Joseph Rosendo's Travelscope Maine: Town & Country

On Friday, July 31 at 9:00 p.m., Create features Joseph's southern Maine adventure. From brew masters to boat builders, from the Oyster Lady to the Lobsterman Family, Joseph meets the Mainers that are carrying on the traditions and maritime heritage of the state and those that are in the forefront of innovation and change. He explores the historic sites of Portland and discovers the joys of going off-the-beaten-track in the fishing villages and towns of the beautiful Blue Hill Peninsula. On his travels, Joseph samples the citified and rural pleasures of the country's most forested state. ■

Clinton

On American Experience

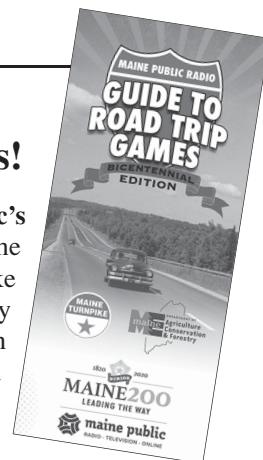

Tuesdays, July 21-28, 8:00 pm

From draft dodging to the Dayton Accords, from Monica Lewinsky to a balanced budget, the presidency of William Jefferson Clinton veered between sordid scandal and grand achievement. Clinton explores the story of an American president who rose from a broken childhood in Arkansas to become one of the most successful politicians in modern American history and one of the most complex and conflicted characters to ever stride across the public stage. It recounts a career full of accomplishment and rife with scandal, a marriage that would make history and create controversy, and a presidency that would define the crucial and transformative period between the fall of the Berlin Wall and 9/11. It follows Clinton across his two terms as he confronted some of the key forces that would shape the future, including partisan political warfare and domestic and international terrorism. The film features unprecedented access to Clinton insiders, including White House Press Secretary Dee Dee Myers, White House Counsel Bernard Nussbaum, White House Chief of Staff Leon Panetta as well as interviews with foreign leaders, members of the Republican opposition, and others. ■

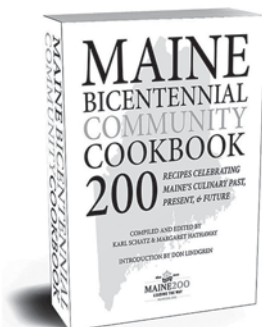

Pick up our Bicentennial Edition of Road Trip Games!

Our Bicentennial Edition of Maine Public's Guide to Road Trip Games is hot off the presses and is available at Maine Turnpike Service Plazas starting on the 4th of July weekend! Maine Public has teamed up with the Maine Bureau of Highway Safety and the Maine Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry to create a travel guide that you and your family can use on every car trip this summer! You can also request one by sending us a note at 323 Marginal Way, Portland, ME 04101 or by emailing us at FUN@mainepublic.org and we'll get one right out to you! ■

The Dash of Maine Cooking Challenge is ON!

Grab your mixing bowls, measuring cups, and spices because we've got something very special for all you home cooks out there this July and August! Introducing our bicentennial-themed "Dash of Maine Cooking Challenge!"

The Maine Bicentennial Community Cookbook has just been published (!) and it is a must-have for kitchens across Maine. Inside its pages are recipes and stories centered around Maine's culinary past, present and future. With Karl Schatz and Margaret Hathaway, the creative team behind the cookbook, we have pulled out six bicentennial recipes that we are certain you'll want to tackle in your home kitchen. And the reward? Great dishes to wow your family and the chance to win a copy of the cookbook for your very self.

Starting the week of June 28th, each Sunday for six weeks, we will post up one bicentennial recipe on our website and over social media. By that Friday, you will need to send us a picture of the completed dish at your table. This gives you a whole week to secure the necessary ingredients and make the dish yourself. You can submit your picture (along with your phone number so we can contact you if you are chosen) to us at FUN@mainepublic.org. We will post many of these entries on our website and over social media. We will then randomly pick one winner each week and award them a complimentary copy of the Maine Bicentennial Community Cookbook! You have six chances to win over the course of the cooking challenge!

HUGE THANKS to Southern Maine Community College and the Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry who have made this cooking series possible. Start baking and good luck! ■

~ 100th Anniversary of Women's Right to Vote ~

The Vote

Premieres Monday-Tuesday, July 6-7, at 9:00 pm

IN 1920, THE 19TH AMENDMENT to the U.S. Constitution gave women the right to vote. A new four-hour, two-part documentary series focuses primarily on the movement's militant and momentous final decade. The Vote on American Experience charts American women's determined march to the ballot box, and illuminates the myriad social, political and cultural obstacles that stood in their path.

The film delves deeply into the animating controversies that divided the nation in the early 20th century – gender, race, states' rights, and political power – and offers an absorbing lesson in the delicate, often fractious dynamics of social change. Timed to the 100th anniversary of the passage of the 19th Amendment, The Vote is narrated by Kate Burton and features the voices of Mae Whitman (Alice Paul), Audra McDonald (Ida B. Wells), Laura Linney (Carrie Chapman Catt) and Patricia Clarkson (Harriot Stanton Blatch) portraying some of the unsung warriors of the movement.

Although rightly regarded as a milestone for both American women and American democracy, the 19th Amendment was not quite the simple turning point it is generally perceived to be. Millions of women voted before the amendment and millions more were prohibited from voting after it, particularly African American women in the South. Nor was the ballot a favor bestowed upon women by an enlightened, progressive society. The right to vote was, in fact, fought for and won – by three generations of American women. Over the course of more than seven decades, they not only carried out one of the most sustained and successful political movements in all of American history, but were also the first to employ the techniques of nonviolent civil disobedience that later would become the hallmark of American political protest.

From the moment the clamor for women's suffrage first was raised in the United States, in the 1840s, the question was how the vote would ever be won. Resistance to women's participation in the political sphere came from every quarter of American society – from political machines eager to maintain their power, industrial interests fearful for their profits, even many women, who were convinced that wielding the ballot would somehow diminish their influence in society. Compounding the opposition, from the late 19th century on, was the poisonous legacy of Reconstruction and the determination of the former Confederate states to preserve white supremacy, in large part by barring African Americans from the polls.

"The hard-fought campaign waged by American women for the right to vote was a truly transformative cultural and political movement, resulting in the largest expansion of voting rights in American history," says executive producer Susan Bellows.

Dramatic and thought-provoking, The Vote is, at its core, a story about power – "who has it and who doesn't want to give it up," says constitutional lawyer and writer Michael Waldman. "We're still fighting over who has that power."
