Changing Class: Are Colleges Helping Americans Move Up?

Friday at 7 pm on WBAA News on 105.9 FM, AM 920 and the WBAA News stream

There's loads of evidence that a college degree will improve your economic prospects, but a new project by economists shows that some colleges are doing a better job than others...

What's New

Were you lucky enough to be in the audience last June at the Delphi Opera House for cellist Elinor Frey? Relive that experience, or hear it for the very first time! We'll hear her artistry that includes a Bach Cello Suite, Dall'Abaco, and Elinor's insights, plus audience questions.

What's New Live next Tuesday night at 8pm eastern.

Inside Jazz with Don Seybold

Sunday evening from 8 to midnight on AM 920 and the WBAA Jazz stream

It's the final holiday weekend of the summer, and we'll celebrate with no labor and lots of suggestions about what to do and what to avoid, conveyed through music filled with humor, hipster slang, drinkers and drinking, and some poetry—some bad news and more good wishes.

Meet WBAA's New Operations Director

Aside from a 4 year stint at Indiana University, (sorry!) Lee Shaw has been a life-long resident of the Greater Lafayette area, working behind the scenes at both WJEF and WLFI before joining the operations team at WBAA. He is excited for the opportunity to work in public radio and is looking forward to many more years as a Boilermaker, much to his family's amusement.

Stan Jastrzebski's Trivia Adventure

WBAA News Director Stan Jastrzebski (along with WBAA member and Purdue chemistry professor Mark Lipton) was part of a team that finished 10th out of nearly 200 teams at last weekend's National Trivia League finals in New Orleans, Louisiana. It's the second consecutive year Jastrzebski and Lipton's team, this year called "Hamsternado," has both placed in the top ten and been the top team from Indiana. The competition draws some of the best pub trivia players from around the country to compete, including several former game show champions.
