1.2 Major Programming Decision Makers

Jump to question:

Please report by gender and ethnic or racial group the headcount of full-time employees having responsibility for making major programming decisions. Include the station general manager if appropriate. Major programming decisions include decisions about program acquisition and production, program development, on-air program scheduling, etc. This item should result in a double-counting of some full-time employees; employees having the responsibility for making major programming decisions should be included in the counts for this item and again, by job category above, in the full-time employee Question 1.1.

Of the full-time employees reported in Question 1.1, how many, including the station general manager, have responsibility for making major programming decisions?

Jump to question: 1.6

Enter the total number of full-time and part-time openings that occurred during the fiscal year. Include both vacancies in previously filled positions and newly created positions. Include all positions that became available during the fiscal year, regardless of whether they were filled during the year. If a job opening was filled during the year, include it regardless of whether it was filled by an internal or an external candidate. Do not include as job openings any positions created through the promotion of an employee who stays in essentially the same job but has a different title (i.e. where there was no vacancy or newly created position to be filled). If no full-time or part-time job openings occurred, please enter zero.

6.1 Telling Public Radio's Story

Jump to question: ▼

The purpose of this section is to give you an opportunity to tell us and your community about the activities you have engaged in to address community needs by outlining key services provided, and the local value and impact of those services. Please report on activities that occurred in Fiscal Year 2013. Responses may be shared with Congress or the public. Grantees are required to post a copy of this report (Section 6 only) to their website no later than ten (10) days after the submission of the report to CPB. CPB recommends placing the report in an "About" or similar section on your website. This section had previously been optional. Response to this section of the SAS is now mandatory.

Joint licensee Grantees that have filed a 2013 Local Content and Services Report as part of meeting the requirement for TV CSG funding may state they have done so in the corresponding questions below, so long as all of the questions below were addressed as they relate to radio operations in such report. You must include the date the report was submitted to CPB along with the TV Grantee ID under which it was submitted.

1. Describe your overall goals and approach to address identified community issues, needs, and interests through your station's vital local services, such as multiplatform long and short-form content, digital and in-person engagement, education services, community information, partnership support, and other activities, and audiences you reached or new audiences you engaged.

WUIS cultivates a curious, civically-engaged audience and enriches the community through independent journalism, programming and outreach. This includes the continued production of Illinois Edition as a show case for the various journalism produced by WUIS. Key journalism coverage areas include government by the WUIS Statehouse Bureau, food by the WUIS Harvest Desk, WUIS Health Desk reports, and general assignment reporting with particular emphasis in the arts and education along with coverage of central Illinois news. This reporting is also featured during drive times through newscasts and feature stories in Morning Edition and All Things Considered. Attention to breaking local news takes over as it happens when weather or other news demands. All of this content is also posted to WUIS.org and pushed out through social media for sharing by the community. WUIS.org features the WUIS Community Calendar which is drawn from on-air announcements of community activities. Commenting has been added to WUIS.org to allow community discussion of any story posted.

2. Describe key initiatives and the variety of partners with whom you collaborated, including other public media outlets, community nonprofits, government agencies, educational institutions, the business community, teachers and parents, etc. This will illustrate the many ways you're connected across the community and engaged with other important organizations in the area.

WUIS had a couple major collaborations this past year. The WUIS Harvest Desk is a partnership with Harvest Public Media which includes other public media KCUR in Kansas City, Iowa Public Radio, NET in Nebraska, KUNC in Colorado, and KBIA in Columbia, Missouri. WUIS funds a full time food reporter as its contribution to this project. The coverage from seed to plate includes food, fuel, and field. Agriculture is a key Illinois industry and food is an important urban topic from organics, restaurants and farmer's markets. WUIS continues to partner with the Rotary Club of Springfield Sunrise to run an essay program for high school seniors. This I Believe is based off the national program. All seniors in the WUIS/WIPA broadcast area are eligible to submit essays for consideration. Ten are selected by a panel of community judges and are awarded a scholarship. Each author also records their essay for air and reads it to a Rotary meeting. The essays are also published in the local newspaper, the State Journal-Register, a partner in the project. The national curriculum is made available for classroom use and several teachers use it.

3. What impact did your key initiatives and partnerships have in your community? Describe any known measurable impact, such as increased awareness, learning or understanding about particular issues. Describe indicators of success, such as connecting people to needed resources or strengthening conversational ties across diverse neighborhoods. Did a partner see an increase in requests for related resources? Please include direct feedback from a partner(s) or from a person(s) served.

Several Harvest stories were carried nationally by NPR programs such as Here & Now, Morning Edition, and All Things Considered. This I Believe saw nearly 100 essays submitted from students throughout central Illinois. The essays were one of the top ten visited sections on WUIS.org.

4. Please describe any efforts (e.g. programming, production, engagement activities) you have made to investigate and/or meet the needs of minority and other diverse audiences (including, but not limited to, new immigrants, people for whom English is a second language and illiterate adults) during Fiscal Year 2013, and any plans you have made to meet the needs of these audiences during Fiscal Year 2014. If you regularly broadcast in a language other than English, please note the language broadcast.

WUIS runs a radio information service (RIS) on its subsignal for the reading and visually impaired. Volunteers read local papers and magazines which are listened to through special radios or a webstream. WUIS covered marriage equality heavily as it developed in 2013 and continues that coverage as the law is implemented in 2014. WUIS covered hearings at the state capitol as minority rights advocates expressed their displeasure with the proposed legislative map Democrats proposed and the possibility of a court challenge including the U.S. Supreme Court's refusal to hear a challenge on new legislative boundaries. WUIS covered Illinois being the fourth state to allow undocumented immigrants to obtain a driver's license with a new law signed by Gov. Pat Quinn. WUIS also covered President Barack Obama's order that stopped the deportation of immigrants who moved to the U.S. when they were young. The move drew praise and criticism in Illinois. Coverage included foreign exchange students wrapping-up the school year in central Illinois. Exchange students who spent this past school year in central Illinois with their host families attended a dinner where students from countries like Spain, Thailand, and Germany shared meals from and discussed progress on ESL.

5. Please assess the impact that your CPB funding had on your ability to serve your community. What were you able to do with your grant that you wouldn't be able to do if you didn't receive it?

CPB funding allows WUIS to afford quality national programming that attracts an audience. In turn, that audience financially supports WUIS and creates the margin needed to expand local programming. When CPB funding is reduced, personnel have to be reduced. This impairs our capacity to cover the local community in an environment of decreasing accountability and context based journalism. WUIS' addition of a daily one-hour local news magazine, Illinois Edition, has benefitted from this funding. In 2014, the program is being slotted for a second daily airing due to community response. CPB seed funding of the Harvest local journalism center allowed WUIS to increase its reporting capacity by one FTE improving coverage of food issues in central Illinois. Sustaining this reporter without CPB support will be a challenge for 2014.

7.1 Journalists

Jump to question:

This section builds on the Census of Journalists conducted by CPB in the summer of 2010. These positions are the primary professional full-time, part-time or contract contributors to local journalism at your organization. The individuals in these positions will have had training in the standards and practices of fact-based news origination, verification, production and presentation. These are generally accepted titles for these positions but may not match position descriptions at your organization exactly. Please do your best to account for each professional journalist in your organization. Please do not count student or volunteer journalists.
