Ben, Tim and Mark had been searching for JR for hours. They find JR in a cave unconscious and very sick. Next to him is his journal. The journal explained what happened to JR, the only cure was to find the three life stones.

Ben, Mark and Tim had always thought the stones were just a myth.
They left JR in the hospital and boarded a plane to Tanzania. They had read in the journal that a stone was in a secret cave in Mt. Kilimanjaro. After days of hiking and nearly getting trampled by elephants they found the cave.
The lion spirit guarding the stone said, “give me what I desire most and you will get what you desire, solve this riddle and you shall know; A fluff of my fur, a trim of my claw, the place I desire most is the?” “SPA!” the boys yelled together. After giving the spirit a spa day the spirit told them to use his claw clipping to open the secret box and get the stone.
In the journal, JR believed the second stone was in the Great Barrier Reef, guarded by eels. Ben, Mark and Tim go to Australia. They rent a boat and scuba gear and set off to the Great Barrier Reef. They see bunches of eels guarding something and tell the boat driver to stop. Ben and Mark dive in. Tim throws mollusks into the water to lure the eels away. Mark sends his underwater drone to get the glowing stone.
With two stones in grasp, Ben, Mark and Tim follow the journal to the Bahamas. A hurricane is coming. The journal reveals in glowing ink “this hurricane holds the last stone, look it in the eye and you will find the stone!” When the winds got calm, in the eye, Ben ran out and the stone floated down into his hand.
With all three stones Ben, Mark and Tim rush to the hospital.
They unite the stones, and a powerful glowing ring comes from the stones. JR wakes up and says, “You figured it out.”
