information, ideas and cultural content. As Maine's premier, independent public media resource, we create exceptional opportunities for the communities we serve to engage with critical issues, compelling stories and quality entertainment.

The Year in Review

MPBN once again relied upon a slew of volunteers to assist both with radio and television pledge drives. Our MPBN Super Thursday format for radio pledge is a completely unique fundraising model for public radio across the nation.

Launched to bring greater transparency to the State House, Maine Capitol Connection provides live coverage of the legislative, judicial and executive branches in Augusta. A number of firsts have taken place with the arrival of Maine Capitol Connection, including the first live broadcast of the entire legislative session (House and Senate) and the first broadcast of oral arguments before the Maine Supreme Court!

Masterpiece's Downton Abbey took Maine (and the nation!) by storm as a record number of viewers watched the trials and tribulations of Lord Grantham, Lady Mary and the entire cast.

MPBN joined in the fun with two screenings – at the Portland Museum of Art in Portland and The Frontier in Brunswick – and welcomed attendees dressed in period attire to enjoy their evenings in style!

News Director Keith Shortall went on camera (and YouTube!) to help MPBN launch a buzz event at a driving range in the Lewiston/Auburn area to raise awareness of MPBN's Car Talk Vehicle Donation Program. Vehicle donations have continued to grow year after year, and this year the membership team hit a new high mark. FORE! never sounded so good!

MPBN received a $750,000 USDA Rural Development grant allowing for the replacement of old analog microwave equipment across our system. A total of 26 analog microwave transmitters and 28 microwave receivers that had been in significant need of repairs across the state were targeted, allowing MPBN to serve rural Maine more reliably and provide greater data to the entire state.

A wonderful accomplishment this past year was the release of MPBN's newest documentary, Sixteenth Maine at Gettysburg. The film gained significant exposure across Maine and the country, and MPBN held public screenings across the state. Pictured above, capturing footage of Civil War reenactors at Pineland Farms in New Gloucester, Maine, for this production.

The Year in Review

MPBN's Emmy nominated Sustainable Maine series, developed through MPBN's partnership with cutting-edge scientists and researchers in Maine EPSCoR's Sustainability Solutions Initiative, showcased how SSI researchers, stakeholders, and communities have come together to tackle some of the state's most complex issues. (Photos: Ken Woisard.)

MPBN was out in the community in full force, from Irwin Gratz and Suzanne Nance introducing the Portland Pirates in a home game in Portland to Sara Willis at the Common Ground Country Fair to selling out cinemas for the simulcast of Wait Wait... Don't Tell Me!

MPBN's coverage of the Maine Principal's Association High School Basketball Tournament had an unexpected outcome for MPBN. MPBN staff were on the spot capturing the last-second heroics in the Class A East title game between Lawrence and Hampden. The resulting video clip became an Internet sensation, and the highlight was shown as part of ESPN's SportsCenter's "Top 10 Plays."

Balanced, in-depth coverage of elections, debates, and politics is at the heart of public broadcasting, and keeping the electorate informed about and engaged in the issues important to Maine is central to our mission. MPBN's Your Vote 2012 provided Maine with comprehensive coverage of all the political races, debates and issues across all of MPBN's communication channels. (AP photos.)

MPBN celebrated music of every kind in a big way with the Music that Moves ME initiative with audio diary clips airing on radio, listeners submitting their own musical reminiscences, and celebrating free music on a single day across Maine. We also collected a treasure trove of musical instruments for needy performers.

Thank You For Your Support!

MPNB IS ABLE TO PROVIDE QUALITY PROGRAMMING and the sharing of news and information because we are financially supported by individual members, grants and foundations and businesses throughout the year. Donors believe in our mission and want to ensure that MPBN continues to stay strong and grow as the world of public broadcasting changes and shifts in an evolving media age. Hundreds of thousands of people, from all corners of Maine and around New England, find value in MPBN every day and contribute, and are the largest source of our revenue.

At the end of Fiscal Year 2013 our membership was a strong 45,720 and 331 organizations supported us with underwriting. As you can see in the pie chart, Members and Community Support is the most important source of income for MPBN. Our donors support their favorite programs – on radio and television – through one-time gifts or monthly Evergreen gifts. Every donor and every dollar is crucial to MPBN's success. We are humbled by the financial support from our listeners and viewers.

Thank you!

Jennifer Foley, Vice President of Development and the Development Team at MPBN
