From The General Manager

Dear Friends,

Trusted. Reliable. Thought-provoking. Essential. All words used to describe the services of Northern Public Radio over the past year. Our listeners drive the content, mission and future of WNIJ and Classical WNIU.

Throughout the pages of this report you'll see the highlights of what has changed, where we've been, and what we accomplished during 2013. Our WNIJ news team brought you NPR news and information from the national and international stage while busily digging into your neighborhoods for the Community Close-Up project. Meanwhile, the development and communications team brought a long-sought local production of Wait Wait...Don't Tell Me to the area, and launched mobile apps to augment your listening experience.

Along the way we experienced realignment in the daily program schedule on WNIJ. Morning Edition and All Things Considered remain flagship programs, while we said goodbye to longtime public radio show Talk of the Nation. As Neal Conan transitioned into retirement we've added the voices of John Hockenberry with The Takeaway and Marco Werman on The World.

Each new year we have an opportunity to freshly deliver upon our mission to "enrich, inspire and inform." We look to these words as we embark upon 2014. We'll continue our work of offering the highest quality programming available, producing award winning journalism, and engaging our audience in the process.

Our daily activities reflect our ambition to meet your expectations on-air, online, and on the ground. Many thanks for your continued support of the work we do. I invite your comments and feedback anytime and look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Staci Hoste [staci.h@niu.edu]

This year, Northern Public Radio was pleased and honored to receive a "Community Needs Grant" from the DeKalb County Community Foundation. This contribution, presented to Staci Hoste by DCCF board member Larry Bolles (both pictured at right), supports the development of our new Visitors Center to debut in Spring 2014.
The Year in News...

Here’s a sampling of stories you heard in 2013 from NPR News and WNIJ...

January: Congress negotiates “fiscal cliff” ... President Obama proposes tighter gun safety regulations ... NIU Huskies play in the Orange Bowl ... Illinois copes with outbreak of flu cases

February: Massive meteor explodes over Russia... Roman Catholic Pope Benedict XVI resigns ... Rita Crundwell sentenced for embezzling $53 million from Dixon ... statewide school testing undergoes change

March: Supreme Court debates two cases involving same-sex marriage ... Argentine Cardinal elected as Pope Francis the First ... late-winter snow-storm hits northern Illinois ... NIU begins search for a new president

April: Boston Marathon bombings lead to search and seizure of suspect Dzhokhar Tsarnaev ... Massive explosion destroys part of a small Texas town ... collapsed Bangladesh factory claims 1,100 lives ... Federal EPA investigates water quality in LaSalle County ... clear-cutting along DeKalb County walking trail upsets residents

May: Turmoil spreads in Syria ... Mile-wide tornado ravages Oklahoma City area ... heavy flooding affects northern Illinois ... John Peters serves final weeks as NIU President

June: Supreme Court rules to support same-sex marriage and disable the Voting Rights Act ... Leaks surface about the National Security Agency’s surveillance of American citizens ... Illinois lawmakers scramble for solutions to pension reform and a court-ordered deadline for a concealed firearms law

WNIJ Focuses On Communities, Close-Up

WNIJ’s coverage includes a large geographic area of diverse communities presenting a similarly wide range of challenges and opportunities. A new series of occasional "Community Close-Ups" aims to inform the WNIJ audience of noteworthy socio-economic developments within some of these individual communities. Accompanying each radio feature is a WNIJ web story enhanced with photos and links to additional information about these communities.

Throughout the year, the WNIJ News team took closer looks at efforts to revitalize downtown Belvidere... the Sesquicentennial scene in Earlville... big-time arts in the small town of Princeton... merging fire departments in Sterling and Rock Falls... LaSalle-Peru’s River Rescue Squad... an Opera House in Sandwich... and seniors having a ball in Polo. Other Close-Ups described the "Personalized Mastery" educational program taking shape in Freeport... how Mendota’s workforce copes with closing plants... a murder-free year in Aurora... and what Hope Haven means to DeKalb's homeless population. WNIJ listeners also took a virtual bike ride down our local stretch of historic "Lincoln Highway," mile-marking its 100th year.

"I love WNIJ, I listen to it all the time. Going to school, I always hear Morning Edition and I really like Freakonomics and RadioLab."

Informing The Print-Impaired

Northern Illinois Radio Information Service [NIRIS] introduced a new logo this summer, but our commitment to serving the print-impaired citizens of our area remains unchanged. NIRIS programming is transmitted within a 60-mile radius of Lindenwood, Illinois, heard through special receivers loaned through our offices as supply allows.

Any person who is unable to read, hold a book, or turn a page because of a visual, physical, or learning disability may request a receiver. NIRIS listeners keep up to date with readings of more than 25 newspapers, local food and shopping ads, books, popular magazines, and special interest programs.

The success of NIRIS depends largely on public support, both financially and through volunteerism. An estimated 38,000 persons in our listening area may qualify for this service. You can help us reach them by sharing this information, volunteering your time, or making a contribution. Contact us at 801 N. First Street, DeKalb, IL 60115 or call 815-753-9000. Find more information online at northernpublicradio.org/niris.
The Score on Classical Music
WNIU 90.5 brings you commercial-free classical music programming “24/7” along with:

Rockford Symphony Orchestra Concerts
WNIU broadcasts six RSO “Classics” concerts each season, typically on the Monday evening before the next live concert. Recorded at Rockford’s Coronado Theater, the 2012-2013 season included guest appearances by pianist Charlie Albright and violinist Gernot Winischhofer.

Metropolitan Opera Broadcasts
The December-May Met Opera season is simulcast on Saturday afternoons; weekly productions and start-times vary. Check the schedule at wniu.org.

The Writer’s Almanac
Garrison Keillor recounts the historical highlights of each day -- along with a poem or two -- in this five-minute digest, daily at 11am.

Holiday Specials
Count on traditional favorites celebrating Hanukkah, Advent, and Christmas. And each new year begins with our annual presentation of New Year’s Day from Vienna on January 1st.

Programs At Your Fingertips
We recently unveiled new apps for mobile devices and an improved audio stream at our website. Thanks to these additional platforms, you’ll rarely have to be without your favorite WNJI or WNIU programming when you are on-the-go, out of town, or experiencing any difficulties with the broadcast signal.

To listen through your computer or other wi-fi connection...
Click the "Listen Live" button at the top of wnij.org or wniu.org to begin streaming whatever’s on the air right now... backtrack if you missed a spot... bookmark a story to revisit later... and even sample what's playing on our sister station. [“Listen Live” functions shown above.]

To install the WNJI or WNIU app on your Apple or Android device...
Visit the app store for your device (Windows not compatible at this time) or link to the downloads at northernpublicradio.org/mobile. Features include listening live, pause and rewind, audio on-demand, “sleep” and “alarm clock” settings and more.

"I love the new “Listen Live” that makes it so incredibly easy to not only listen to what’s on now, but get to all my other favorite shows that I missed."
- Linda Nortier, University of WI at Whitewater -
Nice To Meet You!

Station events are an extension of our mission to connect people to information and entertainment as well as other people in the community. In April, WNIJ listeners packed the Coronado Performing Arts Center in Rockford for a live production of NPR’s popular radio show, Wait Wait... Don’t Tell Me. In May, WNIJ-WNIU underwriters enjoyed a performance by the Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center, hosted by the Rockford Coronado Concert Association. Northern Public Radio opened its doors to new members during Open House events in August. Each spring and fall, we meet students at the NIU Internship Fair. And in September, the WNIJ News team welcomed journalists from around the state attending the Illinois News Broadcasters Association convention in DeKalb.

Connecting With The Community

Combined, WNIJ and WNIU devote thousands of airtime minutes each year to promoting the efforts of other community non-profits. Our 2013 partnerships included Beloit College, Crossroads Blues Society, Crusader Community Health, Downtown Beloit Association, Elgin Community College, Festival 56/Princeton Theater Group, Gurler Heritage Association, Illinois Renewable Energy Association, JR Sullivan’s Hometown Holiday, Kishwaukee Symphony Orchestra, Mendelssohn PAC, Midway Village Museum, Midwest Museum of Natural History, Money Smart Week - Illinois, Music Academy in Rockford, Rockford Coronado Concert Association, and Woodstock Mozart Fest. Your non-profit organization is invited to take advantage of these opportunities:

PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENTS

Submissions for “PSA” consideration can be mailed to 801 N. First Street, DeKalb, IL 60115, faxed to 815-753-9938 or emailed to gstephens@niu.edu.

“SUBMIT EVENT” ONLINE

Share your event details through our website: northernpublicradio.org under the Events tab, sidebar. A "Guidelines" link provides instruction.

STATION SPONSORSHIPS

Sponsorships represent a true collaboration between the station and partnering organization. If your non-profit endeavor has public radio audience appeal and/or serves a significant community need, e-mail npr@niu.edu for sponsorship request information, well in advance of the proposed event.

Above: Rich and Rosann Para of Sycamore and Sybil and Fred Ege from Elgin network with other WNIJ-WNIU business supporters in May... Left: WNIJ’s Dan Klefstad welcomes the crowd before “Wait Wait” host Peter Sagal, panelists Peter Grosz, Roxanne Roberts, Brian Babylon and special guest Rick Nielsen of Cheap Trick take the stage... Far left: Carl Kasell delights a fan attending the live recording of the NPR news quiz show in Rockford.

"It helps our vibrant art, culture, and music scene to have a radio station like WNIU and WNIJ; it's a great source of publicity for us to know the wonderful things that are going on in the community."

- Camille Piazza, DeKalb -
Support That Works For You
Listener-members make your favorite public radio programs possible! Simply decide on a gift amount that suits the WNIJ-WNIU listening you do then choose a convenient way to give:

Basic Membership
It’s easy to give a single gift that can be renewed annually. Call our office at 815-753-9000, mail your gift to 801 N. First Street, DeKalb, IL 60115, or give securely online at northernpublicradio.org, under "Support This Station."

Sustaining Membership
This group provides an increasingly important source of continued funding. Read more highlighted below.

Producers Club
Our esteemed Producers Club members generously support the station with annual gifts of $1,000+, indispensable in planning for larger projects.

Sound Future Campaign
Recognizing Northern Public Radio in your estate planning is a simple way to ensure that future generations have access to the public radio service you value. Estate gifts range from bequests and life insurance to IRAs and trusts.

Matching Gifts
Contact your human resources department or the station to see if your place of business matches their employees’ charitable contributions. Some companies match gifts made by retirees and/or spouses, as well.

Vehicle Donation Program
Your old set of wheels could benefit Northern Public Radio! Call 815-753-9000 for information or read more on the "Support" page of our website.

Volunteer Time, Services, Goods
In-kind food and supply donations from local businesses greatly enhance station activities and volunteer visits -- a unique way to get your company's name in front of our active, engaged audience. Link to more information at our website.

Spread The Word
Put your passion for public radio on record and we just might “quote” you in station communications! We also encourage your leads and referrals regarding favorite shops, restaurants, arts organizations, service agencies and other local businesses. Click the Contact Us link at our website.

Sustainers Growing In Numbers
Enjoy uninterrupted membership status without having to renew each year. A Sustaining Membership is not only convenient for you, it also reduces the impact on the environment (i.e., we're mailing out less paper!) and lowers administrative expenses. More of your gift goes directly into the quality programming you depend upon. Simply decide how much you want to contribute each month from a debit/credit card ($10-per-month minimum) or as an EFT draft from a checking account ($5-per-month minimum). Click the "Support This Station" button at our website.

"(As) sustaining contributors... we don’t have to worry about remembering to do it every year. It’s just done automatically, painlessly."
- Al Davidson, Princeton -

"We do the automatic debit from our bank account. We know – every time we hear the pledge drive! -- that we are supporting the programming that we’ve really come to depend on."
- Liz Denius, Sycamore -
Neighborhoods Helping Neighbors
Businesses invest in their communities through their support of Northern Public Radio. They also happen to reach an above-average audience of active, educated, affluent listeners. Our Corporate Supporters range from major financial, health, and law institutions...to innovative technology-driven companies...to traditional and specialty retailers...to arts and educational groups.
