Old Idea, New Economy: Rediscovering Apprenticeships

Friday at 7 pm on WBAA News on 105.9 FM, AM 920 and the WBAA News stream

For generations, educators have fought about how kids learn to read and what that means about how they should be taught. Now, there is definitive evidence from neuroscience on how the brain learns to read and it suggests very different approaches to reading instruction than those that are commonly found in schools. This APM Reports documentary explores why the reading science is not making its way into American classrooms – or teacher preparation programs – and what can be done about it.

ARTS SPOTLIGHT

The prominence of numerous artists and musicians in the Greater Lafayette and surrounding communities not only makes our community a wonderful place to live, but a great place to move to and stay. Art is an integral part of our human culture and should be celebrated, which is why in 2014 WBAA launched the a monthly series called the WBAA Arts Spotlight.

WBAA Intern Profile: Betsy Bastnagel

Hello everyone! My name is Betsy Bastnagel and I am a senior at Purdue University majoring in Public Relations at the Brian Lamb School of Communication. As a Social and Digital Marketing Intern at WBAA, I have gained valuable experiences with promotions, video creation, events, writing, and much more. Interning for WBAA has allowed me to engage with listeners and donors while developing the communication skills I will use in my professional career. Last summer, while on summer break, I landed an internship at Victory Sun. The application process was rigorous, but the skills I developed at WBAA was what I needed to get the coveted internship. I will graduate this spring with a Bachelor's in Public Relations & Strategic Communication and am looking forward to strengthening my marketing and media production skills in the meantime. My passion has always been public relations and people – my time at WBAA has reassured me that I've chosen the right career path. I am planning to seek a position in public relations with an agency where I can work with people. Feel free to contact me at ebastnag@purdue.edu.
