Intelligence Squared U.S. - Embrace the Common Core?

Airs Sunday, October 12 at 6 p.m.

In K-12 education, there is nothing more controversial than the Common Core State Standards, national academic standards in English and math. Adopted by more than 40 states, they were developed, in part, to address concerns that American students were falling behind their foreign counterparts and graduating high school without the necessary skills for college and the workforce. But is this the reform we've been looking for? Has the federal government overreached and saddled our schools with standards that have been flawed from the start?

World War One Living History Project: Centenary Edition

Airs Sunday, November 9 at 6 - 8 pm.

In 2006, the original 4.5 million doughboys of World War One had shrunk to a mere handful of veterans, aged 105 to 113. The World War I Living History Project was the only media project to recognize the legacy and contributions of this passing generation of soldiers. The producers traveled the country, interviewing the last 10 soldiers of the “war to end all wars.” The award-winning program was hosted by veteran CBS anchor Walter Cronkite and was the subject of a CNN feature.

With Good Reason: Messages From a Forgotten Troopship

Airs Tuesday, November 11 at 7 p.m.

In the 1960s, it took almost three weeks to cross the sea from America to Vietnam. Three weeks for young men in crowded cabins with salt water showers and absolutely nothing to do but think about home, the war, and what might be next. In this Memorial Day special episode we focus on a single troopship, the General Nelson M. Walker, and a few of the soldiers who traveled on it. There’s the man who wrote home about the voyage to Vietnam—about tanning oil, hillbilly radio, and a run-in with a typhoon. Another who survived the jungles of Vietnam, only to return home and feel as though democracy had passed him by. And then there’s the fiancée who snuck on board to say one last goodbye to her lover before he was killed in action. Through found tape and contemporary interviews, we recreate the troopship experience and capture the moments outside of combat—three weeks there, and, for the lucky ones—three weeks back. Later in the show: Women journalists who covered the Vietnam War are often not given their proper due when the history of the conflict is told. Joynce Hoffman is the author of On Their Own: Women Journalists in Vietnam. She shares stories of women who won esteemed prizes for their reporting and several who broke new ground covering the war. Plus: In recent years, more and more military mothers have been deployed throughout the world. Mona Ternus says there’s a connection between the length of time military mothers are deployed and an increase in drug use, attempted suicide, and other risk factors for their children.

A Salute In Song For Veterans Day

Airs Tuesday, November 11 at 8 p.m.

She'll be joined by organist Kermit Poling and the concert is free and open to all.

Health Matters: Childhood Upper Respiratory Illnesses

Airs Thursday, December 4 at 6 p.m.

This week on Health Matters Dr. Randall Brewer will host and welcomes special guests Dr. Brett Koder from Ark-La-Tex Ear, Nose and Throat and Dr. Steven Bienvenu, Associate Professor of Pediatrics at LSU Health. They will examine childhood upper respiratory illnesses and will take your questions at 800-552-8502. Join us for Health Matters, Thursday night at 6p p.m. on Red River Radio.

American Radioworks: The First Family of Radio: Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt's Historic Broadcasts

Airs Sunday, December 7 at 6 p.m. Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt were the "first couple" of American radio. FDR's prowess before the microphone is well documented. But few people remember that Eleanor Roosevelt was a radio star in her own right – with commercial sponsors paying top dollar for her talents as a news commentator. She remains the only first lady to hold a job while living in the White House. The Roosevelts forever changed the way Americans relate to their chief executive and his family.

Red River Radio Spotlight: Angelina Arts presents the Nutcracker

Aired Tuesday, December 9 at 12 noon.

Bill Beckett spoke with Tracy Pinkerton, the Executive Director of the Angelina Arts Alliance, about the Nutcracker featuring the Mejia Ballet International.

Red River Radio Spotlight: We Wish You A Merry Christmas

Airs Wednesday, December 10, at 12 noon.

Bill Beckett spoke with Soprano Martha Hollier about the second annual Christmas Concert which takes place this Saturday, December 13 at 3 pm in the Singing Pines Recreational Complex of Hosston, located at 14905 Oak St. Hosston, LA. The concert is free and open to all.

Health Matters: Fertility and Reproductive Medicine

Airs Thursday, December 11 at 6 p.m.

This week on Health Matters Dr. Sanford Katz will host a program with guests Dr. David Vandermolen with Ark-La-Tex Fertility and Reproductive Medicine. They will discuss causes of infertility and available treatments and your questions will be taken at 800-552-8502.

Health Matters: Surviving the Holidays

Airs Thursday, December 18 at 6 pm.

This week on Health Matters Psychologist Dr. Mark Vigen and Licensed Counselor Shelly Visconte provided tips on surviving the holidays and answered your questions.

Red River Radio Spotlight: Holiday Pops with the Shreveport Symphony Orchestra

Aired Friday, December 19 at 11 a.m.

Kermit Poling spoke with guest artists Gary Mauer and Elizabeth Southard who come straight from Broadway to share the stage with the Shreveport Symphony Orchestra for their annual Holiday Pops concert which takes place Saturday, December 20 at 7:30 p.m. in Riverview Theater and again at 6 p.m. at the Cypress Baptist Church in Benton.

Innovation Hub: Unwrapping the Future

Airs Sunday, December 21 at 6 p.m.

Forget apps to help you with last-minute shopping. This season, we look at how innovations are reshaping our holidays — altering approaches to travel, family gatherings, food, and more. Guests include: Nancy Koehn, historian at Harvard Business School; John Kasarda, professor at the University of North Carolina and author of "Aerotropolis: The Way We'll Live Next" ; Courtney Reagan, CNBC's retail reporter and Howard Anderson from Harvard Business School.

Innovation Hub: Ringing In The Future

Airs Sunday, January 4 at 6 p.m.

Our resolution: give you a glimpse of what you'll need to know for 2015. At the start of the New Year, Innovation Hub looks at the research, industries, gadgets and more that will change your world.

A Season's Griot 2014

Airs Friday, December 26 at 9 p.m.

A Season's Griot is public radio's only nationally syndicated Kwanzaa program. Hosted for nearly 20 years by acclaimed storyteller Madafo Lloyd Wilson, this annual one-hour special captures the tales and traditions of African American and African peoples. This year's program will celebrate Peace with special guests Pamela Reid, Joyce Grear and the show's poet laureate, Beverly Burnette. We'll also feature music from The Healing Force and Marvin Gaye.

Capitol Steps Politics Takes a Holiday Year End Review
Airs Wednesday, December 31 at 7 p.m.

NPR Issues and Ascertainment Reports
